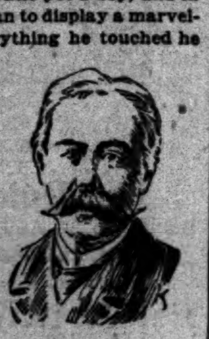
[SPECIAL CABLE BY JULIAN RALPH.]

London, April 21.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the New York Journal.]—Maurice Baron de Hirsch, universally known as the "Millionaire Moses," died of apoplexy in Austria today.

He was 63 years of age, having been born in Munich in 1833, the inheritor of a fortune. He went to Brussels while yet a boy, and in his early manhood began to display a marvelous shrewdness. Everything he touched he turned to gold. His first grand chance came after the failure of Dumonceau, the Belgian banker. Hirsch bought up the bank, with all its depreciated assets, including a Turkish railway, and at once became one of the first financiers of Europe.



Baron Hirsch.

His wealth, which is estimated at more than 250,000,000 francs [$50,000,000], came to him mostly from Oriental railways. At first from the line from Constantinople to Adrianople and the branch to Dedagatch and afterward from the extension toward Bulgaria.

Cool judgment, mastery in details, and a strict attention to economy were the ruling traits of Baron de Hirsch from the outset of his career.

He married a wealthy Miss Bischoffsheim, the daughter of a Belgian merchant Senator, who brought a great fortune with her. She presented Hirsch with two children—a daughter, who died very young of consumption, and Lucien, in whom Hirsch centered most of his hope and pride.

Lucien developed extraordinary talents. He showed great interest in science and art and also in the fate of his co-religionists.

Son's Fortune $20,000,000.

Baron Maurice began to put by money for his son. From the moment of his birth he paid over to the boy's account a great part of his profits in speculations and industrial undertakings, and when the young Baron died in 1888, at the age of 20, he had in his father's books a fortune exceeding $20,000,000.

This sum the bereaved Baron resolved to devote to charities in the name of his dead son. On the adivce of prominent Jews of all countries the amount was ultimately divided into four portions. Five million dollars being given to the Jews of Hungary, Russia, Galicia, and Roumania, the countries in which the "chosen people" are most backward.

It was thought that by educating the Jews to be artists, agriculturists, and so on, the social status could be raised and prejudice against them combated.

In Hungary and Galicia the experiment proved a success, but in the other countries it proved impracticable. Yet so faithfully did Hirsch consider himself a mere executor of his son's supposed will that the accruing interest of the unemployed capital is regularly distributed for charitable purposes by committees, which to this day receive in Vienna and at Buda Pesth 1,000 florins monthly, at Cracow 5,000 florins, at Lemberg 7,000, and so on.

Are Used for Charity.

These sums are devoted to the relief of the needy, but principally to start industrious Jews in business, or to prevent ruin, if undeservedly brought about. This charity has been carried on simultaneously with the distribution of large sums in cases of sudden distaster. For instance, 40,000 florins were contributed by it for distribution in Tokay. The schools of Hungary and Galicia were established, and negotiations were made with Russia and Roumania, where similar foundations were in progress, when the cruel Russian decrees for the expulsion of Jews, and the heartless manner in which it was carried out, so impressed Baron de Hirsch that he conceived the plan of expatriating the victims.

From that time it was no longer a question of Lucieu's original 50,000,000. The whole fortune of the banker was devoted to a colossal plan.

The Baron made the deliverance from serfdom the object of his life, and though mistakes were made in the outset of his scheme it promised success.

The Russian Government in 1892 agreed to the scheme of emigration of the Jews to the Argentine and Canada and other countries, the Baron guaranteeing to expend $10,000,000 on the work. The colonies established in the Argentine were recently reported to be in a flourishing condition.

Enormous Sums for Poor.

Baron de Hirsch spent in charity more than the income of some of the smaller countries of Europe.

In 1891 alone he gave away $15,000,000. He gave the London hospitals all the profits he had made on the turf. He was ardently devoted to sport, and at one time kept up a large racing stud in England. The best horse he owned was La Fleche, by St. Simon, out of Quiver, which he bought at Hampton Court at her Majesty's yearling sale of 1892. La Fleche won the One Thousand Guineas, the Oaks, and the St. Leger, and finished second to Sir Hugo in the Derby. It also won the Ascot gold cup of 1894.

Baron de Hirsch had several horses training this season, but none of any great promise. His winnings on the turf in 1892 were princely. In 1893 he won $210,000, out of which the London hospitals received $75,000.

Gambled Because Lucien Did.

Baron de Hirsch went into the racing because Lucien had done so.

Besides La Fleche, for which he paid $30,-

MAYOR PROVES PURGING OF PAY-ROLLS.

Shows an Expert Report from the Public Works Department Exhibiting a Saving of $678,379.

Both as regards stuffed pay-rolls and an economical administration of municipal affairs generally, Mayor Swift says he will show he has kept every pledge made by him to the public. One of his promises was he would purge the pay-rolls. This he is ready, with facts and figures, to prove has been done.

A statement prepared by Alexander Harper, expert accountant, and L. E. Gosselin, chief bookkeeper in the Department of Public Works, was submitted to his Honor yesterday, and it shows that during the first year of his term there was a decrease in the amount paid out in salaries over the year previous of $678,379 in that department alone. Similar reports for other branches of the government are in course of preparation and Chief of Police Badenoch said last evening their had been a saving of nearly $300,000 in his department.

Mr. Gosselin, as a Democrat, held the position he now fills under the previous administration and Mr. Harper is also a hold-over; therefore they are well acquainted with the lavish manner in which money was expended formerly.

With reference to the publishing of the pay-rolls Mayor Swift had this to say:

"We printed them twice last summer as a supplement to the Council proceedings. Aside from the sixty-eight Aldermen and a few persons to whom copies were sent nobody ever saw them. I thought this a wicked waste of the people's money, therefore stopped it. Furthermore the Council made no appropriation for that purpose and we had no funds to continue printing the rolls. If the Council will make an appropriation to pay for publishing the lists in some reputable newspaper, I will have the rolls published.

"I want to say also that out of more than 6,000 employés, the Civic Federation found only eight men against whom charges are brought that they draw pay from the city for loafing. It would be something remarkable if among so many employés there were not more than eight trying to shirk their work."

The statement from the Public Works Department follows:

"W. D. Kent, Commissioner of Public Works: The following is a comparative statement by months of the pay-rolls of the Department of Public Works from April 1, 1895, to April 1, 1896, with the previous year, April 1, 1894, to April 1, 1895:

Investigated	....	45,454
May	224,227	158,221
June	251,692	189,158
July	215,679	246,340
August	222,759	233,605
September	248,214	268,485
October	358,669	271,756
November	240,146	204,005
December	232,018	193,074
	1895.	1896.
January	237,707	153,503
February	268,446	188,132
March	474,459	158,937
Total for 12 months	$3,178,436	$2,500,057
Decrease		$ 678,379

"Of this amount $18,486 is under investigation. Of the above pay-rolls for 1894 $51,000 is for contract work. The same work in 1895 was done by the Department of Public Works and carried on the pay-rolls. Respectfully,

"L. E. GOSSELIN, Bkpr. D. P. Wks.

"ALEX. HARPER, Expert Acct."

"It is the Council's business, of course," said W. T. Baker, President of the Civic Federation, "whether it investigates the charges of frauds in the pay-rolls or not. It seems to me, though, now that the matter has been made public, that is the proper course to pursue. There is certainly no foundation for Mayor Swift's idea that the Civic Federation is trying to run the city. We have simply pointed out abuses."

"Will the Civic Federation offer any assistance to the Council Committee of Police in the investigation of gambling?"

"That is likely to be a vigorous investigation," said Mr. Baker, with a smile. "We will wait and see whether the committee wants any information before volunteering any."

Sidney C. Eastman said of the action of the Council and the speech of the Mayor: "That was an unfortunate speech, it seems to me. The Civic Federation has never tried to run the city, but has done a great deal of good work in pointing out to those intrusted with the running of the city mistakes and abuses which ought to be corrected."

"I should be glad to believe with Mayor Swift that the charges of pay-roll stuffing referred to him by the federation were not true," said M. J. Carroll, "but I am of the opinion that there is a good deal of truth in them."

Commissioner Kent had this to say regarding the investigation he is making:

"I am still calling men in who are expected to know something of the charges if they are true. I had a number of men in yesterday, and do not find that the charges made will hold."

CHAOS REIGNS IN BANKRUPT BELGRADE

Cabinet Awaits Opportune Moment for Resigning—Alexander's Honeymoon to Be During His Exile.

[SPECIAL CABLE BY HENRY W. FISCHER.]

Berlin, April 21.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the New York Journal.]—Dispatches from Belgrade pronounce the situation there chaotic.

The Cabinet is on the point of resigning.

Nobody has a cent.

The Radical papers suggest that King Alexander may be forced to spend the honeymoon with his American bride in exile.

Advices from Vienna indicate that the renewal of amicable intercourse with Belgrade is imminent, King Alexander having recalled his promise to attend the millennium exhibition and forbidden his Ministers to visit the Budapest festivities.

The reason he has given is the Empress Elizabeth's refusal to receive him at Corfu.

The trouble between the Berlin piano manufacturers and their workmen has reached an acute stage.

The main demand of the men, who have hitherto had to work eleven hours a day, was for an eight-hour day.

The manufacturers, determined not to yield, have locked out their men until they agree to cease the eight-hour agitation.

Count Schoenborn, Chancellor von Hohenlohe's Adjutant, received me tonight and said the Chancellor is much better. The distinguished invalid is said to be no longer in danger.

Prof. Fankel, the celebrated laryngologist who has been attending the Princess, arrived today.

POLICE ARREST FIVE "SCORCHERS."

Crusade Against Fast Bicycle Riding on the South Side.

South Park policemen began a crusade yesterday against fast bicycle riding on the boulevards. Five "scorchers" were arrested at evening and locked up at the Stanton Avenue Police Station in default of bail. They were Hugh W. Buckett, No. 3553 Indiana avenue; B. A. Stoffer, No. 3520 Rhodes avenue; T. F. Elliott, No. 3767 Ellis avenue; George Recker, No. 5127 Halsted street; and George A. Quick, Twenty-fourth street and Michigan avenue.

PADEREWSKI GIVES AMERICAN COMPOSERS $10,000 IN PRIZES.

Before Sailing for Europe He Sends This Amount to William Steinway as Trustee of the Fund, Accompanied by a Letter in Which He Acknowledges the Generous Support Given Him in This Country—Other News from the Atlantic Metropolis.

New York, April 21.—[Special.]—Jean Ignace Paderewski, the famous pianist, sails for Europe on the Teutonic tomorrow, having completed his engagement in this country. His friends have long known that he has had a great fondness for America, but the real depth of that feeling was never made known until this evening, when William Steinway received this letter:

"My Dear Mr. Steinway: The generous support I found in this country enables me to accomplish one of my most ardent wishes.

"I do not intend to thank the American people for all they have done for me because my gratitude to your noble Nation is and will be beyond expression. But I desire to extend a friendly hand towards my American brother-musicians; towards those who, less fortunate than myself, are struggling for recognition or encouragement.

Custodians of the Fund.

"To this purpose I send you herewith $10,000, asking you to accept, together with Col. H. L. Higginson of Boston and Dr. William Mason of New York, the trusteeship of this sum.

"Knowing the interest you take in public affairs, and your readiness to do good wherever you find an opportunity, I hope you will not refuse me this great favor, and will, after deliberation with the above-named gentlemen, invest this money, in order to establish the following triennial prizes for the composers of American birth, without any distinction as to age or religion:

"1. Five hundred dollars for the best orchestral work in symphonic form.

"2. Three hundred dollars for the best composition for solo instrument with orchestra.

"3. Two hundred dollars for the best chamber-music work.

"The balance to be used for the expenses connected with the competition for these prizes.

"Further details, as well as the list of the judges, among whom I should like to see your acknowledged musical authorities, I hope to send you at a near date.

"I take no pride in making this endowment. The amount is a modest one and my personality, in spite of all the success, is of little importance.

"I only hope that it will prove to be useful and that your younger composers will not consider it as a gift, but as a debt and little encouragement coming from one who found in their land all the happiness to which an artist can aspire.

"Thanking you and your co-trustees in advance for your kindness, I beg you to believe me, your sincerely devoted.

"I. J. PADEREWSKI.

"New York, April 21, 1896."

This letter was handed to Mr. Steinway at 7 p. m., too late for him to make any direct acknowledgment to the pianist. The letter was written wholly in English and in Paderewski's handwriting.

ORGANIZED THIEVERY AT VASSAR.

Excitement Among Students Caused by Constant Losses.

New York, April 21.—It has just come out that the authorities of Vassar College at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., have for a long time past been keeping from the public the fact that there has been a system of organized thievery in the institution. One student would lose a garment and another a piece of jewelry, but strenuous efforts prevented any notice of the facts from reaching the public attention.

The utmost care has been taken to detect the thieves, but in vain. At first suspicion was directed to the servants and chambermaids. One after another they were put under surveillance, but still the thefts continued, and the perpetrators escaped detection.

The very nature of the robberies made it apparent that they must have been committed by some one inside the institution familiar with the ways of the students. There having been a failure to catch the thief among the servants, it has come to be suspected that the guilty ones are among the students themselves.

This suspicion, in fact, has taken such public form that it has served to increase the prevailing excitement among the young women who are attending the college.

Mrs. J.P. Kendrick, principal of the college, in an interview today frankly admitted that robberies had been committed very recently under the roof of Vassar.

"At first thought," she said, "I believe this is the work of a kleptomaniac. Many of the articles stolen are so marked that it would be impossible for them to be used about the college without detection."

Then she made the remarkable statement that although she did not suspect the servants or maids she did not for an instant think any of the students were connected with the affair. She expressed great sorrow that any suspicion of the latter should have gone abroad.

PARTING WORDS OF MISS WILLARD.

Before Sailing for Europe She Makes an Appeal for Armenia.

New York, April 21. — [Special.]—Miss Frances E. Willard's last act before sailing for Europe on the Paris today was to issue "an appeal to my countrywomen."

In this appeal Miss Willard again draws attention to the Armenian horrors and urges renewed activity in the collection of funds to support Miss Clara Barton's work of relief.

"Of the $500,000 needed," says Miss Willard, "only one-fifth has yet been given."

POOR PUSSY NOT IN QUEST OF MILK.

Burglary of a Wabash Avenue Store Nipped in the Bud by the Elevator Boy's Discovery.

"O! What is that?"

"It is the cat!" sang the elevator boy in the basement of Roper & Baxter's store in Wabash avenue yesterday, as he picked up a stick and threw it at a pair of eyes gleaming in the darkness.

"Kitty! Kitty!"

"Meow! meow!" said the cat, as it spit spitefully at the boy.

"Kitty," said the boy, "come here kitty."

But kitty wouldn't come and indulged in some feline yowls that scared the boy until he almost forgot how to run the elevator.

He called for the foreman, Mike Milott, and pointed out the cat, which he was positive was as big as a Jersey calf, and had eyes like the headlight on a locomotive.

"It wants some milk," said the elevator boy.

"All right," said the foreman, "I'll get it some milk," and he picked up a large oak club, with a spike driven in the end, and said softly:

"Kitty, kitty, come and get your milk."

"I don't want no milk," said the cat.

"Now, do you know that's just what I thought," murmured the foreman. "Come out here, kitty, where I can look at you."

"I Ain't Twenty."

The cat came out and stood by the elevator.

"How old are you, pussy?" asked the foreman.

"I ain't 20," growled the cat.

"Well now, pussy, what's your name?"

"Jimmie Goodrich."

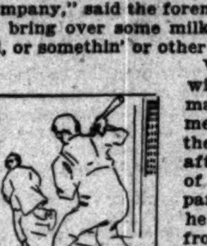
"Jimmie Goodrich," said the foreman. "What a nice name for a cat."

"I hain't no cat," said Jimmie, "I'm a man."

"Good gracious!" responded the foreman. "Who would have thought it!"

"I'm a helevator hinspector for the 'Owe company," growled the supposed cat or alleged man.

"Then we'll send right over to the Howe company," said the foreman, "and tell them to bring over some milk, or some machine oil, or somethin' or other of that kind."



Feeding the Kitty.

While the foreman with his club remained in the basement with Jimmy, the elevator boy went after a representative of the Howe company, who declared he didn't know Jimmy from the wildcat up in Lincoln Park.

About this time a workman up on the top floor discovered the place had been ransacked during the night and everybody went up to investigate, leaving the foreman and his prisoner alone in the basement.

Then Jimmy produced a revolver and pointed it at the foreman.

"Scat, you brute," howled the foreman, and he gave Jimmy a rap across the knuckles and made him drop the revolver. At the same time he tucked Jimmie's head under his arm and again applied the club.

Three policemen were called in and led Jimmie down to the Armory Station, where he was locked up.

The police believe that the prisoner did the ransacking the night before and intended to hide in the building all day and last night to admit others and burglarize the store. Some goods were taken, but their value is small.

Jimmie says he is a cousin of Bath-House John Coughlin.

WATERLOO OF NEW ORLEANS BOODLERS

Great Victory for the Citizens' Ticket Over the Candidates of the Ring.

New Orleans, La., April 21.—New Orleans has wiped the boodlers off the face of the earth, and despite one of the strongest ring organizations in the country the Citizens' League has won the fight by a majority of from 10,000 to 15,000. The ring is delaying the count, but the league has armed volunteers guarding the polls and boxes and no tricks will avail.

There never was such excitement in the city on election day and thousands are on the streets tonight ready to answer any call. The remarkable part of today's election was the loyalty of the negro to the cause of reform, despite the efforts of old-time Republican leaders to throw the vote to the ring. The negroes were proof against bribery and threats and gave the league a heavy vote.

Gov. Foster's failure to interfere for an honest election in the city until the last moment hurt his vote in the city and the majorities in the country have been reduced, but Foster probably will carry the State by 10,000 to 15,000.

The Governor's home parish gave Pharr, the combine candidate, 2,500 majority, owing to the sugar planters, who have joined the Republican ranks.

Tangipahoa, La., April 21.—A. P. Goss, the Populist-Republican candidate for Coroner of this parish, was shot and instantly killed, and S. C. Hyde, a Democrat, was mortally wounded. The trouble between the men grew out of politics.

CLINGS TO CICERO FUNDS.

COLLECTOR FRANKLAND HAS $40,000 AND A DISPUTED CLAIM.

Town Finance Committee Wrestles So Far Vainly with the Problem of a Satisfactory Settlement—Contention Arises Over $3,900 for Alleged Excessive Services—President Peirce Against the Allowance—Possible Deficiency to Be Made Up.

The Town of Cicero is having all kinds of trouble with its Collector, George R. Frankland, with whom it is unable to effect a settlement. A matter of nearly $4,000 is in dispute, and until a claim covering almost this amount is satisfactorily passed upon by the Town Board and allowed Collector Frankland retains $40,000 of town funds, which, according to law, it is said, he should have turned into the town treasury on March 10.

For over three hours on Monday evening the Cicero Finance committee wrestled with this question of the Frankland claim and the condition of the town funds, but was unable to reach any satisfactory solution of the problem. The meeting was strictly secret. It was held in an upper room of the Town Hall, and at its conclusion the members of the committee quietly left the building and faded into the surrounding night.

The meeting was attended by H. D. Peirce, President of the Town of Cicero and ex-officio member of the Finance committee, and by Maj. A. J. Cheney, William P. Gunthorp, and S. D. Atridge. C. E. Piper, who with Melville E. Stone and Victor F. Lawson is on Mr. Frankland's bond to the extent of $50,000, was also present, jointly in the interest of the three sureties and the Collector.

Claim Is for $3,900.

The exact sum for which a heroic effort is being made to "hold up" the Town of Cicero is $3,900. Mr. Frankland claims this money, in excess of the 2 per cent allowed by law on collections, as compensation for his services in preparing the annual list of delinquent taxpayers, a service for which his predecessor, Mr. Walker, was glad to accept $1,800.

It is said Mr. Frankland has the $40,000, which should have been turned over to Treasurer Swincoe, ready to turn over when his claim is allowed.

During the committee meeting Mr. Peirce and Mr. Piper did a good deal of the talking. Mr. Piper held out strongly for the payment of the claim of $3,900, assuring the committee the deferred payment of $40,000 to the Town Treasurer, less the bill, would immediately follow. Mr. Frankland, it was explained, was out of the city, but immediately preceding his departure for the Wisconsin duck marshes had requested Mr. Piper to represent him.

From the position taken by Mr. Piper, rather than from any direct admissions made, the members of the committee drew the inference that Mr. Frankland had already anticipated the payment of this bill.

Plea and Rejoinder.

Mr. Piper dwelt at some length on the fact Mr. Frankland had divided his commission with some of the heaviest taxpayers of the district as an inducement for them to pay the money into his (Frankland's) hands instead of to the County Treasurer, and had thus reduced the revenues of his office to a point where he was entitled to special consideration.

But President Peirce did not see it in this light, and vigorously controverted the assumption any voluntary act on the part of the Collector should revert to the financial detriment of the town. As a citizen he might be disposed to put his hand in his pocket and help Mr. Frankland out of the difficulty in which he found himself, but as President of the Town of Cicero he would certainly protect the interests of the taxpayer. The fact Mr. Frankland had voluntarily surrendered some $900 of his fees was a matter with which the board had nothing to do, and it could not reimburse him for a reduction in office expenses brought about by such means.

But the committee reached no conclusion, and will take up the matter again some evening this week. A proposition to settle the Frankland claim on a basis of $1,000 was passed as being not large enough in view of the sums paid for similar service in former years. The allowance finally granted will, it is said, be either $1,250 or $1,500.

If, as is intimated, Mr. Frankland has anticipated the $3,900 and the board settles his claim on the basis indicated, the deficiency to be made up will amount to $2,400.

During his term of office Mr. Frankland collected in round figures $200,000, which gave him a legal revenue of $4,000. His books were transferred March 10, but the financial settlement has since hung fire.

The meeting of the Finance committee was the direct result of a peremptory and imperative demand on Mr. Frankland for a settlement made by the President of the board.

ANXIOUS FOR REDIESKE TO SETTLE.

Controller Wetherell Threatens to Resort to Legal Measures.

The city officials are wondering why North Town Collector Paul Redieske does not settle his account with the city. He still holds about $40,000 of the city's money collected by him this year.

The time for closing the books of the Town Collectors is April 1, and other Town Collectors have settled their accounts. Controller Wetherell has asked Redieske several times for an accounting with the city, and each time has received a promise of settlement.

The Controller says that unless payment is made shortly he will attempt to bring some sort of legal proceedings to compel it.

Two Women Attempt Suicide.

After reporting the attempted suicide of Rose Emerson, a companion, Tina Ferguson stepped outside the Desplaines Street Police Station last night and took poison. Both will recover.

SECRET CONFERENCE OF BIMETALLISTS

Prominent Men from Many Countries Discussing Monetary Affairs at Brussels in Private Session.

[SPECIAL CABLE.]

Brussels, April 21.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the New York Journal.]—It is extremely difficult to obtain information respecting the bimetallist conference, which opened here yesterday, since it is not an ordinary monetary conference, but merely a private congress. The sole details which I have been able to ascertain are the following:

In consequence of the failures in similar conferences in 1878, 1881, and 1892, it has been decided to establish a permanent congress, filling the rôle of an official committee, having its seat at Brussels, and composed of the principal bimetallists of the United States, Germany, Great Britain, Austria-Hungary, Denmark, France, the Netherlands, Roumania, Russia, and Belgium.

This congress of conciliation and pacification has for its object the search for means to be laid before the respective governments for arriving at a solution of the monetary questions which has been vainly sought for twenty years. It will above all endeavor to bring about international pourparlers preliminary to any official reassembling of a new conference.

The names of the principal representatives of the various nations are as follows:

Herren von Mirback, de Wapnitz, and Arenot for Germany; Sir William Houldworth and Messrs. Grenfell and Schacksommer for Great Britain, M. Raffalowich for Russia, M. Rochussen for the Netherlands, Counts Alexander Karolyi and Koloweat for Hungary and Austria respectively, M. Bonesco for Roumania, and M. Raeder for Denmark.

Today the second session opened under the Presidency of M. Beernaert, Belgian Minister of State. The congress began its labors with a speech by M. Allard, a Belgian bimetallist, and one of the directors of the National Bank, who explained at length the object of the congress—namely, to place the question of bimetallism on a practical basis, removed from any question of any school. It was a question of knowing if there existed any possibility of reëstablishing bimetallism, he declared, according to the academic method, which holds that a whole ingot of gold or silver, carried by any person whatever, in any quantity whatever, with respect to the money of any country forming part of the bimetallic union, ought to be converted into legal tender.

Herr Arenot, member of the Reichstag, supported the speech of M. Allard, and the session was concluded by a speech by the French delegate, Fougerolle.

The sessions are secret, and the members of the congress decided not to tell anything to the press.

CRITICAL SITUATION IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Decisive Conflict Is Looked For Daily Between the Matabele and White Residents of Rhodesia.

[SPECIAL CABLE.]

Cape Town, April 21.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by New York Journal.]—Business in Rhodesia is at a standstill. Fortified camps are being maintained in large numbers.

Three whites were killed by natives on Sunday. A decisive conflict is expected daily.

The Cape press strongly condemns President Kruger's action in refusing to go to England to discuss the grievances of Europeans at Johannesburg. Kruger wishes to delay as long as possible the new state of things which Chamberlain has hinted his refusal would create. Meanwhile, the feeling between the British and the Boers is becoming acute. The Transvaal is largely prepared to fight.

Rumors prevailed yesterday that John Hays Hammond, the American, intended to forfeit his bail at the coming trial of the Reform committee at Pretoria and leave for America. The Transvaal authorities wired him to know if there was any truth in them. Hammond replied that the rumors were incorrect, but said his physicians have told him that his condition was bad.

MILLIONS FOR CANADIAN DEFENSE.

Dominion Government Asks Parliament for Big Appropriation.

Ottawa, Ont., April 21.—[Special.]—Finance Minister Foster tonight moved the House of Commons into committee on a resolution to authorize the Governor-in-Council to raise by way of loan the sum of $3,000,000 for the purposes of the defense of the Dominion. He explained that a contract had been already entered into with the Imperial War Office for arms, ammunition, Maxim guns, and four batteries of six twelve-pounder guns each. The Liberals are fighting the appropriation, and the debate will probably last all night.

HIS PLEA FOR UNITY.

Cleveland Writes a Letter to Consul Parker.

IS READ AT A BANQUET.

Refers to Ties Between English-Speaking People.

SIGNIFICANCE OF HIS WORDS

May Show a Purpose to Close the Venezuelan Incident.

BAYARD MAKES ANOTHER SPEECH.

[SPECIAL CABLE BY JULIAN RALPH.]

London, April 21.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the New York Journal.]—Mr. Bayard had a good time today, as he usually does when on a tour. This year his special plash has been made in the midlands at the Shakspeare birthday celebrations, though why nobody well knows. However, the American Ambassador may be fairly called the lion of the festivities, which were held in the staid Town of Birmingham.

He has plunged into gayety and gush, but what he has done so far will be nothing to what he is going to do at Stratford-on-Avon.

It occurred to the Birmingham Dramatic and Literary club to invite Mr. Bayard to their thirty-second annual commemoration banquet in honor of the "Deare William," and at the same time to extract one of the Ambassador's polished speeches when he would be quite sure not to touch on dangerous topics, as he had in his Boston-Edinburgh addresses.

Bayard the Chief Guest.

So Mr. Bayard was invited to the feast and he went down accompanied by Mrs. and Miss Bayard from London today in a short two-and-a-half hours' railway run to the famous midland town.

At the Birmingham station the indefatigable American Consul, George T. Parker, was radiantly awaiting the arrival of his guests, for during their stay in the district they will stop at his house.

Naturally his Excellency was the chief guest at the banquet, which was held in the Grosvenor Hall of the Grand Hotel.

In the evening the leading men of the city flocked up in scores, it being one of the few events on which citizens of Birmingham, sadly torn by political strife, can meet in peace and harmony.

Mr. Parker, who is one of the leading lights of the club, of which he is the President, took the chair.

Mr. Cleveland's Letter.

Previous to the speechmaking he read the following letter from President Cleveland:

"I have received your letter informing me that the Birmingham Dramatic and Literary club intends to celebrate the birthday of Shakspeare on the 21st of April and extending to me, on behalf of the club, an invitation to be present upon that occasion.

"Everything that tends to keep alive the memory of Shakspeare and preserve a proper appreciation of his work challenges my earnest interest and approval, and though I cannot be with you on the occasion you contemplate, I am glad to know that our American people are prominently represented at the celebration.

"There is much said and written in these days concerning the relations which should exist, bound close by the strongest ties, between the English speaking people and concerning the high destiny which awaits them in concerted effort. I hope we may never know the time when these ennobling sentiments will be less often expressed or will in the least lose their potency and influence. Surely if the English speech supplies a token for united effort for the good of mankind and the impulse of exalted intermission we do well to honor fittingly the name and memory of William Shakspeare.

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

Excites Enormous Enthusiasm.

Mr. Cleveland's letter excited enormous enthusiasm, as the British are undoubtedly now on pacific thoughts intent and the jingo fever is expiring, if it has not already expired.

Mrs. De Navarro (Mary Anderson) also sent a letter, in which she stated that all Americans "hold hallowed the name of Shakspeare in grateful reverence."

Mr. Bayard's name was associated with literature by J. Thackeray Bunce, who is editor of the Birmingham Post. Mr. Bunce, I may add, is a persona grata to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chamberlain, for it is he to whom the Secretary of State for the Colonies greatly owes his position in the Midlands.

For years Mr. Bunce has written some of the finest and most effective political leaders ever penned in Great Britain, and though he is now an old man, he is still an extremely able speaker and writer, therefore his words carried great weight with the audience when he referred to the guest of the evening as "a man of cultivated and well stored mind; as a speaker courageous and eloquent, an eminent lawyer, an honest politician, and a patriotic, high-souled statesman."

Mr. Bayard described literature as the buttress of the people's liberty. Indeed, justly considered in all its potentiality, it was one of the chief buttresses of civilization itself.

The Daily News will say tomorrow that it sees in Mr. Cleveland's letter to Consul Parker a deliberate intention to facilitate the closing of an unpleasant episode in the relations between Great Britain and the United States, and adds that it reciprocates the intention. It further expresses the wish that President Cleveland would indorse his sentiments in the shape of a draft of a treaty for a permanent arbitration tribunal.

Still in a Dangerous State.

London, April 22.—A dispatch from Washington to the Times says that the Venezuela dispute is still in a dangerous state, and that no agreement as to principles has been reached.

"Negotiations between England and the United States," says the Times' correspondent, "are at a standstill, and nobody knows when or how the deadlock will be removed. England rejected the plan I explained in February (for the submission of the dispute to a joint commission of representatives of Great Britain and the United States. It is understood that Lord Salisbury could not overcome his repugnance to the possible reference of the dispute to arbitration. Instead of continuing the negotiations, Lord Salisbury submitted an unacceptable draft of a general arbitration treaty from which it is understood the Venezuela dispute is

RUSSELL IS THEIR IDOL.

NEW ENGLAND DEMOCRATS INDORSE THE EX-GOVERNOR.

Conventions in Massachusetts and Rhode Island Name Delegates Favorable to His Candidacy—Platforms Declare for Sound Money and Against Free Silver—Alabama Democrats Also in Session—Other News in the Field of Politics.

Boston, Mass., April 21.—With enthusiasm which almost surpassed that at the recent State convention of the Republicans of Massachusetts when Thomas B. Reed was indorsed as a Presidential candidate, the Democrats of this State today set their approval upon Grover Cleveland as President and named ex-Gov. W. E. Russell as their choice for the nomination to be President Cleveland's successor.

John E. Thayer of Worcester was chosen permanent Chairman. Mr. Thayer in his address took ground against free silver.

"Of what avail," he said, "is it to pass resolutions for the single gold standard if, as now appears quite probable, Mr. McKinley is to receive the nomination for President? The people well know that Mr. McKinley is upon record as a white metal advocate; that he has a long, consistent, and uninterrupted record while in Congress favorable to silver. We do not forget that as Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions of the Republican National convention in 1888 he submitted a platform which condemned the policy of the 'Democratic administration in its efforts to demonetize silver.' We see him as one of the great leaders of his party in his commanding position as Chairman of the Ways and Means committee urgently supporting the silver purchase bill, which increased the amount of silver the government was forced to purchase even under the Bland-Allison law. Nor is this all."

George Fred Coming to Chicago.

The election of four delegates-at-large was then moved, and the names of John E. Russell of Leicester, George Fred Williams of Dedham, John W. Corcoran of Clinton, and James W. Donovan of Boston were presented by Congressman Fitzgerald. J. T. O'Sullivan of Lowell condemned the ticket as machine-made, but upon the vote Mr. O'Sullivan was the only dissenter.

In opening, the platform declares that "never in any epoch in our country's history has the executive chair been filled by a broader-minded statesman than the President chosen by our party, Grover Cleveland."

Declare for Sound Money.

Upon the subject of national finance the platform says: "Believing that the true interests of the people require that the earnings of trade and the wages of labor be paid in money that is intrinsically worth, in all the markets of the world, what it purports to be worth, we demand the maintenance of the existing gold standard of value, and that the government shall keep all its obligations at all times redeemable and payable in gold; and we oppose the free coinage of silver and any further purchase of silver bullion or the coinage thereof on government account.

"We affirm the demands of our recent State platform that the government shall take the initial steps for the withdrawal from circulation of the legal tender notes issued in time of war under the pledge of prompt retirement. We denounce the action of the Republican majority in the present House of Representatives in attempting to reaffirm the law of 1878, requiring the perpetual reissue of these notes, and their failure to deal properly and honestly with this problem; we declare our belief that this inaction has added to the impairment of our credit caused by the silver legislation enacted during two Republican administrations.

"We demand that the necessity for an adequate medium of exchange in all sections of our country shall be met by provision for an elastic banking currency, subject to such government control as shall insure uniformity and redemption of the standard of coin on demand."

The admission of raw material free of duty is recommended. The suppression of trusts and the regulation of monopolies is demanded.

It is demanded that the legislative coöperate with the executive department in efforts for the further reform of the civil service. Sympathy with the Cuban insurgents is expressed.

The platform concludes as follows: "Following long established Democratic custom, the Democrats of Massachusetts in convention assembled will not in any way instruct or pledge their delegates, but they do declare that it is the wish of the Democratic party of the State to present, and they earnestly recommend to the consideration of the national convention to be held in Chicago, as their candidate for the office of President of the United States the name of their victorious, courageous, high-principled ex-Governor, William Eustis Russell."

Cheers for Russell.

At mention of the name of Mr. Russell as the choice of the Massachusetts Democracy for the nomination of President a mighty cheer went up from the delegates, which was repeated time and time again, and the Chairman had to stand several minutes before he could be heard.

The election of alternates resulted as follows: E. M. Esquel of Springfield, W. P. Butler of Holyoke, Henry V. Cunningham of Boston, Fisher Pearson of Lowell.

Rhode Island Democrats.

Providence, R. I., April 21.—The Democratic convention to choose eight delegates for the national convention at Chicago July 7 reassembled in Music Hall today. There was but little enthusiasm manifested, and when the roll was called there were more than 100 delegates absent and many towns were unrepresented.

Mr. Comstock, in his opening remarks, paid a high compliment to William E. Russell, alluding at length to his ability as an executive. His references to Mr. Russell were received with great applause, especially when he asserted Russell would, as Presidential candidate, again lead his party to victory.

The platform says: "The Democratic party of Rhode Island cordially approves and indorses the able and efficient administration of Grover Cleveland. We especially commend the administration for its firmness and ability in maintaining, unaided by the Congress of the United States, the credit of the Nation. It is vital to the interests of our people that there should be no departure from the gold standard, to which all money, whether gold, silver, or paper, should conform, and we are opposed to the free coinage of silver until at least four of the great powers of the eastern world shall come to an international agreement establishing the ratio at which gold and silver shall be admitted to mintage."

Russell Indorsed.

"We commend to the delegates and the Chicago convention one who will make an ideal President, William E. Russell of Massachusetts."

The mention of ex-Gov. Russell's name called forth the demonstration of the day. The indorsement of his candidacy was most hearty.

The convention then proceeded to elect delegates to the Chicago convention. The choice was as follows: Richard B. Comstock, Providence; George W. Green, Woonsocket; Miles A. McNamee and Jesse H. Metcalfe, Providence; James J. Van Alen, Newport; John H. Tucker, Warwick; David S. Baker, North Kingston; and John E. Conley of Warren. The delegates will choose their own alternates.

Sound Money Democrats in Texas.

Dallas, Tex., April 21.—Five hundred representative gold standard men from almost every county in Texas met here today in convention and by a vote of 10 to 1 resolved to reorganize the Democratic party in Texas and make the fight in the State and in every Congressional district and county in the State. Delegates will be elected to a State convention to meet at Austin on June 23, and if they are not seated by the free silver, or Dudley wing, a contesting delegation will be sent to the national convention at Chicago.

Resolutions were adopted denouncing the Free Silver committee for usurpation and trickery in trying to carry Texas into the ranks of the Tillmans and Altgelds and by arbitrary methods to prevent fair expression of the will of the people in the primaries.

Alabama Democrats for Silver.

Montgomery, Ala., April 21.—The Democratic State convention met today. Congressman Bankhead, the permanent Chairman, delivered the address of the occasion, advising Democrats that they must stand together and that their only chance to win was under the 16 to 1 banner.

All resolutions were referred by resolution to the Committee on Platform and Resolutions. The convention then adjourned until tomorrow. The free silver men control the situation.

REED STRONGER NOW IN MARYLAND.

McKinley's Chances Not Considered as Bright as They Were.

Baltimore, Md., April 21.—[Special.]—There will be no serious contest in the Republican State convention tomorrow. Senator-elect Wellington, James A. Gary, William T. Malster, and Robert P. Graham will be elected delegates-at-large, uninstructed, and on a gold platform.

Wellington said today that he did not think McKinley's chances were as bright now as they were a week ago. This statement indicates the growth of the Reed boom in Maryland.

Three Republican district conventions were held here today. All went smoothly excepting in the Fourth District convention, in which the colored factions caused some trouble over the selection of their delegate. These nominations were made:

Second District—Delegates to St. Louis, W. J. Smith of Cecil County and C. Ross Mace of Baltimore County.

Third District—Delegates, William F. Airey and Frank T. Tyler. For Congress, Dr. William S. Roose, who was also the Republican candidate in the last Congressional election.

Fourth District—Delegates, Gen. Felix Agnus and William E. Tilghman. For Congress, William W. McIntyre. Tilghman will be the only colored man in the Maryland delegation to St. Louis, and his selection was only brought about after a long fight.

The resolutions adopted at all three conventions eulogized Senator-elect Wellington as the party leader, indorsed Gov. Lowndes' administration, and declared for protection and sound money.

The delegates are uninstructed. Two of the six selected are supposed to be for Reed and the others favor McKinley.

DELEGATES ELECTED TO ST. LOUIS.

Republicans Choose Representatives to the National Convention.

Nashville, Tenn., April 21.—At Summertown the Republican convention of the Seventh Congressional District was held today. R. A. Haggard and H. F. Farris were selected delegates to St. Louis and instructed for McKinley.

Thirty-fifth Senatorial.

Monmouth, Ill., April 21.—[Special.]—The Republican Senatorial convention for the Thirty-fifth District met here today. Frank Murdock of Knox County was renominated for the Legislature and J. O. Anderson of Henderson County named as the successor of Guthrie of Mercer. Only one ballot was taken. The convention indorsed McKinley for President and the Representatives in the Legislature were instructed to support Clark E. Carr of Galesburg for United States Senator.

Eighth Missouri.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 21.—The Republican convention of the Eighth Congressional District today renominated Congressman Joel D. Hubbard by acclamation. F. B. Lander of Moniteau County and A. R. Jackson of Camden County were elected delegates to the national convention.

The delegates were instructed for McKinley.

Contesting Delegations from Virginia

Manassas, Va., April 21.—Eighth District Republicans will have two sets of uninstructed delegates to St. Louis.

There is a split in the Second District. One set of delegates are instructed for McKinley. The others are supposed to be for Reed.

CULLOM AND HOPKINS TO BE THERE

They Decide to Attend the Illinois State Convention.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—[Special.]—In response to a number of telegrams from all parts of Illinois Senator Cullom has determined to attend the State convention at Springfield and will leave Washington on Saturday. Arrangements have been perfected by which the appropriation bills in which he is particularly interested will be disposed of before that time, and it is the desire of the senior Senator from Illinois to be on the ground to look after his interests personally. Congressman Cooke, with whom Senator Cullom conferred on this subject, expressed the opinion that it would be the wisest course, and it would act as a stimulus for the delegates to the State convention to rally to his support much more enthusiastically and earnestly than if he remained at Washington.

"I shall start for Springfield the latter part of this week," said Representative Hopkins, "and my headquarters will be established there in due form on Monday morning. While I am not certain as to the outcome of the convention in regard to my candidacy for the Gubernatorial nomination, I propose to stick to the fight to the last with a view to convincing 740 delegates that I am entitled to this honor. Assurances have been given me by my friends that they will guard my interests in the Congressional district which I represent, and even if I should not receive the nomination for Governor they will attend to my return to Congress. This makes it plain sailing for me at Springfield, for there does not appear to be the slightest opposition to me in my Congressional district, and I can give my time and attention exclusively to the State convention."

CONNECTICUT REPUBLICANS GATHER

Declaration in Favor of Protection and Sound Money.

New Haven, Conn., April 21.—The first gun of the Connecticut campaign was fired tonight when the Republicans of the State assembled for the opening of the Republican State convention, called for the purpose of nominating delegates to the St. Louis convention.

Herbert E. Benton, Chairman of the Republican State Central committee, in calling the convention to order said the Republicans of Connecticut are in favor of protection and honest money. Edgar M. Warner of Putnam, the Temporary Chairman, delivered an address along similar lines.

After committees on credentials, on permanent organization, and on the platform were chosen the convention adjourned until tomorrow.

REPORT IN FAVOR OF GEN. RINAKER

Representative Cooke Submits the Case to the House.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—[Special.]—Representative Cooke today submitted to the House his report from the Elections committee recommending the seating of Gen. Rinaker from the Sixteenth Illinois District in place of Finis E. Downing, the Democratic sitting member. The substance of Mr. Cooke's report was given several days ago in THE TRIBUNE. It gives a detailed history of this intricate case, and members of the Elections committee and others say it is one of the most important legal documents bearing on election cases which has yet been submitted to the House of Representatives and that it will be in large measure made the basis of similar reports on such cases.

Pennsylvania Republicans.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 21.—The Executive committee of the State Republican committee held a secret session this afternoon to arrange the details for Thursday's State convention. Lieut.-Gov. Lyon has withdrawn as a candidate-at-large in the interest of Francis J. Torrence of Allegheny. It is generally conceded that Galusha A. Grow of Susquehanna and James S. Beacon of Greensburg will be nominated for Congressmen-at-Large.

HOT WEATHER AND RAINS HELP CROPS

Season Is Two Weeks Ahead in Illinois—Winter Wheat Well Advanced—Big Fruit Crop Anticipated.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—The weekly bulletin of crop conditions issued by the Weather Bureau today says:

The unusually warm weather throughout the central, eastern, and southern portions of the country has rapidly advanced the season, and has been very favorable for farming operations and growth of vegetation. Winter wheat has shown marked improvement, and is reported as doing well in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, and in portions of Missouri. In Kentucky and West Virginia the condition of the crop is poor. In sections of Missouri and Texas winter wheat is suffering for want of rain. Spring wheat seeding is well advanced in Southern Minnesota and is about finished in portions of Eastern South Dakota, where some of the early sown is up. Some corn has been planted in Illinois and Nebraska, and planting will be begun in Iowa this week. Cotton planting has continued under favorable conditions, and in the central and southern portions of the cotton region is coming up generally to a good stand. Germination, however, has been slow, owing to the drought. General rainfall would prove of much benefit from the Ohio Valley southward, and also in Texas, where rain is needed to insure a stand of cotton.

NEARING A REAL CRISIS.

FRANCE ON THE VERGE OF A CONSTITUTIONAL UPHEAVAL.

Senate Refuses to Grant the Madagascar Credits Unless the Ministry Shall Resign—Cabinet Decides Upon a Special Session of the Chamber of Deputies and Will Meet the Issue—Other News from Foreign Lands.

Paris, April 21.—In spite of the protest of the Premier, M. Bourgeois, the Senate today adopted a motion to postpone the vote on the Madagascar credits until a Cabinet is formed which enjoys the confidence of both Chambers.

The galleries of the Senate were packed with people. Few of the Senators were absent, and all of the Ministers were present as well as a number of Deputies.

M. De Mole read a resolution signed by the Presidents of the three moderate groups, declaring that the Senate had thrice refused a vote of confidence in the Cabinet, and that no Senator would dream of bargaining with the credits for Madagascar. Violent interruptions and an exchange of cries between the moderates and Democrats followed.

Continuing, M. De Mole said that the Senate was ready to vote the credits, but only when presented by a ministry mindful of the constitution.

Not the Province of the Senate.

The Premier, M. Bourgeois, protested that it did not belong to the province of the Senate to judge whether the government had wrongly interpreted the constitution. This fight belonged only to the entire Parliament, and he asked the Senate to forget internal dissensions in the presence of the necessity to vote the credits for the soldiers who had defended the honor of the French flag in the distant colonies of France.

M. de Mole's motion to postpone the vote on the Madagascar credit until a Cabinet is formed which enjoys the confidence of both Chambers was then adopted by a vote of 171 to 90 and the Senate adjourned until Thursday.

The Financial committee of the Senate met after the sitting of that body and decided to adopt the entire credits and report to the Senate on Thursday if a new ministry is formed.

A group of Democrats drew up a declaration to be presented to the Cabinet, which, although expressing confidence in the government, does not urge the ministry to remain in power in view of the hostile manifestations.

Official Note Issued.

An official note has been issued explaining the attitude of the Cabinet. The note says: "The Cabinet holds that, in face of the Senate's vote, it is impossible to continue the direction of affairs. But it considers it ought not to resign in the absence of the Chamber. Therefore the Chamber should be convoked without delay to enable the Ministers to impart to them the reason for their decisions. M. Bourgeois has acquainted President Faure with this resolution and has also requested M. Brisson, President of the Chamber of Deputies, to convoke the Chamber forthwith. M. Brisson has accordingly telegraphed to the Deputies to meet on Tuesday at 2 o'clock."

The news of the resolution of the Cabinet to convoke the Chamber was circulated early in the evening. The Chamber would not meet in the regular order of things until May 19.

It was 10 o'clock when M. Bourgeois went to the Palace of the Elysée, where he conferred for half an hour with M. Faure, the Ministers being assembled meanwhile at the Foreign Office awaiting his return. Immediately upon his return the official note was given out.

The refusal of the Senate to grant the Madagascar credits to the Bourgeois Cabinet is regarded as a well devised tactical move against the Cabinet in the conflict between the two branches of the government, which involves the French constitution itself. It was believed that the Cabinet would feel itself driven into a corner and would be compelled to resign, and it was expected that this would take place tomorrow. The Cabinet's reply in summoning the Chamber seems the best that could be made to the Senate's move and virtually refers the conflict to the Chamber, which has already twice refused to concur in a vote of censure of the Cabinet passed by the Senate. If the newly summoned Chamber persists in this attitude a constitutional crisis would be threatened.

Irrepressible Conflict.

It is believed the Cabinet has been convinced for some time that it must relinquish office, but has been maneuvering for advantage of position for its appearance before the country. The real conflict is between the Conservative element in politics, represented by the Senate, and the Radicals and Socialistic elements, represented in the Bourgeois Cabinet, which seek constitutional changes looking to the control of the Senate itself and the doing away with its obstruction to the Radical program in France. The present Cabinet's income tax measure is a main feature of that program uncompromisingly opposed by the Senate.

The latter body has adroitly evaded making an issue with the Cabinet on the income tax measure, and has apparently concluded that the witholding of the credits for the government's Madagascar program, which has proved unpopular in France, provides a nominal ground for the conflict more likely to appeal to the people.

It is believed that the government intends to provoke a vote of confidence by the Chamber again. Such a vote would transform the Senate's hostility to the Cabinet into a conflict between the Senate and the Chamber and would oblige the Senate to find some mode of surmounting similar opposition in the future.

RELIEF FOR BULUWAYO IS FAR OFF.

Fifty of the Natives Killed in a Brush with the Patrol.

Cape Town, April 21.—Capt. Napier with a force of 200 men left Buluwayo yesterday morning on a reconnoitering expedition. The Matabele, it was then believed, had moved southward, away from the positions they had occupied, intending to intercept the relief corps advancing from Mafeking. But the scouting party was surprised to find the Matabele in great force five miles northeast of Buluwayo. Napier's command was fired upon, returned the enemies' fire, and then retreated.

Later advices from Buluwayo say that a patrol near that place had a brush with the Matabele yesterday, during which fifty of the latter were killed.

It now appears that while it is true that several thousand Matabele have struck camp, there are enough of them remaining in the vicinity of Buluwayo to cause the utmost uneasiness. It is true that the eighteen wagons loaded with provisions have succeeded in entering the town, but there are many mouths to feed there, and the relief corps is still a long way off, and moving slowly on account of the scarcity of water and the ravages of the rinderpest among the cattle. In fact, it is feared that a month more may elapse before the Mafeking relief corps can reach Buluwayo, and a great deal may happen in that time.

The situation grows darker every day in spite of the effective means taken to defend Buluwayo. Fully 200 persons have been killed by the Matabele since the uprising began, and men of experience in South African warfare claim to see in the tactics of the natives the guiding hand of the leaders of the Transvaal burghers. They insist that the Boers are arming for a struggle with the British for the mastery in South Africa and that they are actively encouraged and assisted by Germany. The Boers have mustered 1,500 men and several guns, according to report, at a convenient distance from Mafeking, and it is believed they are more than willing to make common cause with the Matabele and strike a blow at the British supremacy.

GERMAN REICHSTAG ON DUELS.

Calls on the Government to Combat the Practice.

Berlin, April 21.—Count von Bernstorff, Conservative, today continued the debate in the Reichstag on the proposal to suppress dueling. He declared that his party was confident that the government would deal seriously with the question of dueling.

Dr. Bennigsen, National Liberal, hoped it would be a long time before dueling would be obolished in Germany, as in England. He denied that Great Britain's opposition to dueling was based on any right to condemn acts of violence, since in 1875, he asserted, England had commended the Paris commune to the Reichstag.

Dr. Bennigsen concluded by declaring that the views regarding satisfying injured honor must be changed and that the existing penalties for insults were inadequate.

Herr Richter, Radical, urged that the parties unite in a strong appeal to the government and declare that the statement of Dr. von Boetticher, the Minister for the Interior, on the subject was unsatisfactory, impossible, tame, and weak. He attacked dueling among the students, and in so doing remarked that the evil came from above and that the center of gravity lay in the practice of extending the imperial pardon to offenders. He concluded by remarking that if he had his own way he would send an address direct to the crown.

Herr Groeber condemned students' duels as being simply preparatory to more serious dueling.

Baron von Manteuffel supported Herr Bachem and condemned dueling.

Herr Forster, Socialist, urged the appointment of courts of honor for all classes.

Herr Bebel, Socialist, expressed his disbelief in the sincerity of the members of the Right, and declared that a change of views in military circles was first required. He defended his own views regarding the commune and recalled that Prince Bismarck, in his time, admitted that the commune had some justification.

Finally Herr Bachem withdrew his motion in favor of Herr Adt's, which called upon the Federal Government to energetically combat the illegal practice of dueling by all the means in its power. This motion was adopted unanimously amid loud applause.

FIERCE BATTLE WITH THE KHALIFA

Five Hundred of His Body Guard Reported Killed.

Cairo, April 21.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the Associated Press.]—Dispatches received here today from the front say that there has been fierce fighting at Omdurman, near Khartoum, the headquarters of the Khalifa.

Details of the engagement or its cause are not at hand, but it is said that 500 of the Khalifa's bodyguard have been killed and that a general feeling of unrest prevails among the Khalifa's forces.

The work of sending troops to the front, supplying them with food and ammunition, building the strategic railroad and fortifying Akasheh, is being carried on with admirable promptness and machine-like smoothness.

Massowah, April 21.—King Menelek has written to Gen. Baldissera, the commander of the Italian forces, asking him to return his letters regarding the peace proposals. This is interpreted as indicating that there has been a rupture of the negotiations for peace between Italy and Abyssinia.

Russia Tentacles About Japan.

Yokohama, April 21.—In addition to the loan of $8,000,000 that Japan has been negotiating for from Russia, giving Hong Yong, the northern province of Corea as security, the Japanese Envoy has been instructed to request that Russian troops be detailed to guard the Corean palace and also that Russia appoint advisors to the Corean Government and military instructors for the Corean army.

PURPOSE TO BUY CUBAN LIBERTY.

Rumor That President Has Dictated Another Note to Spain.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—[Special.]—In spite of the official denials at the State Department, it is now admitted generally that a note was sent to Madrid by Secretary Olney in every important particular identical with the detailed synopsis telegraphed to THE TRIBUNE. An additional story is now in circulation to the effect that this note was a forerunner of a proposition on the part of the President that Cuba should be allowed to purchase her independence from Spain, and that Señor Palma, who is here to be made Minister of the Cuban Government as soon as his country's independence is gained, suggested this plan to Mr. Cleveland, telling him it would be satisfactory to the Cubans.

The Cuban leaders here laugh at the reports from Spain of promised political reforms for the island.

They point to the significant fact that the new law was approved over a year ago, although it is only to go into effect this year. Spanish papers, they say, have been endeavoring to make it appear that the "reforms" are a concession to the sentiment in the United States and elsewhere that something should be done to give Cuba a measure of home rule. On the contrary, according to the Cuban patriots, these political changes are the merest trifling with the situation, and on their face do not give home rule to the island.

The Governor-General retains all of his arbitrary power, and the Council of Administration is accessible only to Spaniards.

They have reached the point now where they declare Cuba's condition can be bettered only by absolute independence from Spanish rule.

MAKES A ROGUE THE PEOPLE ADMIRE.

Bailey Prothero Scores a Good Hit in a Realistic Play Before a Garrick Theater Audience.

[SPECIAL CABLE BY JULIAN RALPH.]

London, April 21.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the New York Journal.]—In "The Rogues' Comedy," which was produced tonight at the Garrick Theater under Willard's management, Henry Arthur Jones to a certain extent has broken new ground.

The story is interesting certainly.

Bailey Prothero gets himself introduced into society as a thought-reader of exceptional ability, and, with the connivance of his wife, who acts as lady's maid, succeeds in imposing on several of his patrons through information she was able to give him in advance.

By a lucky guess on one occasion he advises the purchase of some mining shares which immediately afterwards rise tremendously, and on the strength of this he leaves the devious paths of thougth-reading for the little less dubious business of company promoter.

His great land and bank investment company is just started when the slump comes, and his fine Park Lane house falls into the hands of bailiffs.

Meanwhile a certain Mr. Lambert, who is really Prothero's son, although this is concealed from the audience, is pursuing inquiries into the rascal's past career, and discovers that he is a member of a notorious gang of swindlers. His revelations come on top of the collapse of the company, and Prothero decides to seek new scope for his ability in America.

The part of Prothero is taken by Willard, who, with a rôle at last worthy his talent after the many inadequate characters which have recently fallen to his lot, achieves a magnificent success.

His presentation of the sleek, oily-tongued, yet withal dignified, rather likable rogue is one of his finest creations. He maintained a striking individuality, humor, and resources of character with a faithfulness that few actors on the English stage could equal.

Sydney Brough was an inexperienced youth badly bitten with speculative fever. David Jones was a worthless old roué, while Lady Monckton had one of her usual society parts. Miss Olliffe, who is an Australian actress, was rather stagey as Prothero's wife and scarcely satisfactory in the stronger scenes.

While W. T. Lovell hardly made the most of Lambert there was an array of minor characters generally well taken, and the play received a most enthusiastic reception. It must be remembered, though, that the pieces thus drawing their inspiration from actuality may do well for a time, but when they disappear are not seen again usually.

GETS HIS WIFE TO BLACK HIS EYES.

Joseph Wench Tries Self-Mutilation to Escape Paying Debts.

Joseph Wench, No. 100 Cornelia street, presented a sad spectacle when he appeared at the West Chicago Avenue Police Station on Monday night. His hands were covered with blood, his face was lacerated, both eyes were swollen and discolored, and his clothing was torn and covered with mud.

Wench cried bitterly when he told Lieut. Polsynski a story of having been robbed of $1,100. His bruised and battered appearance, he said, was caused by three highwaymen who had attacked and plundered him. He said the robbery took place in the rear of St. Stanislaus' Catholic Church, Noble and Ingraham streets. The money was to have been paid on his house.

Yesterday morning Wench again appeared at the police station. After an hour's cross-questioning he confessed he had not been robbed and that the injuries about his head and face he had inflicted himself. A search at his home resulted in finding the money concealed in the bed mattress.

Wench, in explaining why he had mutilated his face and head, said he wanted to avoid paying the money on the house and lot. In order to complete the disfigurement of his face he submitted to having his wife strike him a number of times in the eyes with her clenched fist.

He will be arraigned before Justice Severson to answer to a charge of disorderly conduct.

ENLIST TO FIGHT SPAIN.

EXPEDITION SLIPS OUT OF KEY WEST AT MIDNIGHT.

Alfredo Laborde Puts to Sea with a Schooner Load of Arms and Ammunition—Rifles, Revolvers, Machetes, and 150,000 Rounds of Cartridges—Customs Officers Pursue Filibustering Ship to No Purpose—Maceo's Attack Expected Soon.

Key West, Fla., April 21.—[Special.]—The schooner Competitor, commanded by Alfredo Laborde, left this port about midnight with arms and men for Cuba.

The schooner carries sixty Cubans and Americans. It is said to have aboard 800 rifles, 600 revolvers, 500 machetes, and 150,000 rounds of cartridges.

The Competitor proceeded to Sugar Loaf Key, fifteen miles north of here, where more munitions and arms were taken on board.

It is said the Cubans waiting on Sugar Loaf Key have three rapid-fire guns.

After getting the arms and men at Sugar Loaf Key the Competitor was to be met by the steam tug George W. Childs, which had been engaged to tow the schooner to Cuba.

Laborde told his friends the expedition would land in Pinar del Rio Province tomorrow night.

The Competitor slipped out under the nose of the revenue cutter Merrill. When it was learned this afternoon it carried arms and men the customs officials ordered the Merrill to pursue, but the schooner had too good a start to be overtaken.

Alfredo Laborde, who commands the expedition, is a wealthy Cuban of Tampa, who has tried to reach the island before.

Cuban leaders here say as soon as Maceo receives the ammunition carried by the Competitor an attack will be made on the troops.

SPANISH ARE REAL INCENDIARIES.

Gen. Collazo Writes of Unwarlike Proceedings by Weyler's Men.

Tampa, Fla., April 19.—[Special Correspondence.]—Gen. Enrique Collazo, who left this city recently on an expedition to Cuba, writes as follows:

"La Coroneia, Cardenas, April 3.—The power of the Spanish Government does not extend beyond the ground their soldiers occupy.

"Not an estate grinds without our permission. Even 'Portugalete,' belonging to Don Manuel Calvo, the chief supporter of the Spanish Government in Cuba, has nicely framed and hung up over the entrance to the estate Maximo Gomez's order for its protection.

"Since my arrival here I have seen many Spaniards that live out in the country as 'Spaniards,' and as such are respected by our forces. They are bound to work so as not to die of hunger, and, as they cannot make a living in the towns, are compelled to work in their fields. We respect them and do not interfere with them, and yet every now and then they fall victims to Weyler's companions, whose conduct is all the more vile and infamous because it is so hypocritical. He protests publicly against these outrages, but his private orders are to the contrary.

"They call us incendiaries and yet they burn everything they come across. The greater part of the killed that they report consists of the 'pacificos.'

"The wake of the Spanish troops can be followed by burnt remains of all the small huts and the destruction of every farm or bit of land that is under cultivation."

CUBAN PATRIOTS SCORN REFORMS.

"Give Us Liberty or Give Us Death" Is Their Policy.

Tampa, Fla., April 21.—[Special.]—The dispatches contained in today's papers announcing that Cuba will get home rule are received with scorn by the Cuban colony here.

Col. Fernando Figuerdo, Cuban delegate to Florida, tonight said:

"Should Spain ever proffer us home rule it will be spurned.

"As long as Cubans live they will fight for liberty.

"Absolute independence is what we want, nothing else.

"Campos promised us home rule in '76, but it was never granted. We are not to be bluffed again.

"What they now offer is the law proposed by Alburzuza, the Minister of Colonies, in March, 1895, and accepted by the Cortes, but never put into effect.

"This measure was suggested by the startling capture of the Lagonda, Amadis, and Barawa at Fernandino, loaded with munitions of war for Cuba. Spain has been loath to concede that much to us, but now thinks it the only redeeming measure.

"If they have our forces in Cuba so scattered, bewildered, and surrounded why are they so eager to grant any such concessions?"

ADDRESS TO AMERICA FOR PATRIOTS

Spaniards Must Grant Freedom or Make Cuba a Graveyard.

New York, April 21.—T. Estrada Palma, President of the Cuban Revolutionary Junta, tonight gave out the following adress:

"To the People of the United States: The question of the supposed reforms in Cuba is not a matter which at all concerns those who have already established an independent government in Cuba, and have resolved to shrink from no sacrifice of property or life in order to emancipate the whole island from the Spanish yoke.

"If the Spaniards resident in the island, who are favored by the Spanish Government with all sorts of privileges and monopolies, and if the handful of Cubans too pusillanimous or too proud to acknowledge their errors, or a few foreigners guided only by selfish interests, are satisfied that Cuba should remain under Spanish abomination, we, who militate under the flag of the solitary star, we, who already constitute the Republic of Cuba, and belong to a free people, with its own government and its laws, are firmly resolved to listen to no compromise and to treat with Spain only on the basis of absolute independence for Cuba.

"If Spain has power to exterminate us then let her convert the island into a vast cemetery; if she has not and wishes to terminate the war before the whole country is reduced to ashes, then let her adopt the only measure that will put an end to it, and recognize our independence.

"Spain must know by this time that while there is a single living Cuban with dignity—and there are many thousands of them—there will not be peace in Cuba nor even hope of it.

"All good causes must finally triumph, and ours is a good cause. It is the cause of justice treated with contempt, of right suppressed by force, and of the dignity of a people offended to the last degree.

"We have thrown ourselves into the struggle advisedly and deliberately. We knew what we would have to face, and we decided unflinchingly to persevere until we should emancipate ourselves from the Spanish Government. And we know we are able to do it, as we know we are competent to govern ourselves.

"Experience has taught us that as a people we have nothing to envy in the Spaniards; in fact, we feel ourselves superior to them, and from them we can expect no improvement, no better education.

"With regard to the knowledge of modern institutions and to democratic sentiments we are far more advanced than the Spaniards. In that respect and in many others we have nothing in common with the Spanish people. We are Americans. We breathe the pure air of free institutions, and we contemplate with envy the government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

FORMULATING PLANS FOR REFORM.

Spanish Cabinet Officers Making Plans for Queen's Speech.

Madrid, April 21.—Premier Canovas del Castillo and the Minister for the Colonies, Señor Castellano, drew up today the references to the political and administrative reforms in Cuba and Puerto Rico which will be announced in the coming speech from the throne.

The terms of the reforms decided upon were not revealed.

The rumors of the granting of reforms for Cuba by the Spanish Government are much discussed by all sections of the political world here.

The suporters of the government say the ministry has not changed its line of conduct, but that it will submit its proposals to the Chambers.

FRIEND OF JEWS DEAD.

Lord Marcus Beresford was closely associated with Baron de Hirsch on the turf.

Hirsch's great estate in Hungary is well stocked with game of all kinds. There a few years ago he received the Prince of Wales and a distinguished party, whom he entertained in princely magnificence for over a week.

The Baron spent several months there every year.

In London he kept a great house in Piccadilly and also owned valuable property in France and Scotland.

Millions of poor Jews mourn his loss.

It is said that not long ago domicilian visits in Galicia resulted in the finding of photographs of Baron de Hirsch marked "The Emperor."

The Jews proved that these photographs had been distributed by Vienna anti-Semites, who at the same time informed the police of the treasonable title given by the Jews to their benefactor.

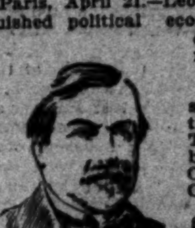
Sorrow at Woodbine Settlement.

Cape May, N. J., April 21.—[Special.]—The death of Baron Hirsch last night was not generally known at the Woodbine settlement in this country until this afternoon, when there was much sorrow. The settlement, which was started in 1891 by his fund, now has 700 souls, and is thriving. At the colony each family, all of which are Russians, has thirty acres and necessary farming accoutrements.

JEAN BAPTISTE LEON SAY DEAD.

The Noted Son of a Noted Father Passes Away.

Paris, April 21.—Leon Say, the distinguished political economist, died at 2:30 o'clock this morning.



M. Leon Say.

President Faure has sent his condolence to the widow of M. Say. The body of Say will be interred in the Cemetery of Père la Chaise.

Jean Baptiste Leon Say was the grandson of the great French economist, J. B. Say. He commenced his career as financier by writing a pamphlet at the age of 22 years, which attracted wide attention. He was Minister of Finance several years, and was elected to the academy in 1874. He was associated with the editing of the "Dictionary of Finances," was a regular contributor to the Journal des Debats, and was held as one of the best practical as well as theoretical financiers of Europe.

He gained reputation as a diplomat, also as Ambassador to London.

LAST OF THE WAR GOVERNORS DEAD.

Arthur Ingraham Boreman of Parkersburg, W. Va., No More.

Parkersburg, W. Va., April 21.—Ex-Gov. Arthur Ingraham Boreman died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at his residence in this city.

Mr. Boreman was born in Waynesburg, Pa., July 24, 1823. He was admitted to the bar in 1843. He was a member of the Virginia Legislature, which amid the intense popular excitement of the hour held an extra session in 1861, to discuss the propriety of seceding, and his efforts against that movement were very conspicuous. During the same year he presided over the convention assembled at Wheeling to reorganize the State government; and in the ensuing October was elected Judge of the Circuit Court, exercising the functions of that office until the unanimous election in 1863 as first Governor of the new State of West Virginia. He was reëlected in 1864 and 1866.

Jethro D. Brown.

Jethro D. Brown, for over thirty years a merchant and prominent citizen of Waukegan, died of apoplexy yesterday at his home, No. 240 Ohio street. Mr. Brown was born June 11, 1816, at Chateaugay, Franklin County, N. Y., and came west in 1844, he and his wife driving the entire distance. He settled at Waukegan, where he lived for thirty-four years, coming to Chicago in 1878. In 1893 he celebrated his golden wedding, his wife dying the next year. Mr. Brown leaves one daughter, Miss Hattie A. Brown. The funeral will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m., at the residence, the Rev. Dr. Trusdell officiating. Interment will be at Waukegan.

DEBS TO SPEAK AT THE UNIVERSITY.

He Accepts an Invitation to Deliver an Address Before the Undergraduate Body.

Eugene V. Debs was invited yesterday to deliver a lecture before the students of Chicago University on a date to be fixed by himself. It had been reported that the students wanted to invite him, but that the faculty had objected. The invitation, however, made no mention of such objection. Mr. Debs accepted the invitation, sending word from Terre Haute, Ind., he would meet the committee in Chicago this week to make further arrangements. He will stay at the Winwood Hotel, No. 1323 State street, and will arrive there this evening.

He will also speak again in Erie Street Methodist Church and confer with some of the labor unions.

President Harper received the news of Debs' coming with the greatest complacency. "That is all right," he said. "We've no objections to Mr. Debs addressing the students."

"Didn't the university faculty forbid the students to invite Debs here to address them, or at least take some action to prevent it?"

"Not at all," he answered; "the students asked me if the university had any objection to their inviting Debs to address them and I told them it had not; that the university was willing the students should hear all sides of the question. Then the afternoon papers came out that day with long yarns about the university forbidding the students to invite Debs here to address them. It was false from one end to the other."

President Harper said he had received many communications protesting against the action of the university. "But when Mr. Debs comes we shall give him an audience room and every courtesy we would any other speaker," said Mr. Harper.

FLY WHEEL CRUSHES THE ENGINEER

William Hessemer Slips While Cleaning Machinery.

William Hessemer of No. 227 North Clark street was crushed yesterday by the heavy fly wheel of one of the engines at the Chicago avenue pumping station and died three hours later. Hessemer, who was employed as engineer, climbed on top of the engine at 11 o'clock to repair a water pipe when he slipped and fell between the wheel and the floor. His cries attracted the attention of a number of the employés, who stopped the machinery and dragged out the engineer. All of the bones in the right side of his body were broken. Mrs. W. T. Belke, to whom he was betrothed, was at his bedside a few minutes before he died. The arrangements were completed for the wedding on May 1.

"The recent and rapid spread of Golf all over the world has rendered it desirable that an attempt should be made to frame a short hand-book as a guide for beginners and others, to the Rules and Customs of the Game. Accepting the St. Andrews Rules as the best expression of the law of the game, it occurred to us that without touching their meaning or principle in the slightest degree, they were capable of being arranged and classified in a manner that would make them simpler for the beginner. This we accordingly attempted and in so doing we have been careful to make no alterations in the rules, except clerical alterations which the rearrangement seemed to us to render necessary."—Preface.

(Uniform with Kidd's "Social Evolution.")
The lectures have a peculiar significance as showing the attitude of mind of one who has made of ethics a religion. They indicate how far ethics can take the place of theology as an inspiring force to a certain class of minds, and they illustrate the transition from an accepted orthodox faith to this ethical idealism, showing to what an extent such a change may or may not alter or influence one's general religious beliefs, and also pointing out the degree in which this standpoint may modify one's views about social or political institutions.

I commend the volume most heartily, and can assure you that, whatever may be your opinion of Renan as a theologian, you must bow the head before him as a noble soul and grandly gifted man, reverend, loyal, and brave."—Rev. Darton's Successor.

THERE were four of us when we first came to Stiles' Row—Darton, Fred, Dick, and myself. Fred and I were old chums. We had been at college together, and, in palmier days, had shared a studio in St. John's Wood. Dick Maynard was a very prince of good fellows, but his career as an artist and a Bohemian was, unfortunately, nipped in the bud by an inconsiderate greataunt, who died and left him a fortune. The old life had still some fascination for him, however, and when we moved to Stiles' Row, he took the fourth studio there and occasionally came and lectured to us about art. Darton, too, had been with us from the first; but when he left, and his rooms stood empty, it was astonishing how little we missed him.

Our tiny circle seemed only drawn the closer for his defection. Probably, as Fred remarked, it was only propinquity which had made him one of us all. He had always had a hankering for the brazen pots of Philistinism. Penury had been a source of constant irritation to him. The small privations, which we had learnt to look upon with a sort of philosophic tolerance, galled him. The jest of empty pockets appealed in no way to his sense of humor. His Bohemianism had been only skin-deep. With us it seemed to have passed into our blood, and into the very sinews of our daily life. But that we were still human, however, we had soon to learn.

Fred had brought his work into my room one afternoon, and was standing before his easel gazing at an unfinished picture, with a frown upon his handsome face. There was a knock at the door. Fred looked at me and scowled.

"It's that grocer, Johnny," he remarked savagely. "He said he should come this afternoon. Who told him I was up here, I wonder? Meddlesome idiot! Hold on a minute!"

He passed behind the high screen which partitioned off my room, and threw himself upon the bed.

"Come in!" I called out.

The door was opened, and a girl crossed the threshold. We did not want to see any woman about the place. In this respect we were peculiar but sincere. I went on painting, without a second glance at her.

"We neither of us want a model," I volunteered; "can't afford to pay them. Shut the door, please."

She closed the door, but remained inside.

"Can't you?" she said. "I am sorry. But, you see, I'm not a model."

I turned round, and looked at her. She was tall, and she wore an artist's smock over a plain dark dress. As to her appearance, I have never attempted to describe her, and I never shall. Dick could do it by the hour. I never could. I only know that she was beautiful, and she stood there laughing at me.

"I am your neighbor," she explained, the corners of her mouth still twitching. "I have taken the rooms below, which Mr. Darton used to have. Do you understand stoves? I have been trying to make some tea for half an hour, but, voila!—that is all I have succeeded in doing."

She held up a pair of small, black hands, and laughed. I laughed, too. It was irresistible.

"Stoves?" I repeated. "I don't know. I'll come and see, if you like."

"If you really wouldn't mind. Good gracious! what is that?"

I followed her startled eyes. In his eagerness to see the new-comer, Fred had mounted on to my bed, and was looking over the screen. I frowned at him severely.

"It's my friend," I explained. "He has the room above here, but he was working with me when you knocked. And, the fact is, we thought you were a dun, so he was in retirement. Come out Fred!"

Fred appeared, with a very red face, and bowed with such dignity as a man may who is wearing a dirty smock in lieu of a coat, and carpet slippers. But our visitor was very gracious.

"My name is D'Auxelles," she said. "Come, both of you, and see if you can put my stove right, and I will give you some tea. That is, if you are not too busy, of course."

Busy! We scouted the idea, and followed her down to the next floor. Darton's room was witnessing a metamorphosis indeed. We found the floor strewn with a motley collection of feminine belongings, including an easel, and all the paraphernalia of an artist. In the center was a black-iron tubular concern, emitting spasmodic puffs of smoke from the top.

"It is a patent arrangement," she remarked, looking at it thoughtfully. "The man from whom I bought it declared that it would cook anything, from an egg to a haunch of mutton. It only wants managing. Here is a book of instructions. I have tried to understand them, but I am so stupid!"

She handed us a little pamphlet. It was all very simple. We went for it boldly.

"I will cut some bread-and-butter and open the jam, while you boil the kettle," she proposed. "Perhaps you will be able to make some toast when you have found out how the thing works."

"We will try," I answered dubiously. "The first thing to do is to thoroughly master the principle of the thing. Read those instructions again, Fred."

We approached our task with a certain amount of cheerfulness. As time went on, our faces fell, our complacency deserted us. Fred, with a great smut on his left cheek, had commenced to swear to himself softly, but with terrible earnestness. I was struggling with an insane desire to seek out the maker of the thing and kick him. She came over and stood by our side.

"I am afraid that you are not getting on very well," she remarked. She seemed disappointed.

I rose to my feet. "The fact is, we are not getting on at all," I confessed. "There is a big fire in my room. Let us take the things in there and boil the kettle."

"Delightful!" she exclaimed. "Here, hold out your hands!"

She loaded us with plates of bread and butter, and scones, and jam. Fred loitered behind to help her with the kettle. He muttered something about the handle being hot. At the door our eyes met, and he positively blushed. They were both carrying the kettle.

Such an afternoon tea my studio had never witnessed before. Certainly it will never witness anything of the sort again. She sat in my easy chair, and we both waited upon her—with more than average clumsiness. But she enjoyed it. She told us a little about herself—not much. She was an orphan, and she had been living with some relatives in London who bored her. They were apparently addicted to the vice of fashionable life. Helen—she told us that we were to call her Helen—had only one desire: it was to become an artist. She did not tell us so point-blank, but we gathered that she had run away. That there was anything unusual in her having rooms in Stiles' Row, Chelsea, she did not seem to appreciate in the least. She was sublimely unconscious—sublimely ignorant. She looked out upon life with a naive and eager curiosity. Bohemia was her Promised Land. To be a denizen in it seemed to be the limit of her desires. Her sex did not seem in the least to embarrass her. She talked to us as an equal and a comrade. We were artists. In less than half an hour we had forgotten our shabbiness and the poverty of our surroundings. We were all the best of friends. It was very surprising.

After tea, she took out a dainty little cigaret case, and smoked, while we showed her our work, or such part of it as we thought worthy of her inspection. Fred accepted a cigaret, and smoked it in lieu of his pipe. He told me afterwards that it was the best Egyptian cigaret he had ever tasted.

When she left us, she held out her hand with a little impulsive gesture.

"Good-by!" she said, looking straight into my eyes. "I am so glad to have you two for neighbors, and I am sure that we shall be good friends. It is so good of you not to mind having a girl as a fellow-worker!"

In turn we bowed over her hand. Fred mumbled a little speech, but I said nothing. Then we went back to my fire, and smoked, and looked at one another stealthily through the twilight. Perhaps the same thought was there with both of us. Through the curling smoke from my pipe, as it spread around in faint, dim wreaths, I seemed to see something in the future which might come between us two, a little crack in the wall of our treasured friendship—just a scratch, but a scratch which might easily become a chasm. And then Fred—a fellow of great heart was Fred—laid his hand upon that crack, and sealed it up for ever. Through the shadows, I could see his soft eyes—he had woman's eyes—turned full upon me, and his hand thrust forward.

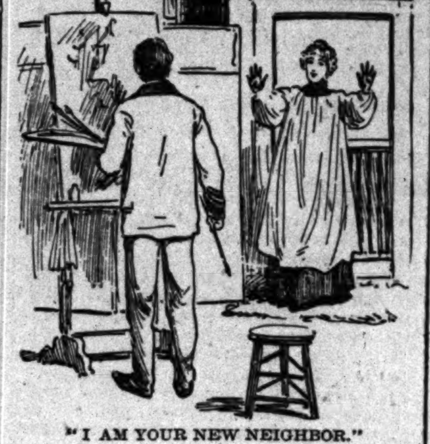
"Friends!"

I leaned forward, and clasped his hand.

"Always!"

* * *

A woman brings change as the spring brings flowers, but with us the change was not what we had dreaded. These were the halcyon days of our Bohemianism. We had a new comrade, gay, fascinating, sympathetic. Dick, too, came under the charm, Dick, the hardened young misogynist, who railed at women as at the plagues of Egypt. But Dick had mixed with women freely, and society was never to him what it was to Fred and myself. Our evenings no longer hung fire. We had little dinners at Mariette's—more than we could afford—and we generally wound up the evening at a music hall, or one of the exhibitions. Fred, somewhat shyly, had brought out a dress coat and unearthed a tall hat. I, with a sigh, furbished up my old clothes, for I was very poor in those days. Not that Helen ever cost us a penny. She paid her share of everything from the start, and she would have been grievously offended if we had treated her in any way otherwise than as one of ourselves. We even told her of our custom—the sale of a picture meant a dinner at Mariette's, if the price allowed it—and she clapped her hands with delight. But from that time she always seemed to be selling a picture—dainty little things they were, too! We seldom saw a purchaser, but her gay little summons became a very familiar thing. And we went without hesitation. Helen had a way of making us do what she wanted. Our constant study was to keep her amused and interested, for there was just one disturbing element in the happiness of our days. Helen would get tired of her life in a shabby suburban street, with only us three men for her companions. She would get tired of it and go away. So we humored her like a child, watching her face to see if she were amused when we took her out, drinking sweet Moselle for dinner without a single wry face, holding frequent consultations, and studying her in every way that occurred to us. And, on the whole, we succeeded. As to her painting, we had no difficulty in keeping her interested in it. We taught her a little, and she was always eager to learn. She had talent, and her work, if it was not of a very high order, had a charm and originality of her own. She was a flower painter. Often Fred and I found our way to Covent Garden in the fresh spring twilight before the dawn, in search of roses for her, and saw the sun rise as we strode homeward together through the dim, silent streets. And on those occasions we said very little. But we each knew the other's mind.



"I AM YOUR NEW NEIGHBOR."

There came a morning when Helen waltzed lightly into my room, waving her hands above her head, and, with a fine flourish, came to a standstill before me.

"Who will come with me into the Land of Goshen?" she cried breathlessly. "I want to go to my dressmaker, and to see the rhododendrons in the park. Who will come?"

She looked at me, but I kept my eyes upon my work. Alas! I had no garments for the West.

"We have only one tall hat between us," I said sorrowfully, "and it will not fit me. Fred must be your escort."

Fred was already tearing off his smock, and handling the clothesbrush. She turned away slowly.

"I shall be ready in ten minutes," she said, without looking at me any more. "Don't dare to keep me waiting!"

I laid down my brush and watched them cross the street. Fred, tall and aristocratic, wearing his shabby clothes with the air of a Prince, and Helen—what a metamorphosis! She had become a woman of fashion. She was wearing the garments of a world which had no kin with ours, wearing them gracefully and naturally. I watched them until they were out of sight, and an odd thing happened to me. I, a hardened outcast from the world, a wanderer in its byways, a would-be cynic, became suddenly the slave of an emotional crisis. A mist swam before my eyes, a lump crept into my throat. My brush slipped from my nerveless fingers, I was leaning against my easel, and my head was resting in my clasped hands. This, then, was what I had made of life! My best years were stealing away. Middle-age stared me in the face. What had I made of myself—what was I? A vagabond, a strolling artist, a loiterer along the broad avenue at whose end was the temple of fame, with my hands in my pockets, while others girded up their loins, and passed me, now one by one, now in a stream. The ignominy of content stung me to the quick. The sunshine seemed slipping from my life. And I knew whence had come this phase of sudden realization. I turned upon myself with a new fury. Fool! A nameless artist, without money or repute, a parasite hanging on to a little back corner of the world. What folly! What folly!

When they returned, I knew at once that something had gone wrong. Helen went straight to her room, and Fred came hurrying in to me, with a white, troubled face. He threw off his hat and coat, and commenced filling his pipe with trembling fingers. "What is it?" I asked softly. He answered me with an oath.

"We have seen some of her people. They were in the park. We got into a hansom, but they gave chase. One of them has spotted us down. They will find her out. They will make her go back!"

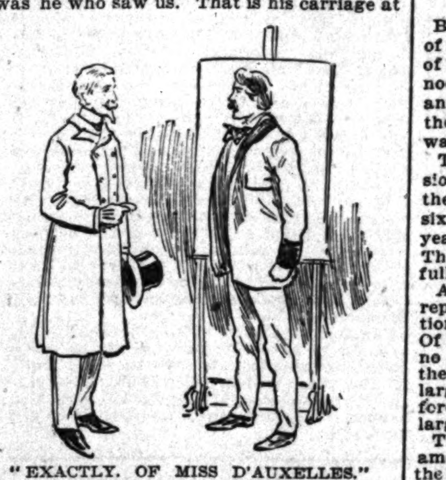
We looked at one another, aghast.

"Go to the window," he directed. I went.

"Is there a fellow in a long coat watching the house?"

A man in a frock coat stood opposite, smoking a cigaret, and looking up. I pointed him out to Fred.

"I should like to wring his neck!" muttered Fred, looking over my shoulder. "It was he who saw us. That is his carriage at the corner. He is waiting for the others."



"EXACTLY. OF MISS D'AUXELLES."

A brougham drawn by a pair of dark horses turned into the narrow street. The man who was waiting handed out a lady, and together they entered the house. Helen came running into our room.

"They have found me out!" she cried sadly. "I shall have to go away!"

I pointed below. "They have come for you already," I said.

She was very pale, and her eyes were wonderfully soft.

"This has been a mad freak of mine," she said, "but I shall never regret it—never! It will be a little corner of my life which I shall cherish. You two, and Mr. Dick have been so good to me. You have been like brothers. You will come and see me—afterwards, won't you?"

We promised sadly, and without enthusiasm. She shook hands with us and hurried away.

We heard her greet the newcomers on the landing. They all went together into her room. Fred and I looked into each other's eyes. Then he rushed away, and I heard the door of his room slam. I was alone!

I sank into my chair, and I closed my eyes. After all, it was for the best. The thing could not have gone on. And yet——

And then my little chain of reasoning snapped and fell to the ground. I saw only her face. I gave way to the strong, sweet delight of memory. I fashioned my own picture, and the breath of life seemed to be in it. Everything was so real—her soft, bright voice, the silken rustling of her skirts, the dainty trifles of her toilette—all these soft, indefinable suggestions of femininity which had been like a revelation to me. Then—surely I was dreaming, or had my picture taken life?—there was a light step in the room, the faint swish of a trailing skirt, te sweet odor of violets. I kept my eyes half closed. I would not look up or move my head. It was too sweet! I dared not risk losing it. Nearer and nearer it came. A woman's soft breath fell upon my cheek. Something touched my lips—something warm and delicate and trembling. Again the swish of a skirt, the opening and closing of a door.

Silence!

I opened my eyes. Of course, it was a dream, but on my knee was a little cluster of violets.

In the morning I had a visitor. Fred was away. I turned to meet him, his card in my hand, with clenched teeth and white face. He stood and bowed, a white-haired, courteous old gentleman. My resentment faded away.

"You will pardon the liberty—Mr. Montavon, I believe?"

I bowed, and pointed to my chair. He looked at it through his eye-glass, and declined it politely.

"I have only a moment," he said. "I am here at the request of the guardians of—of——"

"Of Miss D'Auxelles," I said.

He raised his eyebrows, and bowed.

"Exactly. Of Miss D'Auxelles. I applaud your discretion, sir; it makes my task easier. Her guardians wish me to convey their thanks—their sincere thanks—to you, for the kindness and consideration which you showed their ward in her late most extraordinary escapade. They feel that your behavior, and the behavior of your friends, whom I regret not to have met, was most exceptional. I offer you their most heartfelt gratitude, and, from the young lady—this."

I took the little parcel, and bowed.

"There was nothing at all exceptional in our treatment of the young lady," I said drily, "nor can I see that there was anything very extraordinary in what you term 'her escapade.' We are not in the middle ages!"

He took up his hat, looking at me fixedly, and smiled.

"You will doubtless understand better when you have examined the little offering from the young lady," he remarked. "Good morning, sir."

He left me with another bow. I tore upen the covering of the parcel, and slowly opened a jeweler's case. A magnificent opal pin, set with diamonds, flashed up at me from a bed of purple velvet. I scarcely noticed it, for I was unfolding with trembling fingers a little scrap of paper, on which was a single line of writing—

"From your comrade and sister, Helen, Princess D'Auxelles."

Then I understood!—E. Phillips Oppenheim in the Sketch.

REPORT ON SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK.

Congregationalists of Boston and Chicago Have Their Annual Meeting.

Boston, Mass., April 21.—The annual meeting of the Congregational Sunday-School Society of Boston and Chicago was held this afternoon. The presentation of the sixty-fourth annual report of the Board of Directors, by the Secretary, the Rev. George M. Boynton, was the principal business.

Thirty-four Superintendents and missionaries have represented the society in the various fields. Five hundred and sixty-six schools have been organized during the year, nearly 100 more than the year before. The home department has also been successfully extended in all parts of the land.

About 1,268 mission Sunday-schools are reported as under their care by Congregational Superintendents in twenty-six States. Of these 1,064 are in places where there is no other Christian work of any kind. Of the remaining 204 schools about 100 are in large cities, several of them among the foreign born population. The others are in large towns.

The legacies which have come this year amount to only $3,544, as against $22,340 in the preceding year. Less than 1,000 churches have given anything as churches, and 121 of these only as contributing at a Sunday-school service.

Pittsburg Suffering from an Epidemic of Impure Sweetmeats.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 21.—During the last two days thirty-three persons in this city have been poisoned by eating impure food and sweetmeats. Thirteen of the victims were boarders at a fashionable private hostelry in Hazlewood. All have recovered, although several were near death. In the cases of twenty the cause is ascribed to chocolate cake purchased at a bakery.

GAZE AND GUESS ON MEN.

MENOKEN CLUB WOMEN ENJOY AN AFTERNOON CELEBRITY PARTY.

Prizes Awarded for Puzzling Out the Correct Names of the Prominent Persons Photographed—Mrs. J. H. Dawson and Mrs. A. C. Traill the Winners—O'Rell, Kipling, Du Maurier, and Doyle Badly Mixed by the Fair Contestants.

One hundred women, members of the Menoken club, spent yesterday afternoon gazing at the photographs of prominent men. This new diversion of Chicago club-women, which has been popular in Washington all winter, goes by the name of "celebrity party."

After months of wrestling with "problems" and the "thusness" of the coming man, interspersed with lectures on Delsarte, this last entertainment for the season of the Menoken women proved interesting and, it was believed, instructive.

There was not only pleasure in looking at the likenesses, but there were two prizes for the women who could write on their cards the names of most of the men. The prize-winners were Mrs. J. H. Dawson and Mrs. A. C. Traill. The prizes were a cut glass toilet bottle and a pretty French clock.

The "celebrity party" was conducted after this fashion: After the usual interchange of compliments on spring millinery the women were arranged in circles of ten. Each circle was provided with a photograph marked No. 1, the name of the picture being marked on the score card. So the game progressed to No. 20.

Max O'Rell was marked Rudyard Kipling and George du Maurier was called A. Conan Doyle with a calmness that led one to believe there was really nothing in a name. By wise forethought the "paper phiz" of Paderewski was not among the honored celebrities.

The buzz that accompanied this contest was equal to a sewing bee. It only subsided when Mrs. A. B. McCourtie, the presiding genius, submitted the score cards to the judges and Miss Sue Allen Harrington added to the pleasure of the afternoon with vocal selections.

Among the women who were initiated into the mysteries of the "celebrity party" were:

Mrs. A. B. Heap,
Mrs. E. W. Stanwood,
Mrs. W. S. Tillotson,
Mrs. Samuel Kerr,
Mrs. H. W. Stoker,
Mrs. Charles Street,
Mrs. W. A. Krause,
Mrs. F. S. Atkin,
Mrs. A. H. Dunham,
Mrs. F. Bryan,
Mrs. Thomas Eaton,
Mrs. Edward Dicker,
Mrs. F. F. Bullen.

HE PAYS $100 FOR A SINGLE KISS.

Freddie Young's Osculatory Experiment Costs Him Dear and Lands Him in Jail.

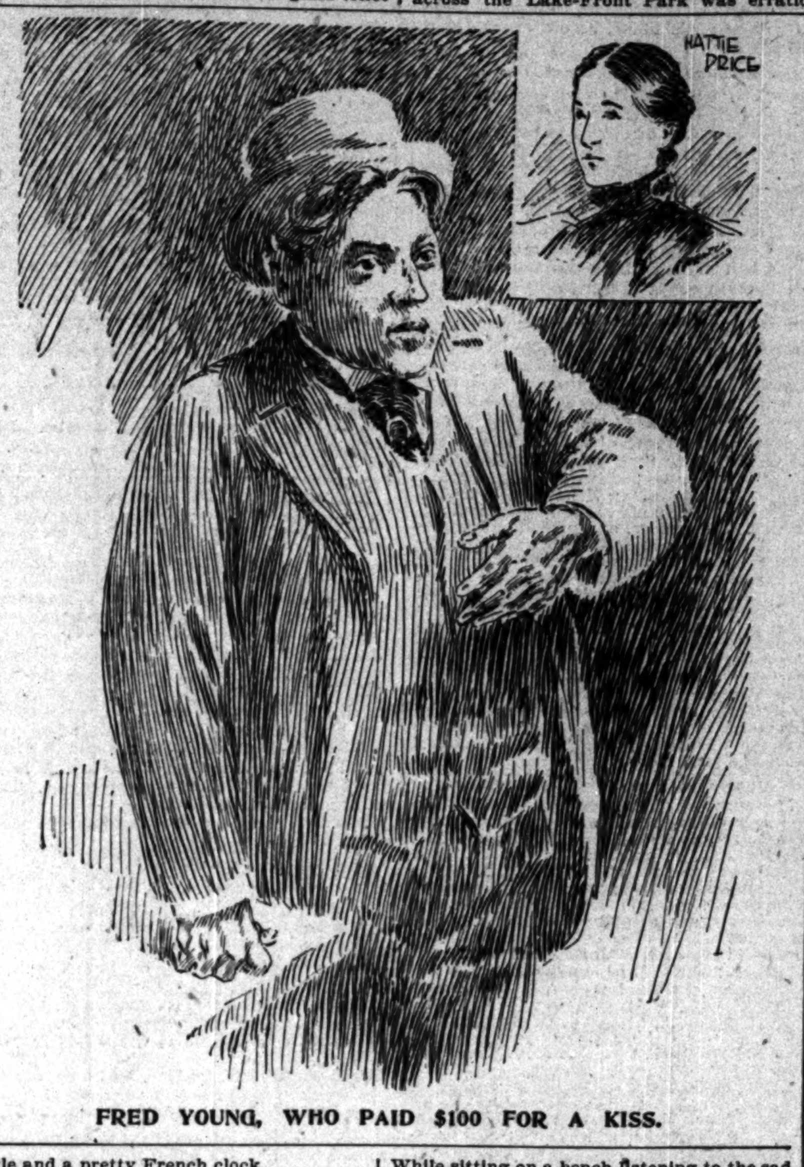
It cost Freddie Young just $100 to kiss Hattie Price. Not $100 in theater tickets, street car fares, ice cream sociables, and pink teas, but $100 in a single lump.

The kiss occurred Monday evening at the Van Buren street station of the Illinois Central railroad. Its value was fixed yesterday by Justice Underwood at the Harrison Street Police Court. Freddie had not counted on kisses coming so high. He did not come prepared to pay so much. So last night he sat in the county jail and thought and thought and thought.

He was not especially sad, was Freddie. After the Judge assessed him $100 for a single kiss he thanked his lucky stars he had not kissed Miss Price three or four times or hugged her or held her hand for half an hour.

"For if I had," said Freddie naively, as he stood in the middle of his cell and kicked vigorously at himself, "I should probably have been hung or sent to the penitentiary for life."

The tragedy occurred on the platform of the Van Buren station. As Freddie approached the station on the fatal evening the dusk was falling. Freddie was also falling—now and then. He had tarried at divers wine shops, and his pathway to the station across the Lake-Front Park was erratic.



FRED YOUNG, WHO PAID $100 FOR A KISS.

While sitting on a bench listening to the sad murmur of the waves Miss Hattie Price, the heroine of the little drama, approached. Freddie and Miss Price had never met before, but in the condition in which Freddie was that did not bother him in the least. In fact, he wasn't quite sure whether it was a woman or the Illinois Central depot. But as the depot, together with the station and the Auditorium, had just strolled by and were not due again for two minutes, Freddie decided it must be a woman.

He immediately decided he loved her. In his joy he sprang to his feet and threw his arms around three or four feet of atmosphere in a frantic attempt to hug the object of his adoration. Finally, by a tremendous effort, he caught her hand and succeeded in kissing Miss Price. She screamed, and the commuters dashed to the rescue. Freddie crawled up on the railing and fell over into the park and into the arms of Policeman McGrath.

Justice Underwood did the rest.

TO ASK AID FOR VACATION SCHOOLS.

Committee Will Petition the Board of Education for Five Buildings.

The committee of which Miss Sadie American is Chairman, recently appointed by the Bureau of Charities to devise means to introduce "vacation schools" in Chicago, will submit a petition to the Board of Education tonight asking for the use of five schools situated near the settlements in this city.

It is intended to start the "vacation schools" for poorer children, a system popular in Eastern cities for the amusement and instruction of little ones. The Board of Education will be asked for no money, the intention being to raise it among interested persons.

Invitations have been issued for a gathering of women interested in the needs of children during vacation months, to be held this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Ferdinand Peck, No. 1826 Michigan avenue. Among those who will speak are Miss Jane Addams, Prof. Myra Reynolds, Miss Mary McDowell, and Miss Sadie American.

RAISE $125 FOR CONTINENTAL HALL.

Daughters of the Revolution Contribute to National Headquarters.

Members of the local branch of the Daughters of the Revolution raised $125 yesterday for the Continental Hall, to be erected in Washington, D. C., as national headquarters for the society.

The money was pledged at the last meeting of the season, held in the Munger room in the Art Institute, after Mrs. H. M. Shepard had made an address setting forth the merits of the proposed plan.

The meeting was enlivened with music, and one interesting feature was a paper on "Modern Republics," by Mrs. Frederick Smith.

Women Talk Foreign Missions.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society of the West, which will continue three days, was begun yesterday afternoon at the First Baptist Church, Thirty-first street and South Park avenue. Yesterday's session was given up to the secretaries of the different branches of the society. It was decided to ask each church in the district to raise one-tenth more money this year than last for foreign missionary work.

TAKE A FLAG FROM GIRL STUDENTS.

Raid by Johns Hopkins Boys in Which Police Are Called.

Baltimore, Md., April 21.—[Special.]—At a recent concert given at the Woman's College by the glee and mandolin clubs there were a number of Johns Hopkins University men present who carried off the '97 class flag and hung it up as a trophy in one of the Greek letter fraternity houses.

The girls wrote a note requesting the return of the flag. They received an answer saying it had been taken from the fraternity house by one of the students. Then the girls placed the matter in the hands of the police, who searched two or three students' boarding-houses without result.

Today the flag was left at a police station by a messenger boy.

VROOMAN CASE TO GO TO THE SYNOD.

Conservative Element in Presbyterian Church Will Carry Up the Favorable Decision of Presbytery.

The conservative element of the Presbyterian Church will contest the favorable decision of the presbytery in the case of the Rev. Frank B. Vrooman at the synod in August, and, if necessary, will carry the matter up to the General Assembly, which will convene in May, 1897.

This does not mean that Mr. Vrooman is to be tried for heresy. The action will be simply an appeal from the judgment of a few to that of a larger body, as provided by the polity of the church. The synod corresponds in the church to the Court of Appeal in jurisprudence and the General Assembly to the Supreme Court.

From the outset the trouble about the admission of Mr. Vrooman into the church has been simply a factional fight.

The more liberal clergymen of the faith have contended that, with reasonable restrictions as to matters of belief, it is the part of policy and common sense to admit into the fold men who have an aptitude for practical work. The other faction has taken the ground that it is advisable to insist on an allegiance to the old beliefs.

The significance of the action to be taken, then, is not personal. Mr. Vrooman is only an incident. The appeal is to be regarded as a mere expression for the contending views that everybody knows have existed in the church for years.

One fact seems to point to a pronounced contention in the synod, and that is that the conservatives are in the ascendency in the small towns and country districts, as the liberals are in the large cities. It is thought not unlikely that the decision of the presbytery will be reversed.

The members of the presbytery are rather averse to giving their views on the fight, as they say it is now a mere expression of opinion. The majority of the clergy seem to deplore the step taken by Mr. Bryan, as they say it can do little good, if any, and will have the effect of checking good work.

NEW CHARGES AGAINST DR. BROWN.

Bay Conference Threatens to Suspend the San Francisco Pastor.

Oakland, Cal., April 21.—The Bay Conference of Congregational ministers is displeased at the refusal of the Rev. Dr. C. O. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational Church of San Francisco, to accept the light censure imposed by the council which tried him upon charges of immorality and unministerial conduct. New charges have been preferred against him, and the old complaint will be reopened.

The new allegations say the pastor is untruthful and unfit for the ministry. Incidentally, some members of the council which six weeks ago pronounced Brown innocent of misdoing, now allege belief in his guilt.

The proposition of Dr. Brown's opponents is to pass a vote of suspension fron the ministry until such time as his character shall be cleared.

COMPUTES ORBIT OF SWIFT'S COMET.

Course of Celestial Wanderer Given by Prof. Aitken.

Mount Hamilton, Cal., April 21.—Swift's new comet was observed at Lick Observatory on April 16, 17, and 19 by Profs. Hussey and Aitken. From these observations Prof. Aitken has computed an orbit, which shows the following elements:

Time of perihelion April 17, 79 Greenwich mean time; longitude of perihelion, 180° 12'; longitude of node, 177° 58'; inclination, 56°; perihelion distance, .5645 (about 50,000,000 miles).

The brightness today was 20 per cent greater than at discovery, but it will decrease after this. The comet having passed perihelion is now receding from the sun. It is almost visible to the naked eye in the northwest after sunset.

The advantage of a policeman over a burglar is that the officer has the law on his side. Health has the same advantage over disease. The Law of Nature is for people to be healthy. When they are sick, Nature helps to cure them. Nature's law is the guide for curing sick people. There is no way but Nature's way. What the doctors call many different diseases Nature cures in one way; by nourishing the whole body with good, pure, rich, red blood. That is Nature's way of curing scrofula, erysipelas, kidney and "liver complaint," consumption and every form of eruptive and wasting disease. When you want to help Nature with medicine the medicine must work the same way as Nature works, then it has the laws of Nature on its side to make it powerful. That is the secret of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery's wonderful cures. It assists Nature according to her own laws; it is on Nature's side and Nature helps it; it imparts new power to the nutritive and blood making organs to create a large quantity of fresh, red, healthy blood which drives every germ of disease out of the system and builds up strong healthy tissues and solid flesh. The "Discovery" completely clears away every form of blood-disease from the system; It even cures consumption. It is the only true radical cure for that disease; facts and testimony to prove it.

"I would like to tell the whole world what your 'Golden Medical Discovery' has done for me. The doctor, who is considered an expert on lung troubles, told me I had consumption. He said both my lungs were diseased and I could not live long. I felt down-hearted for I have dear little children to live for. I just went to him to get his opinion. I am glad I did for now I know what your medicine will do. When I started on the second bottle I was better in every way and was able to take a walk on every fine day. I enjoyed my sleep, my appetite was good, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I began to feel like a new woman. I still had a cough, so I got a third bottle and by the time it was half gone I was completely cured."

C. H. M'CORMICK BUYS REAL ESTATE.

Pays $555,000 for Three Lots at the Corner of Fifth Avenue and Adams Street.

Cyrus H. McCormick bought yesterday of John McConnell, Benjamin F. McConnell, the estate of George McConnell, and Mrs. Theodore A. Kochs, property at the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Adams street for $555,000. The sale was negotiated by J. C. Fleming.

Three pieces of property are included in the purchase of Mr. McCormick, as follows: The lot on the corner, 68x90 feet, with a small projection on the east 4x20 feet, was sold by John McConnell for $325,000. This property contains 6,282 square feet, making the consideration $51.73 a square foot. The adjoining property in Adams street, 45x110 feet, was sold by B. F. McConnell and the estate of George McConnell for a consideration of $185,000, or $36.83 a square foot. The land sold by Mrs. Theodore A. Kochs adjoins the John McConnell property in Fifth avenue. It is 20x64 feet. The consideration in this instance is $45,000, or $35 a square foot. The improvements on the various properties in the transaction are not in a condition to be remodeled to advantage and were not considered of any value in the purchase.

The property bought by Mr. McCormick was sold to the father of the present owners in 1836 for $1,000.

The sale is one of the largest made in that locality for many months, and is one of the largest down-town sales made this year.

RUSHING WORK IN PEARL BRYAN CASE.

Jury Secured and Testimony of Two Witnesses Against Scott Jackson Taken the First Day.

Newport, Ky., April 21.—Scott Jackson was placed on trial today for the murder of Pearl Bryan. The jury was quickly secured and the taking of evidence began at once. Nearly all of the jurymen are mechanics, and all are of foreign descent. There is not a native born Kentuckian in the lot.

There were throngs of people in the street curious to see Jackson, but no excitement other than that of curiosity.

The court-room was crowded early by persons admitted on tickets. There were thirty-six seats reserved within the bar for the press and every one was filled. Five women were in the audience.

The first witness called was John Huling, the boy that found the dead body of Pearl Bryan on Feb. 1.

The second witness was Dr. W. S. Tingley, who saw the body two hours after its discovery. He said the girl must have been killed where the body was found and not earlier than the midnight before, and the hand that wielded the knife was a skilled one.

Judge Helm aided in cross-examining the witness. The defense objected and was overruled and took exceptions.

Jackson was calm all day and took notes of the proceedings, especially of the testimony.

INDIANIANS TRAVEL ON HAND CARS.

Novel Transportation Facilities of the Chicago and Southeastern.

Anderson, Ind., April 21.—[Special.]—Wires have been kept hot today between the general offices of the Chicago and Southeastern railway here and General Manager Crawford at Chicago. Employés who had quit work because they could not get time checks cashed are returning to work, but signs for more trouble are still quite distinct. The Crawfords are much censured for the wretched service of the road. Today their best passenger train broke down five miles out and passengers were brought back here on handcars.

DID NOT KNOW WHAT TO DO.

That Was the Reason of Such a Signal Defeat.

St. Louis, Mo., April 21.—[Special.]—Thirteen men pulled on white stockings this afternoon and proceeded to prove the number has a baleful influence by gracefully taking a trouncing from the Von der Ahe pigmies. They were outbatted and outfielded. When they got the ball in their hands they knew what to do with it, and that is something some of the Chicagos did not know. The score was 7 to 3 and the hits eleven for the winners and five for the losers.

For seven innings Griffith, Chicago's star pitcher of last year, threw the ball effectively, but in the eighth he was found by the locals and four runs were made. That clinched the game, which was a tie at the end of the seventh. Three out of four was what Chicago wanted when it landed at this end of the bridge, but it would not be surprising if the figures were reversed at the end of play on Thursday evening.

Since the second game at Louisville the Chicagos have done no hitting. In one game the umpire prevented it by calling strikes when he should have said balls. In the next Breitenstein exercised too much ingenuity, and today a young man named Hart put the secret of his delivery behind a time-lock and kept it there for nine long innings, two of which were extremely disheartning. In the St. Louis games the fielding has been ragged, ill-luck aiding in the general disaster by making every misplay a costly one.

Club Playing Poor Ball.

The club is not playing the ball it is capable of, but it is so early in the season the Chicago fans need not lose heart. Not counting one bad decision, which of course was in favor of the home team, Sheridan was satisfactory as an umpire, and he did nothing to change the result. Decker played with a thumb as stiff as a board and swelled twice its natural size, but he took care of everything that came his way and made a three-bagger, which was productive of a run. Arlie Latham's catches of hot drives over third and short flies across the foul line were the fielding features of the day.

Dahlen distinguished himself in the same manner for Chicago. One of the Chicago left-handed men, either Thornton or Friend, will probably go in the pitcher's box tomorrow, though Briggs may be given a chance to make his National League début. The first and second innings were played without the chalking of runs on the blackboard, but in the third Chicago began operations, and the St. Louis rooters began to hedge on their bets. Kittridge hit to Latham, who fumbled and threw wide, leaving the white-stockinged catcher safe on first. Everitt sacrificed with a little bunt to the pitcher, and Dahlen knocked a fly. Lange put a scorcher through the shortstop, and Kittridge scored. Lange stole second and third, a difficult feat against McFarland, but was left there when Truby knocked a weak one and was out at first, Ryan having in the meantime taken his base on balls.

St. Louis Evens Things Up.

But St. Louis more than evened things up. Griffith couldn't see the plate and Cross trotted to Decker's bag. Hart tried to sacrifice but struck a bounder to the pitcher, affording an easy chance for a double. Instead of sending the base runners to the bench Truby muffed the ball and all hands were safe, with Cross on third. Latham hit between third and the shortstop and Cross came in, tying the score. Hart was caught at third trying to steal and Latham ran down to second. Dowd made a beautiful drive into right field for a base and stole second, and when Cooley came along with another single followed Latham to the plate. Connor gave Lange a chance for a put out and ended an inning which should have been a goose egg.

Nothing daunted, Decker in the next inning hit for three bases, and Griffith brought him to the rubber with a long fly caught in right field. The score was tied in the seventh. Flynn, who had made a three-bagger in the second inning and could get no farther, made a single and was sacrificed to second by Griffith. Kittridge struck out, and Everitt hit to center field, Flynn bringing in his run. Dahlen also made a hit in this inning, but with two men on bases Lange was the third out on a fly to right. Sharp fielding by the White Stockings prevented the St. Louis Brownies from scoring in their half of the seventh, but in the eighth woe fell upon the Chicagos.

Woe to the Chicagos.

Dowd and the umpire began it. The little center fielder put a grounder just to the left of the second base, Dahlen picking it up while running at full speed. He had no time to stop for a perfect throw and snapped the ball down to Decker. It went a little wide and low, but the rangy first baseman reached out and caught it two inches from the ground. The runner was caught by eight feet, but the umpire said "safe." Everybody jabbered at Sheridan, who threatened to fine all concerned and didn't, and the game went on. Cooley hit over second base and Quinn, who has made only one hit this season—a home run on Sunday—bunted, and Dowd was caught at third.

Then Roger Connor placed a pretty liner over second base, Cooley running home. Niland hit past third, Quinn coming in. McFarland batted a grounder into Truby's hands and the latter waited just long enough to let Connor come in while he was throwing to Kittridge. There was time to catch the man either at home or first base. Then Cross added to the agony by bringing Niland home with a single. Hart did the unexpected by hitting safely and the bases were full, with Arlie Latham at bat. After receiving advice from everybody on the grounds he hit to Everitt and McFarland was forced at the plate. Two were out and three men on bases when Dowd struck out. The score:

PHILLIES WIN FROM NEW YORK.

Tiernan Gets Base on Balls and Makes Giants' Only Run.

New York, April 21.—The New Yorks opened the season on their own grounds this afternoon with the Philadelphias. The Phillies took the lead in the first inning and held it to the end. The visitors scored two runs in that inning on singles by Delehanty, Thompson, and Brouthers, and an out by Boyle. The New Yorks scored their only run in the second inning on Tiernan's base on balls and Stafford's two-base hit. The Phillies scored their other run in the eighth inning on McGill's single, Sullivan's double, and Clark's wild pitch. Both pitchers did good work. Attendance, 12,000. Score:

PITTSBURG IS GIVEN A CONTEST.

Louisville Team Plays Great Ball, but O'Brien Talks Too Much.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 21.—Pittsburg opened the ball season here with Louisville before a crowd of 9,000 people. The home team won out in the ninth inning when Hawley knocked a three-bagger, which the visitors claim was a foul. The feature of the game was the splendid work of Hill, Louisville's young phenomenon. The visitors were weakened materially when in the fourth inning the umpire put O'Brien out of the game for disputing decisions. Score:

SLUGGING CONTEST IS EXCITING.

Washington Defeats Brooklyn in a Good Game.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Today's game between Brooklyn and Washington was one of the most exciting ever contested in this city. The pitching was not of a first-class order on either side, but this only served to make possible brilliant fielding and speedy base-running. Washington won out in the eighth on five hits, a fumble by Daly, and a steal home from second by Brown. Selbach's fielding was exceptionally good. Attendance, 5,100. Score:

BOSTON NO MATCH FOR BALTIMORE.

Orioles Bat the Ball Whenever They Please and Win Easily.

Baltimore, Md., April 21.—Several times during the game today it looked as though the Bean-eaters had an excellent chance, but luck, backed up by Hoffer's steadiness when bases were full, seemed to be with the home team. Yerrick, in the box for Boston, was wild in the first half of the game, but towards the end settled down. The features of the game were the heavy batting of Baltimore and a wonderful juggling catch by Reitz. Attendance, 4,700.

New League to Be Formed.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 21.—There is a movement to organize a new baseball league. The Evansville people started it. It is to form a league with Terre Haute, Evansville, Nashville, Little Rock, Memphis, Chattanooga. An eight-club circuit could be formed with Knoxville and Lexington. All are good ball towns and the salary limit is to be $100 a month. It is the intention to hold a meeting in Nashville this week and if the league is formed the season will begin May 15.

Michigan League Is Dead.

Lansing, Mich., April 21.—[Special.]—The Michigan Baseball League gave up the ghost tonight owing to the inability of Lansing to procure suitable grounds.

REDSKIN A GOOD THING.

WINS THE HANDICAP AT FORSYTH IN A COMMON CANTER.

Simmons Is Beaten for the Place by Ashland, the Latter Showing Much Improvement Over Previous Form—Floreanna Refuses to Face the Machine and the Flag Has to Be Used—Evanatus, at 12 to 1, the Only Long Shot to Win.

The feature of the racing at Forsyth yesterday was the six and a half furlong handicap, which was won by Coulter's crack horse Redskin, in Indiana record time. Redskin was a hot 1 to 2 favorite, and, although third at the head of the stretch, won in a common gallop by two lengths.

Simmons was a 4 to 1 second choice pick, but finished third to Ashland, a 20 to 1 shot, by the same distance. The latter showed a wonderful turn of speed, as compared with his race on the preceding day, much to the surprise of the students of form. Simmons attempted to make a runaway race of it in going for the first turn, but only succeeded in gaining a half lap on Ashland, who hung on like a leech. They raced head and head to the head of the stretch, where Redskin came through with a rush. Simmons tired badly in the run home, as did every horse behind him.

Floreanna Is Old-Fashioned.

The starting machine was used successfully in each event, excepting the handicap, in which Floreanna refused to face the rubber, compelling Dwyer to send the field on the journey in the old-fashioned way. The track, while not as fast as before Monday's deluge struck it, was in good shape, having dried out fast. It was thoroughly raked over between races, and the rolling it received last night with the one to be given it this morning ought to bring it up to last Saturday's standing.

The talent was more fortunate in selecting the right ones than on Monday and got its money down hard on four winning favorites. Evanatus, at 12 to 1, was the only long shot to win, the other outsider to capture a race being Bridget at 5 to 1. The latter and Helen H. Gardener, winner of the first race, were bid up $300 over their entered price and retained by their respective owners. Fifteen bookmakers, including the two field books, attended to the wants of the speculators.

Helen H. Gardener, an equal 2 to 1 favorite with Balvour, the latter being backed down from 8 to 1, won the initial event in a walk, six lengths separating her and Willie Shannon, which ran second. Newhouse, ridden by Caywood, his first mount since his New Orleans accident, finished third. Cherryflame, also at 2 to 1, assumed the lead in the 2-year-old maiden race and experienced no difficulty in winning by two lengths. Provident ran second and Mrs. Murray third. Roslyn was a strong 8 to 5 favorite for the third, and, although he ran a game and true race, was beaten by Bridget. May Ashley finished a good third.

Evanatus Upsets Calculations.

The surprise of the day presented itself in the mile selling race. Eloroy, backed from 8 to 5 down to 4 to 5, and Fusileer, at 5 to 2, carried all the money. Evanatus, who opened at 4 and receded to 12 to 1, upset the good things by passing the stand two lengths before Fusileer, who was forced to extend himself to take second money from Semele by a head. The final event went to Uncas, the 2 to 1 favorite, with Republic second and Teeta May third. The summaries:

First race, ¾ mile, selling—W. H. Roller's b. f. Helen H. Gardner, by Fordham—Virgie Wright, 103 pounds [P. Clay], 2 to 1, won; Willie Shannon, 103 [Field], 12 to 1, second; Newhouse, 108 [Caywood], 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:21. Belvour, Woodlake, Beatrice Mara, Ferryman II., Redwood, and Paskola also ran.

Second race, 9-16 mile—R. Fitzgerald's b. f. Cherryflame, by Iroquois—Hattie S., 115 pounds [Garner], 2 to 1, won; Provident, 112 [Caywood], 4 to 1, second; Mrs. Murray, 103 [Hyle], 12 to 1, third. Time, :59¼. Calla Lilly, The Galley Slave, and Coin also ran.

FAVORITES WIN ALL BUT ONE RACE.

Thorpe Does Some Good Riding at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., April 21.—Favorites won all the races but the last one, which was handily won by Jock O'Sot, thanks to Thorpe's riding. Thorpe also won two other races. In the Memphis Club Handicap the horses finished as the betting indicated. Loki, a fine 3-year-old, was a trifle short, but finished a good third at that. He will be dangerous in almost any company after this.

The opening dash afforded the first five furlongs race of the season for 2-year-olds, and Bill Brien's Storm King was never fully extended. There was not a close finish during the afternoon, and outside of the handicap the fields were made up of common platers throughout. The summaries:

First race, ⅝ mile—Storm King, 103 pounds [Barrett], 7 to 10, won easily; Lincoln, 102 [Thorpe], 5 to 1, second; Jolly Son, 103 [T. Murphy], 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:04¾. Elyria and Worry Not also ran. Lincoln even place.

Results at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Cal., April 21.—Wag furnished the feature of the day's racing at Bay District. In the preliminary before the hurdle race the nag rose to the fence of the course and landed squarely across the top rail. He was balanced there 20 minutes, kicking and striking, and finally exhausted, was boosted off by the crowd. When Tar and Tartar at 10 to 1 went out and beat the heavily backed cracks, Nephew and Trix, there was a howl from the spectators. The summaries:

'VARSITY TEAM HAS NO EASY TIME.

Rush Medics Give It a Hot Contest on Marshall Field.

The budding young doctors from Rush Medical College met defeat yesterday afternoon on Marshall Field at the hands of Capt. Abell's ambitious team of ball-tossers. Eight to five was the score by which the Midway boys triumphed in a most interesting and hotly contested game.

'Varsity's men did not all play in their regular positions which, in part, accounts for the closeness of the score. Brown played first base in place of Capt. Abells, who is suffering from a sprained finger. G. Clarke was given some practice at second and Adkinson went to center. Pike and H. Clarke divided the duties of right field between them. Nichols, for 'Varsity, pitched the best game seen on Marshall Field this season. Only six hits were made off his delivery, ten men struck out, while only three were allowed bases on balls.

Brown again carried off the batting honors of the day with a triple, a double, and a single to his credit. G. Clark came next with a double and a single. Both men were new in their field positions and filled them admirably. Blake, for the Medics, did some very effective pitching at times, but that more runs were not scored by 'Varsity is owing largely to miserable coaching. Men were lured from their bases by the seductive tones of a mistaken coacher only to be thrown out at inopportune times. Umpire Duncan came in for considerable roasting from the grand stand, but his mistakes were so impartially distributed as to cause little emnity.

'Varsity scored the first run in the first inning and the Medics none. In the next two innings Rush scored three while 'Varsity faled to score, even Brown's three-bagger accomplishing nothing. In the fourth inning two two-baggers by Brown and G. Clark netted a run and in the fifth Pike's beautiful three-base hit and an error by Brown tied the score at 3 to 3. Neither side scored in the next inning, but in the seventh Blake let down and 'Varsity had fun for a few minutes. Brown and the two Clarkes made hits and Adkinson made a long drive to center for a home run. These, together with a couple of errors, let in five runs, ending the scoring for 'Varsity. Rush got in two more in the eighth, but could not overcome the lead. The score:

OAK PARK AND WEST DIVISION.

First Inter-High School Game to Be Played Today.

The Oak Park and West Division High Schools will play the first inter-high school game of the season today at the Oak Park club field, corner Clinton avenue and Madison street, Oak Park. Both schools have good teams, and a close game is expected.

West Division has been coached by Terry of the Chicago League team, and he has made a fine pitcher out of Allen. The rest of the team are nearly all experienced players, and they expect to win not only this game, but to capture the High School League pennant. They secured third place last year. Rogers, who pitched last season, is still in school, but, as he is not to pitch this season—Allen being considered better—their great strength in the box is shown.

Oak Park has never been in the High School Baseball League before, but they thought they could find enough good players to warrant taking the action this year. James Riepnides, who was elected Captain by last year's team for this season, resigned last week. Raymond Baldwin, '97, was elected temporary Captain by the members of the team to fill his place, but the athletic association has not yet chosen a permanent Captain for the rest of the season.

Seven of the West Division team are red headed. They think if such a "Jonah" as this will not pull them through nothing will. Six of the Oak-Parkers have light colored top-knots, and they think that circumstance fully as fortunate as the peculiar coincidence on the West Division team. The make-up of the teams will be as follows:

Oak Park.	Position.	West Division.
Johnson	Catcher	Rothe
Matteson or Volk	Pitcher	Allen
Hyman	First base	Ferguson
Baldwin	Second base	Midgley
Steele	Shortstop	McIntosh
Haven	Third base	Jackson
Ball	Center field	Wallace
Heidemann	Right field	Ahrens or Hoffman

NEWS OF THE CYCLISTS.

TAKING UP OF HAMMETT'S CASE CAUSES MUCH TALK.

Prospective Contestants in Decoration Day Road Race Are Very Much Stirred Up Over the Fact the Prize Has Not Been Given to the Winner—Hammett Will Be Provided For and There Is No Reason Why Any One Should Feel Uneasy.

The case of Edwin Hammett Jr. of Wheaton, Ill., brought up last night before the meeting of the Associated Cycling Clubs, has considerably stirred up the prospective contestants in the Decoration day road race, who feel some steps should be made to guarantee them the prizes they win. This the Prize committee is busy providing for, and in the meantime another delegation is at work to see that Hammett gets his long delayed prize.

Hammett's case is not likely to occur again. He rode in the Chicago road race of last year and won fourth prize for place. In course of time he selected a Czar wheel, and was given an order for it on the E. B. Preston company. This order had been donated to the Associated Cycling Clubs about two weeks before the race, and was signed by Manager Slosson of the company. Hammett presented his order about four weeks after the road race, but in the meantime E. B. Preston had died and his estate was in the Probate Court. A new manager was in power, and he refused to honor the order. The matter was finally dropped after some discussion and the prize was never awarded.

Yesterday E. S. Marcus, Chairman of the committee which was appointed to help Hammett get his prize, was confident the Preston company would give the wheel as soon as the matter was correctly represented to them. He thought it unfortunate any such delay had ever occurred, and was sure Hammett would get a wheel even if the Associated Cycling Clubs had to pay for it.

Bankers' Athletic Club Jubilant.

The cyclists of the Bankers' Athletic club were jubilant yesterday over the admission of their organization to the Associated Cycling Clubs. The method by which it was accomplished is as follows:

When the Bankers' Athletic club first applied for admission to the governing body of the city's wheelmen, the name under which they sought to join was given as the "Cycling Corps of the Bankers' Athletic club." Their membership in consequence was practically the membership of the whole club, they had no officers or location separate from the club, and, in fact, they were practically the same as the Bankers' Athletic club. Their admission to the Associated Cycling Clubs would have entitled them to have five delegates present at meetings, and besides would have established a dangerous precedent in the admission of athletic bodies.

Another feature in the case was the adoption by the bankers' organization of the double triangle, which has long been the emblem of the Englewood wheelmen. This had prejudiced the latter body against them, and the Englewood delegates did not hesitate to express their opinion when the first application of the Bankers' club came up for action.

All Objections Are Overcome.

All these objections were finally overcome. The new name adopted is the Bankers' Athletic Cycling club. Officers have been elected and the membership limited to the bankers who ride wheels. Of these latter there are about 225, allowing only two delegates to the meetings of the Associated Cycling Clubs. The emblem has also been satisfactorily arranged with the Englewood wheelmen.

The revision of the constitution and by-laws of the Associated Cycling Clubs has been made by the committee, submitted, and will be voted on at the next meeting of the association. The changes are neither radical nor numerous.

Chief among them is the rigid rule that no club or club member, belonging to the association, is to sanction Sunday racing.

This has always been the policy of the association, but until now has existed only as a resolution.

The committee also advises that the membership of clubs eligible to admission into the association be changed from twenty-five to 100.

The new constitution also declares one of the main objects of the Associated Cycling Clubs is to aid in the improvement of public streets.

Entry Blanks Ready for Distribution.

Entry blanks for the road race will be ready for distribution Thursday. They will contain a complete set of rules governing the race and a map of the course.

The Chairman of the Race committee has requested the intended participants in the race to make their entries through the Captain or Secretaries of the clubs to which they belong.

General Passenger and Ticket Agent Pond of the Wisconsin Central was in Chicago yesterday and conferred with Chairman John Simon of the Decoration Day Road Race committee. The guarantee of $100 was placed in the hands of the local passenger agent. Transportation arrangements were completed and the advocates of the Wheeling course breathe easily once more.

In order to extend its membership the Illinois division of the L. A. W. has offered a combination bicycle lock for a club of five new members.

Meeting of South Side Clubs.

A meeting of the South Side cycling clubs interested in the Parkside race track will be held on Thursday night at the Chicago Cycling club-house.

Further plans for the improvement of the track will be discussed.

Otto Ziegler stopped yesterday in Chicago on his way from the coast to Louisville, where he will join the record breakers already in training on the Fountain Ferry Park track.

WEST SIDE ASSOCIATION FORMED.

Various Clubs Meet at Y. M. C. A. and Elect Officers.

In lawn tennis matters the West Side proposes to ultimately take an equal footing with the North and South Sides. With this end in view delgates from the prominent West Side clubs met last night at the Y. M. C. A. Building and formed an association.

The new body will join the Western Lawn Tennis Association, will enter its best players in the Western tournament, will arrange for a West Side championship event, and generally take charge of tennis matters in that part of the city. The following clubs were represented at the meeting:

Mohican, Octagon, West Side Y. M. C. A., Phœnix, Washington boulevard, Irving avenue, Jackson boulevard, Jefferson Park, Monroe street.

The meeting was called to order by John T. Bailey, who explained its object. G. J. Perret was elected Temporary Chairman and P. H. Davenport Temporary Secretary. It was decided to call the new body the West Side Lawn Tennis Association. The following officers were elected for the first year:

President—John T. Bailey.
Vice-President—H. S. Webb.
Secretary—C. N. Beard.
Treasurer—W. H. Vanzwoll.

The Executive committee will consist of the officers and one delegate from each of the clubs joining the new organization. A committee consisting of John T. Bailey, Frank Tracy, and F. K. Kauffman was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws to be submitted to the first meeting of the Executive committee.

In order to make the new association a representative West Side organization it was decided to offer every inducement to the numerous clubs to join. The membership fee for each body was put at $1, and the Secretary, C. N. Beard of No. 1306 Wilcox avenue, was empowered to receive applications from all West Side clubs for admission to the association. The first meeting of the Executive committee will take place as soon as the delegates are appointed by the various clubs and the constitution is prepared.

The West Side is coming rapidly to the front in tennis matters. Last year, for the first time, a championship tournament was held, and the discussion which then arose was the first cause of the association formed last night. During last season a number of excellent players were developed, and this year it is proposed to enter them in the Western championship events. The result of the coming summer's work will undoubtedly be to bring the West Side into the position in city tennis affairs to which its size and large number of players entitles it.

GENERAL ATHLÆTICS DISCUSSED.

Meeting of the C. A. A. Is Held and Entry List Is Prepared.

A meeting was held at the Chicago Athletic Association club-house yesterday afternoon and general athletics for the summer were discussed.

Entries have been received for the boxing tournament April 25. The list will be compiled and ready for publication tomorrow.

SMALL NUMBER MEMBERS PRESENT.

Chicago Yacht Club Holds Its First Meeting in New Quarters.

A meeting of the Chicago Yacht club, at which thirteen members were present, was held last night in the club's rooms, at No. 119 La Salle street, for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. Commodore Paulsen presided, with J. Sherman Root Secretary.

Commodore Paulsen presented the following names for election to membership in the club:

Frank H. Trego,
G. Roy Bullen,
Miller Rundell,
George R. Peare,
Josh Ramsdell,
William Hindshaw,
John Denny,
Theodore Price,
Charles E. Allen,
E. J. Johnson,
William R. Toppan,
Allen Lester Fowler,
G. A. Coffin,
W. J. McConnell,
Andre Bowles,
Marshall Brown,
Julius P. Meyer,
W. N. Treleaven,
John B. Brady,
F. M. Higgie.

All were unanimously elected. The list of newly-elected members contains the names of several owners of big yachts, including the Vixen, Valient, Siren, Skate, and some other smart ones, making the total number of vessels owned by members of the Chicago Yacht club eleven in all, of which the following four are steam: Catherine C., Geraldine C., Lady M., and Hattie Bradwell.

Owing to the large number of new members elected and there being but few old ones present at the meeting last night, it was decided that the election of officers for 1896 be postponed until the new members could be present and have a chance to vote. Accordingly Commodore Paulsen proposed that an old fashioned house-warming be held in the club's rooms Saturday evening, May 2, and that all yachtsmen and persons interested in yachting be invited to come and bring their friends. The proposal was agreed upon and at the meeting on the date named the officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Commodore Paulsen also proposes on that evening to have a spread for the members and their guests and says the club-rooms by that time will be entirely furnished and the members may come and play cards, loaf, smoke, read, and enjoy themselves in any way.

ELECTION IN MANY TOWNS

WARM TIMES AT THE POLLS IN SEVERAL OF THE SUBURBS.

Five New Aldermen Chosen at Evanston, "Billy" Norkett Being Beaten in the South Ward by Mason B. Loomis—John J. Bryant of the Board of Trade Made President at Riverside and McCarthy Is Reëlected in Lemont.

Mayor McCarthy of Lemont has received his coveted "vindication" at the hands of his constituents, he and his henchmen being returned to office for another year.

McCarthy defeated F. W. Welch for President of the Village Board by a vote of 423 to 347. It wasn't much of a victory, as he received a majority of only seventy-six votes, where a year ago no candidate would oppose him, but it was sufficient to return him to office with its many dignities and perquisites, and that was what he wanted.

To add to his discomfiture it is more than likely his election will be contested, as his opponents claim he imported 100 negroes from Sag and other neighboring towns to vote for their idol. The majority of the stone companies' employés voted against McCarthy.

Though it resulted in a nominal victory, it was not a happy election day for McCarthy and his cohorts. It showed too plainly the old days of misrule and despotism were gone for good, for it was the quietest village election held in Lemont in years. Smoky Row was in eclipse, and its numberless inhabitants, who on former similar occasions were wont to swarm about the polling places to insure their leader's election, and to terrorize the respectable element, were missing.

Not a fight of any importance occurred during the day. A zealous challenger, who so far forgot tradition as to challenge the votes of some of McCarthy's supporters, was thrown out of the polling place in the village hall, but nothing else occurred to show "McCarthy was up for office."

For the first time in several years two tickets were in the field. One was McCarthy's Citizens' ticket and the other was the ticket of the People's party, headed by Frank W. Welch, candidate for President of the village. The remainder of the two tickets was made up as follows: Village Clerk—Citizens' ticket, William Cafferty; People's, Peter Duffy. Trustees—Citizens' ticket, Michael S. New, Peter Peiffer, John Potwatisz; People's ticket, George S. Losey, John B. Wagner, and K. Boszkiewicz.

The entire Citizens' ticket, with the exception of Potwatisz, was elected. The fortunate candidate on the People's party was John B. Wagner, who owes his election to the German vote of the village and the unpopularity of the Pole among his countrymen.

FIVE NEW COUNCILMEN IN EVANSTON

"Billy" Norkett Defeated in Fourth Ward by Loomis.

Evanston held its city election yesterday. Five new Aldermen were chosen, there being no change in several wards where the old Aldermen were up for reëlection. In the First Ward D. A. Mudge received 398 votes, there being no opposition to his election to fill the unexpired term of R. B. McMullen, resigned. In the contest between A. L. Currey and Phil R. Shumway, the former received 224 votes, a majority of 48.

In the Second Ward J. W. Donnell received 116 votes, there being no opposition. Donnell will be a new man in the Council. He is a member of the firm of Deane & Co. of Wabash avenue, Chicago, and is a prominent member of the Evanston club and Evanston Boat club.

In the Third Ward there was no opposition to the reëlection of George Rhodes, who received 83 votes.

The biggest contest was in the Fourth Ward. Judge Mason B. Loomis got the place, retiring William Norkett, who has been Alderman from the Fourth ever since Evanston was organized as a city. The vote was, M. B. Loomis, 178; William G. Norkett, 137; Joseph Petrie, 98; plurality for Loomis, 41.

In the Fifth Ward the contest was between C. A. Wightman and G. W. Paulin, the former getting a vote of 152, a majority of 25. In the Sixth E. J. Dahms pulled out 225, against J. C. Williams' 177, and thereby getting a seat in the Council by a majority of 48.

Joseph McCallum had no opposition in the Seventh, and 118 votes were cast to his credit.

The new Council members are D. A. Mudge, Judge Mason B. Loomis, James Donnell, C. A. Wightman, and Arthur L. Currey.

CONTESTS AND TIES AT RIVERSIDE.

John J. Bryant Elected President of the Village.

An odd state of affairs developed at the conclusion of the election of village officers at Riverside.

The count showed that an equal number of votes had been cast for Charles D. Sherman and Lyman J. Amsden, candidates for Village Clerk, and Robert Somerville and Daniel E. Richardson, citizens' and independent candidates respectively for Village Trustees. This result will necessitate a special election.

Two tickets, one calling itself the independent, and another the regular citizens', fought hard and bitterly for supremacy. The independent ticket was headed by Thomas T. Morford for Village President. This ticket opposed the franchise which has been granted the Suburban Electric road, and indorsed the construction of the Ogden Electric road to Riverside. The question whether Riverside should give the Suburban road or the Ogden precedence has caused no end of dissension in the village and the result was the two tickets which were put up.

The votes cast were as follows: For President: John J. Bryant, 159; Thomas T. Morford, 149. For Trustees: Edward H. Story, 142; Edward P. Ripley, 157; Robert Somerville, 145; D. E. Richardson, 145; George Chambers, 161; C. O. Gregg, 128. For Clerk: Charles D. Sherman, 155; L. J. Amsden, 155. Bryant, Story, Somerville, Chambers, and Sherman were on the regular Citizens' ticket, the others on the Independent.

DRY TICKET ELECTED IN HARVEY.

Bonds Voted for New City Hall and Annexation Project Defeated.

The "drys" won a decisive victory in the Aldermanic contest yesterday at Harvey, electing all four of their candidates. The vote was heavy. The Aldermen-elect are:

First Ward—Harvey D. Sweeney.
Second Ward—Albert Waite.
Third Ward—Clark W. Ranger.
Fourth Ward—Wilford Jones.

F. A. Harris was elected Police Magistrate. The proposition to issue $8,000 worth of bonds for a new City Hall was carried. The proposition to annex North Harvey was beaten.

ELECTIONS IN SMALLER TOWNS.

Suburbs North, South, and West Express Preferences at Polls.

There were lively times yesterday in many of the little villages beyond the city limits, elections for officers of various grades being held in some, and in others a ballot taken to determine other questions submitted to the public. These resulted as follows:

Honors Even in Wilmette.

Wilmette—The election was one of the hottest ever held in any of the north shore towns. There were two factions, the Equal Rights party and Citizens' party, the first being in favor of street improvements as a means of building up the town. The Equal Rights party got the village President and Clerk and the Citizens' party the Treasurer and three Trustees. The successful candidates were: President, Horace G. Drury; Clerk, Edward P. Fatch; Treasurer, Henry B. Gates; Trustees, Samuel S. Dingee, Rufus L. Kirk, and George W. Springer.

Chicago Heights Is Republican.

Chicago Heights—A straight Republican ticket carried the day, the following being elected: President, George C. Flanner; Trustees, W. E. Canedy, P. T. Large, David Wallace; Clerk, T. F. Jirtie. Last year the village was largely Democratic; this year it gives a Republican majority of 145. Out of a total population of 2,700 there were 635 votes cast, which is practically every vote in the place.

Citizens Victorious in Riverdale.

Riverdale—For the first time an opposition ticket to the Citizens' was in the field. It was badly beaten. The successful candidates are: President, Peter Kipley; Clerk, F. R. Baker; Trustees, John Dickelman, Gustav A. Schmidt, Richard Todd, Fred Bellin. The Trustees and Clerk Baker are Republicans.

"Regulars" Win at La Grange.

La Grange—The "Regular" ticket was victorious at La Grange, the "Citizens'," which it was thought would win, being beaten by the labor vote. City Clerk Hurd had no opposition. The victors: President, Henry Werno; Clerk, A. H. Hurd; Trustees, John T. Allison, Ferdinand Hall, Lilburn W. Slocum.

Only One Contest in Highland Park.

Highland Park—Vote was light, as there were only five candidates for four positions. Cropley G. Phillips defeated F. W. Sheehan for the short term in the First Ward. Benjamin Fritsch was elected for the long term in the First Ward, John C. Cushman for the Second, and William Obee for the Third. Politics played only a subordinate rôle. Phillips is a Republican.

Grossdale Goes for "People's."

Grossdale—Two tickets were in the field. The President of the board and two Trustees out of the three were elected on the People's ticket. John Hahn, the present Village Clerk, was reëlected on the Citizens' ticket also one Village Trustee. The officers elected were: President, William Buhes; Clerk, John Hahn; Trustees—W. D. Feeley, Frank Gerhardt, Birdt Moore.

Saloons in North Chicago.

North Chicago—The proposition to license saloons was carried.

The Day at Naperville.

Naperville—The election resulted as follows: G. A. Yost [Rep.] elected in the First Ward, no opposition; in the Second and Third Wards party issues were taken, Joseph Bapst [Dem.] was elected over John Ehrhart [Rep.] by 21 votes; in the Third Ward David Plummer [Rep.] defeated Joseph Lauer [Dem.] by 36 votes. The rate on a system of water-works was beaten by a small majority.

Only One Ticket at Downers Grove.

Downers Grove—There was but one ticket in the field. C. V. Carpenter was elected President, C. Mochel, J. W. Hughes, E. Schultz, Trustees, and Bert C. White, Clerk.

Regulars Win in La Grange.

La Grange—Warm contest between secret society nominees on the regular ticket and the People's ticket, supported by the churches. Largest vote ever cast in this village was polled. The entire regular ticket was victorious, as follows: Henry Werno, President; John T. Allison, Ferdinand Hall, L. W. Slocum, Trustees; A. H. Hurd, Clerk.

Result in Grossdale.

Grossdale—The election resulted as follows: William Buhs, President; John A. Hahn, Clerk; W. P. Feelys, F. A. Gerhardt, and J. A. Tomlinson, Trustees.

Exciting at Hinsdale.

Hinsdale—The election was exciting. The regular ticket carried the day by safe majorities. Following are the successful candidates: J. C. F. Merrill, President; Frank Irvine, Clerk; H. C. Dana, C. B. Kimbell, and L. P. Conover, Trustees; and D. H. Preston and C. H. Crossette, Library Trustees.

Every One Votes at Western Springs.

Western Springs—Every one of the 127 voters of the village cast a ballot. The regular ticket with the exception of Trustee Wilson was elected. The new board will be as follows: President, Sylvester P. Blount; Trustees, Horace A. Stocker, Francis W. Nichols, E. O. Hart or H. C. Adcock; Clerk, August Johnson.

People's Victory at West Hammond.

West Hammond—The People's party elected its entire ticket, as follows: President, Adam Stochowicz; Clerk, M. F. Finneran; Trustees, Wladislaw Plasinski, John Sonnenberg, Andew Ziemkowski; Treasurer, Baltus Mak; Constable, Albert Aniszewski.

DUNLOP QUEER BUT NEVER DISHONEST.

Previous Record of Alleged Burden Diamond Thief Well Known from His Boyhood.

[SPECIAL CABLE.]

London, April 21.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the Press Publishing Company, New York World.]—The World correspondent's investigations in London today established the fact that George Dunlop, one of the men charged with the robbery of the Burden diamonds, spoke truly when, on taking service with Mr. Burden, he gave as references the names of Lord Ashtown, Lord Londonderry, the Duke of Portland, and Lord Wolseley as persons with whom he had been in service in this country.

The writer saw the Marquis of Londonderry today at the House of Lords. In answer to a question he said:

"You can say for me that I have no recollection of any servant of that name having been in my house, at least as upper servant. He may have been there in a subordinate capacity, in which case he would have been engaged by my steward, and unless he remained in my service for a long time I might never know his surname. However, I shall make inquiries and let you know the result."

In view of the fact that Lord Londonderry keeps up a palace in town and has three other great houses in the country and in Ireland, employing a vast retinue of servants, his ignorance of the identity of any but the upper servants is quite explicable; but before Lord Londonderry had time to fulfill his courteous promise Mr. Keyner, the steward of Lord Wolseley, Commander-in-Chief of the British Army, was seen at his Lordship's house in Grosvenor Gardens, and he proved to be well acquainted with Dunlop.

"O, yes," said the steward; "it is quite true. He was with all the noblemen whose names he gave, but Lord Wolseley could give you no more information about him than Lord Londonderry did. I engaged him about six years ago in Ireland as footman, and he came to me with a recommendation from Lord Ashtown, in whose service he had previously been. He was then but little more than a boy and was well recommended. In fact, he was thought highly of by the Ashtowns, and one of the ladies of the family, seeing him at Lord Wolseley's, told me that she was very glad he was getting on, as he was a deserving young man. He was under me for a year or so, when he left of his own accord, and I recommended him to Lord Londonderry's steward, but he remained there only a month, I think, when he went into the service of the Duke of Portland, being recommended by Lord Londonderry's steward. He did not remain long there, either, but got a place at Queen's Gate, and after a short stay there went to America."

"What opinion did you form of him?" the correspondent asked.

Mr. Keyner smiled meaningly as he answered:

"Well, I had no actual fault to find with him, nor had any of his other employers, except that he was rather abrupt in his manner and assumed somewhat too independent an attitude; but when I saw his name in the newspaper in connection with this robbery I recognized him at once as our former footman.

"He was a shrewd, smart fellow, but was addicted to gambling.

"He had a trick of pretending to be duller than he was, which often struck me as curious. There seemed to be always something under the surface with him, and some mysterious things that happened while he was with us are now clear to me."

"What were these mysterious things?"

"I would rather not go into particulars," answered the steward, "as it would involve the use or mention of other persons, whose names I don't feel at liberty to use."

"Was his honesty impugned?"

"O, never; but, as I say, this revelation now has made clear some circumstances that attracted my attention from time to time. But I must decline to say anything more on that point, for the reasons I have stated."

"Where did Dunlop originally hail from?"

"His native place is Strabane, in County Tyrone, where his mother, I believe, still lives. He comes of an old plantation family, I think."

"You knew him, then, almost throughout his period of service?"

"Yes; I knew more of him than any one else he worked under. I took an interest in him at first, as he seemed to be a very promising young fellow, with more in him than most servants."

Strabane, whence Dunlop came, is a small town in Ulster, Ireland, in the heart of the Orange district and a few miles from Castle Stewart, Lord Londonderry's Irish residence.

Dunlop is a Presbyterian, and all the families he worked with here, excepting Lord Wolseley's, are also Presbyterians, so that it is plain that his religious beliefs were useful to him in getting engagements.

Increasing interest is being taken in the case here, although the facts herein given have not been published in this country, where he is spoken of as an American.

Big Judgment for Chicago Men.

Macon, Mo., April 21.—Judge Ellison today in revising the referee's findings in the case of Williams, McRichie, Nichols & Williams, contractors of Chicago, against the Santa Fé railroad, rendered a judgment for the contractors, including interest, amounting to $36,786. It will again be appealed to the Supreme Court. The contractors claim there is now over $200,000 due them.

VOTE TAKEN ON LICENSE.

CHIEF FEATURE OF THE ELECTIONS IN ILLINOIS TOWNS.

Issue of Saloon and Anti-Saloon Is Sharply Defined and Hotly Fought in Many Communities with Varying Results—Party Lines Ignored—Reports on the Battle of the Ballots from All Parts of the State—Interesting Incident in Vandalia.

Municipal elections were held in many Illinois cities yesterday, the results of which are given below. Party lines were in many instances ignored, and the fight made solely on the question of license or no-license.

WILL DISPUTE ELECTION IN COURT.

Rival Candidates Get in a Muddle Over an Office.

Vandalia, Ill., April 21.—[Special.]—At the recent election in Bear Grove Township a ballot was cast having pencil marks through each name on the Democratic ticket. The voter, though evidently intending to vote the Republican ticket, failed to comply with the law by placing the cross in the voting circle. Hence the ticket was thrown out. The result showed a tie on Supervisor.

It was decided to settle the matter by lot, Bowles, the Republican candidate, refusing to have anything to do with it. The Town Clerk appointed two persons to draw by lot for each of the men. Elam, Democrat, by his proxy, won, and he was declared elected. Bowles contested and the case was today brought before the County Board, which resulted in Bowles being seated.

The board now stands ten Republicans to eight Democrats. It is understood Elam will carry the case into the courts.

Results in the other towns follow:

Aurora—The license people carried the day by an overwhelming majority.

Batavia—Two license and two no-license Aldermen were elected. Batavia will be no-license.

Bloomington—The following voted for license: Kenney, Weldon, Fairbury, Dewitt, Tremont, Monticello, Maroa. The following for anti-license: Eureka, Elkhart, Mansfield, Stanford, Saybrook.

Braidwood—Republicans elected Hall Marshal and four Aldermen. Democrats elected one Alderman.

Cairo—The municipal contest today was a novel one. In four wards the A. P. A. and Civic Federation indorsed the same candidates and they were elected. In the other wards there was a hot fight between the A. P. A. candidates and the nominees of the federation, each electing one Alderman.

Charleston—The Republicans carried every ward in the city and the Council now stands five Republicans to three Democrats, with a Republican Mayor.

Carthage—Two anti-license Aldermen out of three were elected.

Canton—License people elected their whole ticket, including five Aldermen, except the City Clerk.

Champaign—License carried by 8 majority.

Carlinville—Republican Aldermen were elected in two wards. The Democrats elected their men in the other two wards and the rest of the city ticket.

Danville—The Republicans elected the Police Magistrate, but the Democrats make a gain of two Aldermen.

Dekalb—It was a non-partisan election, the best men being elected in each ward.

Dwight—The temperance ticket was elected by an average of forty-seven votes.

Elgin—The Democrats elected four out of the seven Aldermen.

Galena—The Democrats elected five Aldermen.

Geneva—The election was a victory for the water works by a vote of 221 to 112.

Harvard—The Council will favor license.

Henry—The election resulted in one Alderman in each ward, Democratic.

Joliet—The city election resulted in an almost sweeping Democratic victory, only two Republican Aldermen being elected. The Democratic Aldermen are John M. Langdon, Mathew Harny, Louis A. Raub, Bernard Burke, and John W. Gray. The Republican Aldermen are Atkinson Harris and Henry C. Cullom. The Democrats elected both School Inspectors, Egbert Phelps and Truman Mason. Mr. Phelps is a brother to the ex-Minister to the Court of St. James, while Mr. Cullom is a brother of Senator Shelby Cullom.

Jacksonville—The Republicans were successful in the Third and Fourth Wards. Twice as many women voted today as at any previous election.

Kewanee—The Republicans elected their entire ticket with the exception of one Trustee.

Lexington—For the first time in thirty years Lexington voted for license.

Lewiston—The anti-license party was defeated by majorities of from 60 to 125.

Lincoln—The People's party elected a Police Judge and three Aldermen. The Republicans elected two Aldermen. A tie vote for Alderman in the Fifth Ward.

Marengo—Three no license Aldermen were elected by a large majority.

Morris—There was no opposition to the four Republican Aldermanic candidates.

Monmouth—There were three parties in the field here. License carried by thirty votes.

Nunda—Party lines were ignored, license and water works being the issues. The former carried and the latter was defeated.

Ottawa—The election resulted in a Democratic gain of one Alderman.

Paris—The Republicans elected three Aldermen and the Democrats one.

Peoria—The Democrats elected six out of the seven Aldermen.

Princeton—The license candidate for Marshal, two license, and two anti-license Aldermen are elected. This leaves the Council with a majority for license.

Pittsfield—The entire anti-license ticket was elected by an average majority of 96.

Plano—The new Council is a tie on the license question. This gives the Mayor, a license man, the deciding vote.

Rockford—Six of the seven wards went license today. The next Council will be nine license and five no-license.

Rochelle—Three license and one no-license Aldermen were elected.

St. Charles—The proposition to bond the city for waterworks was defeated by a large majority. Two temperance and one license Aldermen were elected.

Shawneetown—No party issues here. Ridgeway elected a license ticket. Saloons will be open tomorrow for the first time in eight years.

Sycamore—Four Aldermen and a City Clerk were elected on the Citizens' ticket.

Sterling—Three Democratic and two Republican Aldermen were elected.

Waukegan—The Aldermanic election split even, two Democrats and two Republicans being elected, which leaves the Council as before, six Republicans to two Democrats.

Woodstock—The People's ticket, license, won.

LIVELY VOTING IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

Women and Anti-Saloon Carry Many of the Towns.

St. Paul Minn., April 21.—Scattered towns and city elections were held in the two Dakotas today, many places reporting exciting contests. Fargo, N. D., had a warm contest over members of the School Board and elected Mrs. O. J. Delendrecie, a woman well known all over the Northwest, the four men candidates running far behind her vote. Madison, S. D., elected Whitmore, Prohibitionist, Mayor, and as many students of the Normal School voted there is talk of contesting the election. Aberdeen elected a Populist Mayor by 105 majority over the Republican candidate.

At Pierre the law and order candidate had twenty majority over the saloon candidate. Chamberlain elected a Democratic Mayor and a divided ticket otherwise, but the head of the ticket was indorsed by many Republicans. In Vermillion L. T. Sweezey, Populist, was elected Mayor. Albert H. Stites pledged himself to close the gambling houses in Sioux Falls if elected Mayor of that city, and his majority is placed at 89. Hot Springs elected a straight Republican ticket, headed by Maj. Anderson, whose majority was 93. Rapid City has been under Democratic rule for six years, but today the Republicans won a sweeping victory. The new Mayor, V. T. McGillicuddy, was for a number of years Indian Agent at the Pine Ridge Agency.

Edward Hogan and Frank Sculky fought sixteen rounds to a "draw" in Ald. John A. Rogers' saloon, No. 343 West Madison street, for a purse of $200 last night. Ald. Rogers acknowledged that the fight took place in his resort. The police offered no interference.

AMUSEMENTS.

Alexander Salvini's Hamlet met the unqualified approval of an audience enthusiastic enough to make up for its lack of numbers at the Schiller Theater last night. The applause was indiscriminate, even though the presentation merited warm approval.

A Hamlet warm, impulsive, witty, and robust, with his original nature tempered and refined by study until deliberation tripped the feet of action was the conception presented with clearness, force, and art. A Hamlet not mad, but at times driven near to frenzy by the responsibilities thrown upon his unsuspecting shoulders, devoid of melancholy except for the thought of his helplessness in the hands of inexorable fate, was interpreted in a manner which left no doubt of the player's reading.

To this reading of the lines Mr. Salvini brought a person, a voice, and a method in entire compatibility. If anything, he made it too clear. A close following of the first folio gave some familiar phrases a new dress, and the introduction of by-play at the close of the first and second acts permitted another sense of innovation to intrude itself. A tendency to slur the articulation when the speech became rapid was the sole elocutionary fault. But all these were lost sight of in the uniformly strong and sympathetic portrayal of Shakspeare's great protagonist, and Chicago has become the richer for Mr. Salvini's admirable performance.

Only second in importance to the appearance of the star was the début of Mr. John A. Lane as Polonius, a part he assumed in combination with that of the First Gravedigger. This sterling actor added new laurels to the many he has been accorded in Shakspearean rôles. The Ghost of J. M. Francœur, the King of Norman Conniers, and the Queen of Miss Augusta De Forrest earned approbation, while Miss Adelaide Fitz-Allen's Ophelia strengthened with the demands made upon her dramatic resources and turned out an agreeable disappointment.

That Mr. Thomas Keene can assume a character other than that of Richard III. was demonstrated at McVicker's last night, when he and his company presented "Richelieu." The peculiarities of the famous Cardinal were graphically portrayed.

Mr. Keene's powers of facial expression are employed to even better advantage in Richelieu than in Richard III.

Mr. Egleson was an excellent De Mauprat, but Mr. Hennig as Baradas did not make of the character what might be expected.

Miss Boyle Moore, the Julie de Mortimer, ward of the Cardinal, was received with decided favor by the large audience, and at the end of the third, and fourth acts, with Mr. Keene and Mr. Egleson, she was called before the curtain thrice. Tonight "Louis XI." will be given.

Robert Mantell essayed Othello last night at the Columbia before a fair sized audience, which greeted the performance with marked attention. Charlotte Behrens-Mantell was the Desdemona and filled the rôle of the unhappy victim of the Moor's suspicions with excellent grace. Mr. Mark Price was Iago and Mr. T. B. Ringgold presented an acceptable Roderigo.

NEW VERSION OF PEARLS AND SWINE

Stolen Burden Jewels Concealed in a Family Ham.

New York, April 21.—[Special.]—The New York police have reason to feel chagrined over the bungle they made in their efforts to recover the $58,000 worth of Burden jewels stolen on the night of Dec. 27. While the highly illuminated residence was being turned topsy-turvey by the excited police that night the jewels were reposing quietly in the interior of a sugar-cured ham in the Burdens' kitchen. The police at the time regarded the ham as suspicious and scrutinized it carefully, but did not find the gems.

Today the grand jury indicted Ella Stimquist, charged with being an accessory after the crime. Miss Stimquist was a kitchen girl in Mr. Burden's house at the time of the robbery, who was known to be on friendly terms with William Roberts Dunlop, the butler, and William Turner, the footman, who were arrested in London by Inspector Forest of Scotland Yards.

She cut open the ham and placed the jewelry in it. It remained there for two days, when the men went there and took the jewels out and carried them out of the house.

HOPKINS FOR SOUND COIN

WILL SERVE ON HONEST MONEY COMMITTEE IF DESIRED.

Believes Cook County Democrats Will Not Indorse Free Silver if Given a Fair Chance to Express Their Preferences—He Stands for the Primary Election Laws—Finds There Is Much Local Resentment Toward the Machine—His Platform.

John P. Hopkins said yesterday he would serves as a member of the Democratic Committee of One Hundred, organized in the interest of honest primaries and honest money, if it was desired that he should do so. mittee of 100, organized in the interest of honest primaries and honest money, if it was desired that he should do so.

He attended the State committee meeting on Monday, but didn't have an opportunity to make a speech, because the silverites acceded to the request of the hard money men as to the basis of representation in the State convention.

"There is only one issue involved in this campaign so far as the Democrats are concerned," Mr. Hopkins said. "Mr. Hinrichsen and the other ultra free silver leaders wish to commit the party to the support of the proposition of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at 16 to 1 by this government alone, without waiting for the coöperation of other nations. I am unalterably opposed to that proposition, and I do not believe the Democrats of Cook County will indorse it if they are given fair opportunity to express their preferences at the primaries.

"There is a great deal of resentment towards the machine among the local Democrats. The party needs a vigorous campaign on some such issue as the money question to arouse the interest of the voters. I am in favor of holding the primaries for the election of delegates to Peoria under the primary election laws. I think at least thirty days' notice should be given of these primaries, so that the Democrats may have time to consider the financial issue in all its phases.

"I am confident, if sufficient time is given for a campaign of the right sort, that great interest will be aroused and a heavy vote polled. I think it would be an easy matter to attract 50,000 voters to the primaries held under these conditions. I think, too, it would be safe to say that four-fifths of these voters would express themselves in opposition to free silver at 16 to 1."

The latter was made acquainted yesterday with the fact that his name would be urged for the position. He is said to have expressed his willingness to accept the honor. McKinley's friends expect a heavy vote from Cook County, and a strong following from counties outside, sufficient to elect him.

ASSAIL DR. RUSK IN AN AFFIDAVIT.

Tenants of Wabash Avenue Houses Make Charges Against the Militant Church Man.

The Rev. Dr. John Rusk of the Militant Church, who recently moved to a house at No. 2236 Wabash avenue, has been engaged in an effort to clear that immediate neighborhood of tenants whom he deems objectionable. In this effort, it seems, he has been visiting his neighbors, and now certain of those neighbors, under suggestions from agents of the property-owners, are making affidavits bearing on the pastor's conduct.

It is charged that the doctor has been mixing amusement with troubles. The police have become interested in the case as a result of a report made to them that one of the doctor's companions in his neighborhood visits personated a police officer.

At No. 2220 Mrs. Frances Barclay and Miss Hattie Clifton made a sworn statement before a notary public last night concerning Dr. Rusk's demeanor in their flat. The statement says in part:

"Being duly sworn on oath, Frances Barclay and Hattie Clifton depose and say that on or about the 30th day of March, 1896, Dr. John Rusk of the Militant Church, accompanied by William Mitchell, Ferd Butterfield, Russell Dickey, and one Stone, a lawyer, who introduced the party, visited the house in which we live and that the entire party ordered and drank whisky."

The affidavit proceeds to declare that Dr. Rusk "made love" to Hattie Clifton and hugged and kissed her, saying many "foolish things." Then, continuing, the sworn statement declares:

"That he [Dr. Rusk] represented himself as, and was introduced as, Mr. Gillam, or a similar fictitious name, a rich Cincinnati banker.

"That they have both identified the man referred to as Dr. Rusk in his office in the Association Building and on the street beyond the possibility of a doubt.

"That the party represented and conveyed the idea that one of the party, William Mitchell, was a police officer.

Dear Sir: I had an excellent test of the virtue of your HYOMEI, in a case of laryngitis, in a business man, who has tried everything we doctors could think of, with little effect. Has coughed two months, strangling until black in the face, and could not lie down at all. I gave him two treatments before retiring, about an hour apart, when he went to bed, and lay down as well as ever he did, and slept all night. S. H. MORRIS, M. D.

No one seems able to turn the free silver crank.

Mr. Bayard is the original "I Ambassador."

The two wings of the Democratic party may make it sore.

The Bayard question is the first one to be settled. Bounce him.

The attitude of the Legislature at Albany seems to be a Plattitude.

With two Kings and a Queen at Venice, Italy had a good hand to draw to.

There is no reason for delay in recognizing the belligerency of Bayard.

If Col. Billmorrison were learning to ride a wheel he could not have straddled worse.

Perhaps Senator Hill thinks he is still alive and would like to have another burial.

If Greater New York becomes a fact Brooklyn can bring an action for abduction.

Maceo acts as if the Spaniards had constructed the trocha for the express purpose of giving him a good place to chassez.

Among other troubles afflicting the Democrats this year is the consciousness that not one of them can either be right or be President.

Affairs in Cuba should be quiet for a few days now that it is reported the Spanish troops and the insurgents have each other hemmed in.

The effort to "arrest public sentiment without a warrant" must be abandoned until it reaches St. Louis. A warrant may be obtained there.

Some of these candidates who are able to "sweep the country" should be brought to Chicago and given a preliminary training on the streets.

Spain's reform in Cuba is beginning. The tariff on products entering the island is to be increased to yield $17,000,000 yearly, instead of $9,000,000 as at present.

The governmental stamp of approval has been withheld from the flavoring of the postage. This is not as good as some other licks the present Congress has put in.

An Ohio rooster has whipped two Newfoundland dogs at Cincinnati. What chance has any importation from British America against a Buckeye on his native soil?

Swift's comet has been growing brighter, some one takes pains to telegraph from California. We've known that ever since a decent Common Council was elected.

Lloyd Osbourne, novelist, poet, and stepson of and collaborator with the late Robert Louis Stevenson, has followed Rudyard Kipling's example and taken to himself an American wife. About the only men sufficiently intelligent to write books who do not do this nowadays are those who had foreign wives before they met the American girl.

Some of the church members who insisted with so much reason that China should suffer for its ill-treatment of the American missionaries should recall one of them to labor in the West Chicago avenue district, where a dozen Caucasians have just made a vicious assault upon an unarmed Chinaman and his wife and baby.

The New York stock market yesterday opened strong and active. The local market was strong and Diamond Match fulfilled the predictions of its friends and sold at 200. Sterling rates were unchanged. New York exchange sold at 65 to 70 cents premium.—Leading speculative produce markets were fairly active, but decidedly weak in tone. The weakness became more accentuated as the session advanced. As compared with the last prices of the previous day July wheat closed 1⅜ cents lower, corn ⅜@¼ cent lower, oats ⅛@¼ cent lower, cash rye easier, barley steady, flaxseed ¼ cent higher, May pork 5 cents lower, lard 2½ cents lower, and ribs 2½ cents lower.

The members of the City Council of Louisville, Ky., who belong to the A. P. A. are seeking to change the name of St. Cecilia street because to their minds the saint represents Roman Catholic influence. To any mind not hopelessly asquint through prejudice the consecration of this gentle girl as the patroness of music by all its sister arts, sculpture, painting, architecture, and literature, not to speak of the notable musical compositions she has inspired, would serve to protect her memory. But to Louisville City Councilors this probably furnishes additional reason for the elimination of her beautiful name from the directory. But art is long and City Councils short.

The Central Electric ordinance, giving up Jackson street, was reintroduced in the Council on Monday night with the compensation clause left out. There is no fear of its passage. It cannot get past the Mayor and the honest Aldermen who will stand by him. There was introduced at the same time an ordinance giving Jackson street, from the river to Michigan avenue, to the South Park Board for boulevard purposes. That ought to pass. Then it would be out of the power of any subsequent Council, no matter how corrupt it might be, to sever the direct connection between the west and south park systems. It may be that the boodlers, seeing they cannot get their measure through, will not fight the other one hard. So its friends should press it strenuously, and they may be as successful as were the advocates of the West Jackson street boulevard.

Two eminent men in the world of finance, M. Leon Say of France and Baron Maurice Hirsch of Austria, passed away yesterday. The former had been Minister of Finance and was a practical financier, but his greatest reputation was made in the domain of political economy, in which he had come to be regarded as an authority. Baron Hirsch was one of the leading financiers and capitalists of Europe. He accumulated vast wealth and he used it to good purpose and, best of all, used it during his lifetime. He made a remark once which should be heeded by all having money who wish to use it to the best advantage: "I am desirous of doing something with my wealth to make the lot of the miserable easier. If one could take his money when he went he might not care to dispose of it in this way. But it seems much better to me to look on its beneficial distribution myself than to leave it to be disposed of by bequests. That seems like taking it from your heirs." His charities were profuse. He aided the poor of his own and other countries, and he was specially generous to his own people. Thousands of Russian Hebrews found homes in Argentine Republic through his munificence. The difference between Say and Hirsch was the difference between a theoretical and philanthropic financier.

UNJUST ATTACK ON THE MAYOR.

The Civic Federation would do more good if, instead of doing nothing but endeavor to find defects in the present municipal administration, it would occasionally commend it for some of the many good things it has done. Thus it would have been a wise act for the federation, which has called attention to the fact that there may be eight men on the city pay-roll who draw salaries and do no work, to state, some time or other, that the Mayor in one year purged the payrolls in the Public Works Department alone to the amount of $675,000, and that there has been a saving in the Police Department of about $300,000, or a total saving in these two departments of almost $1,000,000 in one year.

The cases of the eight supposed skulkers have been explained in part, and some of them have been found to be not skulkers at all. Even if they were all guilty as alleged, the proportion of eight to 8,000 would not be high, as in any large corporation at least one man in 1,000 would be found unworthy of his place. But it is not sufficiently understood that all the pay-rolls are now duly authenticated by the new Civil Service Commissioners and that the Controller refuses to pay them until they have been so approved. The Commissioners are responsible for the rolls; the Mayor is not. The pay-rolls are constantly accessible to the Civic Federation, to the Aldermen, and to any citizen who wishes to inspect them. They are no longer made a part of the Council proceedings, because the printing of them in that place served no good purpose and involved needless expense; but the Mayor offers to furnish them for publication to any reputable newspaper if the Civic Federation will pay the cost of printing. Could anything be fairer than that?

Criticism is most effective for good when praise is given if deserved and when blame is justly apportioned. This is especially the case when the critic is self-elected, and when he claims to be entitled to play the part of public censor because of his peculiar honesty, impartiality, and fair-mindedness. If he does nothing but pick flaws he may do great mischief, but can accomplish no good.

The Civic Federation seems to be degenerating into a chronic fault-finder and to be finding fault causelessly. It made charges against eight men. The Mayor ordered an immediate investigation. It has been carried far enough to show that many of the charges are absolute misstatements. If at any time the federation had had a kind word to say about Mayor Swift's administration, neither he nor any one else would be inclined to resent these charges, even though mistakenly made, for no one would question the good intentions of the makers. But that kind word has never been spoken.

Mr. W. T. Baker knows that the affairs of a great corporation like this city or a smaller one like the Board of Trade cannot be conducted so carefully but that occasional mistakes will be made. The greater the number of subordinates the greater the probability that somebody will do something wrong. Therefore Mr. Baker ought to know that it is not in the best of taste to dilate on the errors which may be made and hunt for them, ignoring utterly reforms which have been wrought and old errors which have been avoided.

Mayor Swift has given the city a better administration than any of his immediate predecessors. He has done that, although hampered by greater difficulties than any of them had to contend with. It would not have cost Mr. Baker or the Civic Federation anything to say that, and it would have helped him. To blame is easier than to praise, however, and the critic who censures thinks he stands on a higher plane than the one who commends.

The result of this perpetual nagging has been that the Mayor felt constrained to say to the Council Monday night:

> The time may soon come when no honest, self-respecting citizen will accept of an Aldermanship, or of the Mayoralty, or any other office, because his actions are so maligned. The criticism has been so violent and unjust as to bring me to Chicago when I should be in my bed; that criticism was unjust, unmanly, untrue, un-American, and unworthy of the people who ought to rally to the support of an honest public servant.

That is true. It may be soon that no man will accept the Mayoralty unless to make money out of the office or when he has some ax to grind, since he will know that he will be subjected to incessant unfriendly criticism, unrelieved by a single word of praise. Doubtless Mr. Baker thinks he would make a model Mayor. If he were to hold the office a few employés out of seven or eight thousand would go wrong. Some mistakes would be made. His subordinates would commit errors. Then, when he was assailed vehemently on account of these things, and the good features of his administration never were mentioned, he would think he was ill-used and would lose his temper—much sooner, too, than Mayor Swift lost his. The latter has been very patient during a year of good, hard work for the city, but he was moved to speak out at the last Council meeting.

What he said then should induce the federation to be less one-sided and to cultivate a spirit of fairness. It should look on the bright as well as the dark side of the shield. It should not say much about a dollar wasted and nothing about tens of thousands of dollars saved. It should work for the permanent good of the whole city instead of the temporary glorification of individual members.

LET BAYARD BE CALLED HOME.

It is reported from Washington that while the Venezuela dispute was at its height Mr. Bayard, the Ambassador of the United States to England, sent a dispatch to Secretary of State Olney pressing the claim that the Monroe doctrine did not apply to the question. If this be true, with all that it implies, President Cleveland should lay aside the consideration of the Cuban question, if he is considering it, and Congress should abandon appropriation and all other bills and they should devote themselves to a consideration of the quickest way of bouncing this extraordinary diplomat. The United States has had all it can stand of this misrepresentative.

It was intolerable before when this American Minister in the rôle of a Tory toady went about England preaching against the principles of the chief party in the United States, but to find he was coaching Lord Salisbury against the American Government and giving his traitorous comfort to the English Cabinet when war seemed hanging as the issue, is a revelation that calls for swift and drastic action. Apparently he believes he is not to be amenable to the ordinary restrictions put on diplomats and is not to be hampered by the national traditions or the opinions of people on this side of the Atlantic. The fact that he was sent to England to represent the United States, to voice its sentiments, protect its honor, and abet all its purposes and honorable plans has long since ceased to be anything but a diplomatic formality, a national fiction with Mr. Bayard. He is not the sort of man to be bound down by any such considerations. He has publicly claimed the right to express his own convictions untrammeled by any consideration of the people in the United States. And another tenet of this law which he has made for himself is the right to display his hostility to his country in whatever manner best suits his fancy. He fails utterly to appreciate the grotesque position he occupies of decrying the very people for whom he is a sponsor, and continues on serenely even after he has been overwhelmingly censured by Congress.

There has been enough of him. His more petty insults never should have been endured and this crowning insult of all can be wiped out only by his prompt removal from office, before he brings fresh disgrace on the United States. It has been the common wonder of Europe that this man has been permitted to misrepresent his country so long. No other nation in the world would have permitted such insolent disregard of its interests, and it seems almost inconceivable that he should have dared as a climax to his unique record formally and strenuously to oppose a doctrine that the people of this country almost unanimously were willing to go to war to sustain. This kind of a diplomat should not be allowed to resign. He should be unceremoniously bounced.

THE SALVATION ARMY CORRESPONDENCE

The complete correspondence leading up to the disaffection in the ranks of the Salvation Army and the secession headed by Ballington Booth and his wife has now been made public by Frederick and Emma Booth-Tucker. It comprises three somewhat memorable letters. The first is the letter of resignation sent by Ballington and Maude Booth to Bramwell Booth, international chief. It sets forth the reasons for their resignation, which may be briefly stated: Rules were promulgated in England which could not be obeyed here without involving endless red tape and detriment to the spiritual side of the army work. The social work was exploited by Gen. Booth at the expense of the spiritual. Ballington and his wife had been left out of all consultations. The rule which they had made forbidding the use of tobacco by sworn soldiers Gen. Booth had sought to rescind. The last reason assigned is the strongest of all. They charge that when Gen. Booth was here he showed himself unkind, inappreciative, ill-tempered, and impossible to please. He belittled the army work and rode roughshod over them. He never talked with them or asked their opinions, and upon one occasion manifested his real sentiments by his remark to them: "I'm not going to let you suck all the juice out of this plum."

Bramwell Booth's reply does not need special consideration, as it was only a sentimental appeal to them not to desert the army and did not attempt to answer the charges made. Gen. Booth, the head of the army, in his letter to Ballington and Maude Booth affirms that they have no reasonable grounds for their action and cannot justify it. He had always sought their welfare. Changes in appointments are part of the system and Ballington knew a change would be made and was specially intended in his case. He had agreed to it eighteen months previously. This change in command was the very essence of discipline in the Salvation Army. The General's letter closes with a strong and pathetic appeal to his son and daughter to reconsider their action.

One thing is evident in this correspondence. It is clear that Ballington and Maude Booth may have agreed to the change contemplated eighteen months ago, but this was at a time when the family relations were harmonious. The grievances set forth in their letter must have occurred subsequently and during the period of the General's recent visit to this country. In any event, it is apparent that the General and his son are equally matched in stubbornness and will power and that there is no prospect of reconciliation between them. As to the merits of the quarrel, the public has the correspondence and can judge for itself. Meanwhile there is room for the Salvation Army and the Volunteers both, and a lively competition between them will do no harm.

MAKE AN END OF MARSH.

The Republicans of the Fifteenth Congressional District of this State will hold their convention day after tomorrow. It is their bounden duty to throw overboard the present Congressman, Marsh, who has shown himself hopelessly unsound on the currency question, and nominate a man whom the honest money voters of the district can support.

They do not want to vote for Marsh again. They did so two years ago under protest. Since then he has betrayed them and their interests shamefully. He voted against a bill authorizing the issue of bonds so as to enable the government to get at lower rates of interest gold which it had to have in reserve to keep a third of a billion in greenbacks and half a billion in silver from shrinking one-half in value. He voted for a Senate amendment for immediate unlimited free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1 to contract and depreciate the currency.

If that amendment were to become law not a business-man nor workingman in his district would escape unhurt. The majority of the business-men at least know it, and they want some one in Congress to represent them who will not be continually waging war on them.

The convention should nominate an honest money Republican. He will get the votes of the Democrats who are opposed to 50-cent dollars, for their party is going to nominate some man who will be as devoted to the cause of rotten money as Marsh is. A sound money Republican can be elected, for the loss of a few free-silver Republicans will be more than made good by gains among the anti-free silver Democrats.

The Republican State convention is going to adopt a sound money platform. So is the national one. The Republicans of the Fifteenth District must not repudiate both those platforms by nominating a rotten money man like Marsh, thus endeavoring to elect a Congressman who will do all he can to antagonize the financial policy of the sound money man whom the Republicans will elect President.

CRISP REPUDIATES MORRISON.

Col. Morrison has made a bid for the votes of the free-silverites by intimating that if he were President and Congress were to pass a free coinage bill he would not veto it. Ex-Speaker Crisp, speaking for the 16 to 1 free silver advocates, rejects that bid. He says:

> It is my opinion that if the advocates of free coinage of silver should control the Chicago convention they should nominate a candidate absolutely pledged to the free coinage of silver, and not only that, but have him stand on a free coinage platform. If silver is declared for by a majority of the Democratic party I think they will demand a candidate who will be an unqualified exponent of that sentiment.

Mr. Crisp is right. If the free-silverites can control the Chicago convention they have a perfect party right to select a candidate who heartily supports them rather than one who insinuates that he is not against them, and who is posing as a trimmer and a straddler for the sake of a nomination.

The free silver Democrats are entitled to a candidate who represents their views fully—a man who if elected President will urge Congress in his first message to pass a destructive, confiscatory free coinage bill, and who will sign it when it reaches him promptly and thankfully.

If it be a fact that a clear majority of the American people are bent on the repudiation of contracts and the confiscation of half the property of creditors, and destruction of half the present money value of silver certificates and greenbacks and bank notes, and if workmen want to be paid in currency worth 50 cents on the dollar, they have a right to know that the Presidential candidate they feel like supporting is heartily and unqualifiedly with them and will allow nothing to be done which might tend to uphold the credit of the country.

Mr. Crisp wants no hypocritical, straddle candidate for another reason. There are other ways in which a President can bring the country to a silver standard of 50-cent money besides signing or declining to veto a free silver coinage bill. He can decline to protect the gold reserve and let the Treasury become exhausted of the yellow metal. He can order his Secretary of the Treasury to redeem Sherman silver certificates and greenbacks in silver instead of gold, and then the silver will slump to 50 cents or to the value of its bullion. So even if Congress or one branch of it, as now, were in favor of honest money a free silver President could pull down the United States money standard to a silver monometallic basis and expel all gold from circulation, thereby contracting the value of all the remainder of the currency one-half in purchasing power. Crisp and his crowd are entitled to a candidate who is as rotten on the currency standard as Bland, and from whom no trimming and straddling need be feared by them.

Hence Morrison's sneaking promise that he will not veto a rotten standard bill avails him nothing. He has fallen between two stools, like many other weak demagogues. He has alienated the honest money men, who will henceforth hold him in contempt, and has not secured the free-silverites and cheap money crowd.

This is the hour for positive candidates, who have the courage of their convictions—for men who are all on one side or all on the other. There is no place now for Janus-faced demagogues like Morrison who write "there are some things about honest money they like" but that there are some features of cheap, debased money "which strike them favorably." Away with them!

DISTRIBUTION OF MEDALS BEGUN.

Whether to weep with the Bureau of Engraving and Printing or rejoice with John Boyd Thacher, that is the question. The great World's Fair magnate invites the attention of the nations to his vindication. He has been passive under prolonged criticism and suffered the blows of scorn in silence, but his day of triumph is here. At the very moment when it is being darkly hinted that this Sairey Gamp of the White City could not produce his Mrs. Harris, because there was "no sich" thing as medals, behold the medals come forth. They are out, they are issued, they are facts, they are not "nearly ready," but ready in very truth, and real people have seen them. Now where are the critics of John Boyd Thacher?

But the joy must be tempered. While we contemplate the glory of J. B. T., let us not forget the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. There sadness reigns. The Bureau is losing its most cherished possession. For weeks and months and even years it has had medals and diplomas in its midst. The first object that met the gaze of the workman as he began the labors of the day was medals. The last object he parted with at night was medals. It has been medals all over the place. It is a wise and merciful provision that their desolation is not to be a sharp blow. It will be made so gradual that something of the pain will be alleviated. Only the German awards are to be issued at first. When the effects of this shock have subsided somewhat, some of the American exhibiters will receive their honors, and so on in easy stages until the entire distribution is made.

In this way, perhaps, a few more years may ensue before the bureau is bereft entirely, but of course on this point there can be no explicit information. It would be unfair to the precedents of the department to rush to conclusions just because they have made a start on the distribution. But in the meantime the public will be in a quandary as to the division of its sympathy. The bureau offers many claims for priority; it is a national institution of wonderful construction; but on the other hand so is John Boyd Thacher a national institution of wondrous construction, and on the whole the stronger inclination probably will be to keep in touch with him.

It is to be hoped that the bill for establishing a national military park at Vicksburg, which is now pending in Congress, will be passed at this session. It has been favorably reported by the Military committee and it is not known that there is any opposition to it. It has been urged by every Grand Army encampment in the country. The Legislatures of Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New York, and Iowa have already asked the members from those States to vote for it. Speaker Reed has been appealed to from almost every State and Territory in the Union to give the bill, which is on the calendar, the right of way and put it on its passage.

It is a reasonable bill from the economical point of view. The proposed park will include only 1,200 acres. The cost of the site is not to exceed $50,000. It will require only $25,000 to put it in shape and restore the features of the famous battlefield. Vicksburg and Gettysburg were battles of the same day. They belong together. They were equally decisive battles. If any battles during the war of the rebellion should be commemorated it is these two. Vicksburg was one of Gen. Grant's greatest campaigns. No more fitting monument can be placed to his memory than one which shall preserve the features of the great siege of Vicksburg. The bill should be passed without any further delay.

Able Seamen Platt and Quay are suspected of conspiring to make a wreck of the Ohio Grosvenor.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Knew Too Much.

"May I offer you a stick of gum?" asked the traveling man in the skull cap, by way of introducing himself to the passenger in the seat directly in front of him.

The other man turned around, looked at the proffered slab, and shook his head.

"I—I beg your pardon," he said. "I manufacture that gum. I never chew it. But if you will join me, I will open this box of candy I bought just before I got on the train."

The traveling man looked at the label on the box and shuddered.

"We make that candy," he remarked, shrugging his shoulders. "I never touch it."

Subsequently they became better acquainted over a small bottle, of whose contents they possessed none of the secrets of manufacture.

MARKET LIST FOR THE HOUSEWIVES.

Suggestive Hints for Buyers Among the Food Staples and Importations of South Water Street Firms.

Choice green peas from Mississippi were plentiful yesterday, and prices declined, 8 cents a quart being the grocery price. Lettuce was scarce and expensive. Cucumbers were abundant. Fancy variety from Louisiana retailed from 10 to 15 cents a dozen.

Crook-neck squashes from Florida appeared in the markets for the first time this season. The South Water street price was $2 a crate, and the retail price today will be about five cents apiece. New beets are selling from 30 to 40 cents a peck. New potatoes from Bermuda have become exceedingly scarce, and the wholesale price has moved up to $8.50 a barrel. At the fancy groceries $1 to $1.25 a peck was considered a low price.

Beans are the cheapest thing on the food list. Some of the big stores are selling hand-picked pea beans at 3½ cents a quart.

Butter declined another cent. Car-lot quantities of fancy creameries were sold in South Water street at 14 cents a pound. The grocer usually buys only a few tubs at a time at this season of the year, and such quantities of the finest cost 15 cents a pound. Most grocers put out this choice stock at 18 cents and dairy butter at 15 and 16 cents a pound. Elgin fancy grades cost a little more than the Chicago market price.

METHODIST WOMEN AT CLEVELAND

Close Vote Admitting Them to the General Conference—What the Figures from Various States Show.

The question whether the women who are seeking admittance to the General Conference of the Methodist Church are to succeed hangs in the balance. The annual conferences have decided against them, failing by 80 votes to give a three-fourths majority in their favor, and there only remains the direct appeal of the women themselves before the general conference, which meets in Cleveland next month.

During the last six months 122 conferences, meeting for the most part in the United States, but also in points as far distant as Sweden and China, have been voting on this subject. The vast majority of their 10,000 members have voted in favor of the admission of women as delegates to the general conference. But a mere majority goes for nothing when a change of constitution is involved. To confer upon the women the right of sitting in the highest of Methodist councils it is necessary to secure a three-fourths majority of the members of the annual conferences, and follow this by a two-thirds majority in the general conference itself. A conservative minority of one-fourth is therefore able to bar the path of the women toward equal rights in the Methodist Church.

At present the minority is apparently triumphant. One hundred and twenty of the conferences have voted. Only two have yet to be heard from. The vote now stands 7,462 for, 2,594 against; 7,542 would carry the day for the women. The difference is only 80 votes, with East Maine and North Dakota yet undecided, but in the opinion of those best informed these two conferences are so divided in their opinion that their votes will not alter the balance. Therefore, the women must wait until 1900, when they may try again.

The voting in nearby conferences on the question of the admission of the women resulted as follows:

Conference.	For.	Against.
Central New York	99	65
Central Pennsylvania	152	62
Delaware	71	11
Erie	104	54
Maine	69	8
North New York	93	47
New England	150	10
New England, Southern	71	11
New Hampshire	61	22
New Jersey	68	19
New York	89	99
New York, East	56	140
Newark	52	63
Ohio	145	3
Philadelphia	117	89
Pittsburg	55	61
Troy	78	113
Washington	51	48
Wilmington	109	17

There is one hope left. It rests in the fact that already four women have been elected as delegates to the general conference. Despite the vote of the annual conferences these delegates will present themselves at the conference in Cleveland and demand admittance. Mrs. Jane Field Bashford will be the leader of this forlorn hope. She is the wife of the Rev. J. W. Bashford, D. D., of Cincinnati, and has been elected as lay delegate of the Ohio conference. Her husband is one of the ministerial delegates from the Cincinnati conference, which voted for the women without a single dissentient.

The second of the four is Mrs. L. S. Parker, elected by the North India conference. Her husband, Dr. Edwin W. Parker, is also a delegate. Mrs. Butcher, wife of the Rev. J. C. Butcher, also of the North India conference, is the third; and Miss Lydia A. Trimble, from the Foochow conference, China, is the fourth.

When these four ladies present themselves at Cleveland the general conference will be compelled to either admit or dismiss them. If admitted the question will be settled and the fight of the women won. Eight years ago Frances M. Willard led a similar forlorn hope with four others and met with defeat. Since that time the feeling has grown strongly in behalf of the women, and there is a possible chance of a second attack of this nature being successful.

Croute aux fraises—Cut rounds of stale sponge cake and arrange them in a circle on a pretty dish that can be sent to table; baste with melted apricot or peach marmalade and fill the centers with strawberries; pour whipped cream over all. This is a very pretty way of serving strawberries while they are scarce, as a small basket will serve for five or six persons.

Soup à la Solferino—Cook half a pint of small dice of new potatoes and add with them an equal quantity of peas and string beans, either canned or freshly cooked, to three pints of boiling beef broth. Break some grisini bread into short lengths and put it into the tureen; throw a tablespoonful each of minced parsley and chervil into the boiling soup and pour all over the grisini.

Fresh mackerel may be known by their almost silvery brightness; the stale fish are limp in body and dull red about the eyes. Mackerel keep worse than almost any other fish, and are positively unwholesome unless fresh; therefore great care in selecting them must be exercised. To bake them, clean, remove the roes, and fill with a delicate forcemeat of bread, savory herbs, pounded anchovy, cayenne, salt, parsley, grated onion, and a beaten egg; lay the roes alongside; bake until the backbone lets loose in the thickest part, and serve with maitre d'hotel sauce.

What Col. N. A. Reed Says About Bracelin's Cure of Bronchitis.

Chicago, April 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—As so much suffering has been alleviated during the last three months through the knowledge gained by reading The Tribune and learning of the existence of Bracelin's bactericide, kindly permit me to hand you a letter which I received this morning from that well-known Chicago editor, Col. N. A. Reed, Jr. J. J. Russell.

"'The Banner of Gold,' 340 Dearborn street, Chicago, April 21, 1896.—J. J. Russell: My wife has been afflicted more or less for the last three years with a bronchial affection, which has been very annoying. The past winter it increased in violence so much as to keep her awake many nights. It caused her to hack, cough, and attempt to clear her throat so frequently that she disliked to go to any public gathering, fearing it would annoy others. In accordance with your suggestion she tried the Bracelin bactericide and slept the entire night after using the inhaler only four times. She continued its use for three days and her throat is apparently thoroughly cured. At all events she does not cough any more and has no trouble at all with her throat. Our family physician has treated her for two winters and the Bracelin remedy has accomplished in three days what his prescription and various 'inhalers,' etc., have failed to cure. Very truly yours,
"N. A. Reed Jr.,
"Editor and General Manager."

EVENTS OF A CITY DAY.

CLOTHING CUTTERS' AND TRIMMERS' LONG STRIKE IS OFF.

Not Officially Declared, but the Men Return to Work—Manufacturers Yield to Strikers' Demands, Although the Union as Such Is Not Recognized—President Rischer's Statement—Jury Made Up in the O'Brien Murder Case.

The cutters' and trimmers' strike—involving a thousand workers, who involved 20,000 others—is practically over. Officially it is not.

Two important things happened yesterday. In the morning twenty-six several committees of three members each visited the manufacturers in the wholesale clothing district. Their mission was to learn if the employing clothiers would grant the cutters fair terms of surrender. The committees' reports to executive headquarters were not wholly favorable. Many of the manufacturers insisted upon the introduction of what they have termed the "merit system." Some of the others stated to the committee waiting upon them they were willing and ready to take their old cutters back at the old hours and the old rates. Recognition of the union, however, was barred.

This point of recognition was conceded by no one, it is asserted. If the men desire to return to work they would be welcomed, individually, but only upon that basis.

When the committees returned to headquarters there was a feeling prevalent that unless some definite official action was taken by Union No. 61 there would be a general desertion of the rank and file. A meeting of the cutters and trimmers on strike was consequently called and held at No. 167 Washington street, in Cigarmakers' Hall, from 2 until 4 p. m. The meeting was secret. Its prime feature was the vote on the issue of declaring the strike off. The ballots were written. They read:

Strike	397
Work	82
Blank	8

Only for Appearance's Sake.

As soon as it was evident to the leaders there would be a secession of eighty or perhaps a hundred cutters this morning a foxy man jumped up and moved the Cutters' and Trimmers' Union declare its willingness to permit at this time any member to return to work without forfeiture of his membership rights. This motion was unanimously carried.

It means only one thing. The strike is over. The union saw coming dissolution, in the face of the firm front of the Manufacturers' Association, and it adopted the preferable course of consenting to allow its members to go to work without calling the strike off. Otherwise the integrity of the union itself would have been impaired.

There were 450 cutters at work when the strike began nine weeks ago. Yesterday the manufacturing clothiers had 411 cutters in their employ. Their needs are somewhat greater now than they were in January, but if all their present employés were competent they would not have room for 200 additional cutters from the strikers' ranks. Most of the cutters recently procured are not high-class men. Most of the manufacturers—who are utilitarious and not sentimentalists—will discharge their new men and make room for the old and trained men as fast as circumstances permit. They say they won't; but it is believed they will.

Why the Union Weakened.

President Reichers of the International Union of United Garment-Workers said last night: "The manufacturers are really sick of this fight. We let some of our men go back to work because if the union had resisted their wish to do so there would perhaps have been a larger desertion and a great loss to the union. As it now is, each man who returns to work will turn into the union's treasury one-sixth of the wages he earns. All of our men who go back will do so as stanch union men; they will get union rates and hours—the only thing they fail to get is recognition."

The tailors and other garment-workers on strike have been meeting with more success than the cutters. They had no such stone wall as the Manufacturers' Association to buck against. Half of those primarily on strike have returned back to work at an advance in wages of from 10 to 25 per cent, a reduction of the day's stint to nine hours, and recognition by the contracting tailors of the garment-workers' union.

It is a significant fact, unknown to the Executive Board of the strikers, that a member of the board, before the action taken yesterday morning and before the meeting held yesterday afternoon, made application to and secured position for himself and ten fellow-shopmen with the manufacturing firm for which they had formerly worked as cutters.

Assistant State's-Attorney Pearson will make the opening statement of the case to the jury this morning. If the defense asks leave to postpone its opening statement until the evidence of the prosecution is in Mr. Pearson will oppose it.

A jury was secured and evidence given before Judge Adams in the case of John C. Kochler, William Schroeder, and Frank Liebenmark, accused of conspiracy to murder Kochler's wife and three children. Kochler had lived unhappily with his wife and they separated. The woman had some money and property, and John Mead, a tramp, yesterday told in court how Kochler had proposed that Mead should assist in the murder.

NAIL MANUFACTURERS IN SESSION.

Efforts to Fix a Schedule of Prices and Settle the Market.

Two organizations of nail manufacturers began sessions yesterday at the Wellington Hotel. They were the Wire Nail Association, of which H. P. Robey of Wareham, Mass., is President, and the Nail Manufacturers' Association, of which T. H. Loring of Pittsburg is the executive head.

The associations have for some time been working at cross purposes, and the present conference is to reach some understanding in regard to prices.

At both meetings the question of prices was taken up, and a joint committee was appointed to report at the meeting this morning.

Among the prominent manufacturers present were: Charles C. Townsend, New Bedford, Mass.; Edward King, New Castle, Pa.; R. C. Patterson, New Castle; Alfred Coffed, St. Louis; B. H. Barr, Ironton, O.; S. S. Waters, Louisville, Ky.; H. Belmer, Cincinnati; E.J. Broffington, Anderson, Ind.; Oscar Ritchie, Ironton, O.; E. W. Garner, Anderson, Ind.; and A. J. Bassett, Chicago.

WOES OF STOVE POLISH PURVEYOR.

Shadowed by Rivals Who Insist They Shall Not Be "Shaken."

Three men sat in a buggy out in front of the Criminal Court Building yesterday morning and merrily whistled "You Can't Lose Me, Charlie."

They were the agents of a stove polish concern, who, for two months have persistently kept on the trail of H. C. Bomhard of Milwaukee, the agent of a rival establishment. They have followed his buggy day after day, from early dawn until late at night. When the Bomhard buggy drove rapidly down the street the buggy just behind containing the three rivals spurted along at a good speed. When the Bomhard buggy paused, the long green grass grew riotously under the wheels of the rival's vehicle. Down Michigan avenue, along West Madison street, or up Milwaukee avenue, it was all the same. The buggy of the rivals followed the Bomhard rig with the tenacity and persistency of a mud scow chasing a tug boat.

Bomhard did not mind until the enemy adopted new tactics. He says that a few days ago they hired his own driver to blacken Bomhard's eyes a deeper hue than his own polish.

That was too much. He went to Inspector Shea. He hitched his buggy outside the Desplaines Station and while he was inside the three rivals sat in their buggy and smiled.

Bomhard says Inspector Shea was colder than a cook stove should be when it is polished. He told Bomhard to get out or he would lock him up. Mr. Bomhard accordingly got.

With his escort safely whistling "You Can't Lose Us, Charlie," the procession moved down the street.

Yesterday Bomhard appeared at the office of State's-Attorney Kern. The three rivals also appeared as near the office of the State's-Attorney as they could without getting out of their buggy. They sat calmly in their rig and whistled while Bomhard recited his tale of woe.

"Their object is to drive me out of business!" exclaimed Bomhard. "They follow me everywhere and rush into the stores around the places I enter and try to prejudice my goods."

"Where are they?" asked the State's-Attorney.

"There!" said Bomhard tragically, pointing out of the window.

A deputy went out and tried to get the names of the men, but they gave him fictitious cognomens.

Bomhard arranged, however, to go before the grand jury and secure the indictment of George Danforth, the chief shadow, and his two assistant shadows, on the grounds of threats and conspiracy.

He then left the building and drove away.

And behind him drove the rivals, whistling still: "You Can't Lose Us, Charley."

DECLARES IT IS A CONSPIRACY.

Detective Horvich Says Thieves Are Trying to Oust Him.

The Police Trial Board yesterday heard the case of Detective Jacob Horvich of the Maxwell Street Station, accused of demanding $850 of Mrs. Paulina Isen for not prosecuting her husband, David Isen, charged with burglary. Mrs. Isen said she paid the amount and her husband was discharged. The detective said it was a conspiracy by a gang of thieves to cause his removal.

H. Israelson, a tailor at Fourteenth and Jefferson streets, it is said, was robbed of several hundred dollars' worth of goods and was visited by Isen, M. Goldstein, Morris Jacobs, and others, who promised to give back the goods stolen from him if he would take part in the conspiracy against the detective. He agreed to do this, but informed the detective of the fact. For some reason, however, he was not visited again by the men.

Policeman Daniel Penbrook of the Thirty-fifth Street Station was before the board on charges preferred against him by Henry Dikeman, a liveryman at Thirty-seventh and Halsted streets. Dikeman was arrested for not having lights on his carriage. Dikeman insisted that the city ordinance did not affect liverymen or undertakers.

The Civil Service Commission yesterday canceled the application of Patrick Barry for a position on the police force. Barry lives at No. 633 Duncan Park and notified Secretary Phelps of the commission if his application was pushed and he were given a "tip" as to the requirements there would be "something good" in it for the Civil Service Commission.

THEY TELL OF GAS TRUST AFFAIRS.

Attorney-General Moloney Files Depositions Made in the East.

The relations of the Philadelphia Fidelity Insurance Trust and Safe Deposit company to the Chicago gas trust were discussed by President John B. Gest of the Philadelphia company in a deposition taken by Attorney-General Moloney in Philadelphia, which has been filed in the Circuit Court.

Mr. Gest produced the original declaration of trust executed Oct. 15, 1887, when the Chicago gas trust company deposited with the Philadelphia company 198,383 shares of capital stock of the Chicago Gaslight and Coke company, 29,881 shares of the Consumers' company, 29,747 shares of the Equitable company, and 34,600 shares of the People's company. Mr. Gest said no stock certificates of the Suburban, Lake, or Hyde Park companies were deposited with his company. The certificates were accepted, according to Mr. Gest, in trust for the stockholders and the Philadelphia company never voted the stock. His company, however, was represented by proxy at the annual meetings of the four companies.

In 1891 the defendant company issued its own certificates in exchange for certificates of like face value of the Chicago Gas company, formerly the Chicago Gas Trust company. The amount was $24,885,000, of which $23,610,000 had been returned to the defendant company and canceled. Mr. Gest said his company had never had a pecuniary interest in the stocks deposited with it.

Depositions of Anthony N. Brady and ex-Gov. Flower of New York were also taken.

SMITH'S MURDERER IS AT LARGE.

Police Say Timothy O'Keefe Is Not the Guilty Man.

Timothy O'Keefe is not the man who killed Master Painter John T. Smith, the police say, and he is not wanted by them to stand trial for that crime along with John Ryan.

A man of the name first given was taken to the Central Station yesterday on the supposition he was concerned in the case, but he was quickly released as knowing nothing about it.

Inspector Fitzpatrick says the department expects to capture Ryan's associate, who, it is now believed, wielded the murderous gaspipe. New evidence was turned up yesterday locating responsibility for the crime, it is stated, and the police expect no trouble in proving their case in court.

Ryan's friends said yesterday they were able to establish an alibi.

It leaked out yesterday that the police had a good look at the supposed guilty man before he left the city. Ryan and he were walking in Fifth avenue, it is said, with two detectives following them.

At Randolph street Ryan turned into Powers' basement saloon, while his companion walked on up Fifth avenue.

The detectives, believing Ryan was the murderer, allowed the other man to escape while they were descending into the basement, where Ryan was captured.

CRITICISE THE LOOP ORDINANCE.

Antagonism Because of the Absence of a Compensatory Clause.

There was some talk yesterday against the Union Loop company's Van Buren street ordinance because it does not contain a compensation clause. But this talk was not among the Aldermen, except as they were asked about the subject. Those who said anything were of the opinion the question had been settled when the Fifth avenue and Wabash avenue ordinances for the same company were passed. The whole subject was discussed at that time, resulting in a general decision to the effect that the loop would be a part of all the elevated systems and therefore would have no distinct earning power.

It is asserted that the city will get the compensation it wants from the different roads because of increased earnings the loop will bring them.

The companies are satisfied that when passengers can be landed near places in the business center their business will be increased largely.

Judge Baker to Hear Argument of the Murderer's Counsel.

The question of the sanity of Alfred G. Fields, convicted of murder and sentenced to be hanged May 15, will be considered in Judge Baker's court this morning.

Attorney Paul W. Linebarger yesterday filed his petition and affidavits in support of the application for a jury to inquire into the mental condition of Fields.

If Judge Baker refuses to impanel a jury the Governor will be appealed to for a respite and the case will be taken to the Supreme Court.

FATE OF A MISSING MILKMAN.

Joseph Williams' Wife Thinks He Has Met with Bodily Harm.

Whatever the fate of Joseph Williams, the missing milkman, may be, it is very improbable he has eloped with the young woman he used to boast would follow him to the ends of the earth.

He was married about six months ago, but he afterwards confided to a dining-room girl at an Adams street boarding-house, where he delivered milk, that he wished he had married her, and he told the wife of his employer, H. F. Rautman, milkman at No. 839 Washington boulevard, he would elope with this girl if he could raise $50.

The girl left the boarding-house three weeks ago, but she was found yesterday. She said Williams' advances used to make her very tired.

Mrs. Williams thinks her husband has met with harm. Two threatening letters, she said, had been sent him, one through the mails, and the other was left at the house, No. 45 May street. She says the letters were sent by Rautman.

Rautman says he had no intention of doing Williams bodily harm, but intended to have him arrested for slander.

Williams left Rautman's employ a week ago and started a milk route. On Saturday morning he left home ostensibly to go to the City Hall and try to avoid prosecution for selling milk without having his name on his wagon. He never reached the Collector's office.

Some think the missing man may have gone back to a first love in London, whence he came to Chicago at the time of the World's Fair.

WILL SUE DESPITE MR. BEALE.

Civil Service Commission to Prosecute the School Case.

Corporation Counsel Beale said yesterday the mandamus suit of the Civil Service Commission against the Board of Education to determine whether the employés of the board were amenable to civil service regulations had been practically given up. He had drawn up the petition and sent it to the commission for inspection, but he had no idea it would be filed in court. President Clark of the commission said he was not so sure the petition would not be filed. It was well enough for Mr. Beale to withdraw from the case, but the commission could employ another attorney, and he intimated the suit would go on. Mayor Swift said Mr. Beale had written a letter to Controller Wetherell requesting him to refuse to pay the employés of the board in order that suit might be brought by one of the employés against the Controller. The Controller, however, said he had neither received nor heard of such a letter.

EARLIER MAIL FOR SUBSTATIONS.

Plan to Relieve Pressure at the Postoffice Nearly Complete.

Arrangements are being made whereby mail for substations of the Chicago Postoffice will be dropped at such substations by incoming trains instead of being carried through to the general office. Postmaster Hesing and Supt. Troy of the railway mail service have been working on this scheme and have secured its adoption by the Postoffice Department.

Under the new plan suburban residents will get their mail an hour or more earlier than heretofore, and by relieving the pressure at the general office the delivery of mail in the business section will be expedited.

Substation No. 5 of the Postoffice, No. 117 Quincy street, has leaped into popularity since the removal of the Postoffice to the Lake-Front. Its sale of stamps amounts to $5,000 a day.

Must Answer for Pflum's Death.

Deputy Coroner McNally yesterday held an inquest on the body of August Pflum, 34 years old, who died at the County Hospital on Monday from a fractured skull, the result of injuries said to have been inflicted by Michael Ready and William Hines in the basement of No. 355 State street on the night of March 10. The jury recommended that Hines and Ready be apprehended and held for the grand jury's action. The men are still at large.

His Fourth Matrimonial Venture.

Abraham Robinowski, 85 years old, applied for a license yesterday to wed Annie Rupert, aged 30. The prospective bridegroom has already buried three wives, but does not believe that marriage is a failure. He says, should he mourn a fourth wife, he will be ready for a fifth matrimonial venture. Annie seemed quite willing to take chances. Robinowski is a peddler.

Four Men in Murderers' Row.

Not since the days of the convicted Anarchists until now has murderers' row in the county jail contained at the same time four men under sentence of death. Those condemned are: Joseph Windrath, Nic Marzen, Alfred C. Fields, and Belverip Borrelli. Judge Horton will dispose of the motion for a new trial for Windrath this week.

Wants a Receiver Appointed.

The Superior Court is asked to appoint a receiver for the Royal Wine company, whose place of business is in Van Buren street near Wabash avenue. The complainant is George C. Wright, who is the owner of $5,000 of the $25,000 capital stock of the concern. He says the affairs of the company have been mismanaged by Edward R. and Frank Hibbard, the owners of a majority of the stock.

Seeking to Set Santry Free.

Habeas corpus proceedings were begun yesterday to secure the release of John Santry, held at the East Chicago Avenue Police Station on suspicion of having been implicated in the murder of Gustáv Colliander on Nov. 6, 1894. It is asserted that Santry's arrest was illegal and that there is no evidence against him.

Will Talk on Open Air Meetings.

Brigadier-General Fielding of the American Volunteers will address the Hyde Park District Baptist Young People's Union on Friday evening at the South Park Baptist Church, Forty-eighth street and Wabash avenue. The subject of the address will be, "Open Air Meetings."

Feared It Was Cholera.

Mrs. Maggie Dobler, 33 years old, died yesterday at her home, No. 2922 Keeley street, after two hours' sickness. Dr. Fitzmaurice telephoned the Coroner it was a case of cholera, but afterwards notified him a council of physicians had decided this was not the cause of death.

MORTALITY FOR A MONTH.

SHOWING MADE BY COMMISSIONER KERR'S REPORT FOR MARCH.

Anti-Toxin's Triumph Over Diphtheria—Relations of a Contaminated Water Supply to Typhoid-Fever and Intestinal Diseases—Comparative Statistics Submitted with Diagrams Which, More Explicitly than Words, Tell the Whole Story.

Commissioner Kerr of the Health Department has just issued the March report on vital statistics for Chicago, which shows interesting results in the victory of anti-toxin over diphtheria, and the prevalence of typhoid-fever and intestinal diseases after each contamination of the water supply. This work is under the superintendence of Dr. M. O. Heckard, whose diagrams tell the whole story.

To understand the full meaning of the diphtheria death rate it should be borne in mind that the disease appeared in April, 1895, with greater malignity than in the year before. Notwithstanding the disease in October last had reached an average daily mortality of 8.1—which was before the general use of anti-toxin—the death rate was rapidly cut down until in March it was only 2.8. The force of these gains is made plain by the statement that the greatest average decline from the maximum mortality of each year during the preceding ten years—1885 to 1894—was but 16.8 per cent.

Chicago's health reports show an interesting relation between bad water and the prevalence of intestinal diseases. At the close of December the quality of water reached its worst. Analysis showed continuous improvement to Jan. 18, and, after a slight contamination, further improvement was observed to Feb. 8. A rapid increase in acute intestinal diseases was registered immediately after pollution of the water. Typhoid-fever also set in, but taking longer to develop its full effects were not shown for several weeks. The average daily deaths from acute intestinal diseases were 3 for the week ending Dec. 21, decreasing a week later to 2, but in the wake of bad water these maladies increased by the next week to an average death rate of 8.4. With improvement in the water to Feb. 1 there was a rapid decline of intestinal troubles, until the death rate fell to 2,7 daily.

From Dec. 28 to Feb. 1 typhoid increased in prevalence and malignity until the average daily death rate reached was 5.6.

These fluctuations of purity in the city's water and fatality in disease are made plain in the diagram printed. The line showing water quality indicates suspicious water Feb. 15, which then became good for a month, and at the close of last month had again become suspicious. Correspondingly, intestinal diseases and typhoid fever grew less fatal with fluctuations to March 21, when the daily deaths were 2 and 1.4 respectively. With another supply of contaminated water now in use the disease rate is on the increase.

There were 1,988 deaths in Chicago from all causes in March. The monthly death rate per 1,000 of population was 1.24.

WILL FIX TEACHERS' PAY IN MAY.

School Management Committee Decides to Give Akers $1,400 Salary.

At a meeting of the School Management committee of the Board of Education yesterday Chairman Brenan was asked when the teachers' salaries for the year would be fixed, and he said early in May. This announcement, which elicted no reply and attracted no attention, involved a strange system of finance. Supt. Lane explains that while the City Council made appropriations for school purposes from January to January, the board employs its teachers from September to July, and yet it does not fix their salaries at the beginning of either the city fiscal year or the school year. The custom has been to fix the teachers' salaries in March or April, and in the meanwhile between January and March the salaries are paid in some fashion before they have been fixed.

One of the first things brought before the committee was the fixing of the salary of Principal J. W. Akers of the Walter Scott Shool. Supt. Lane said Mr. Akers had not yet drawn a cent of pay, and recommended he be paid at the rate of $1,400 until the general adjustments of salaries. There was considerable disposition to fix the salary at this figure permanently, but at last it was agreed to make it temporary.

Mr. Thornton called the attention of the committee to the fact that at the Cook County Normal School there was a kindergarten school which charged for tuition, every pupil being required to pay $10 a year. As the Board of Education existed to furnish free education only Mr. Thornton thought the charge should be abolished, which was done. Attention being called to the fact that children 2 and 3 years old were admitted to this school contrary to law, the practice was ordered discontinued.

Chairman Brenan asked permission to withdraw the report he made at the last meeting of the committee in favor of permitting Mrs. M. E. D. Gilmore to visit the schools and organize a movement against the cigaret. Mr. Brenan did not refer to the A. P. A. record of Mrs. Gilmore, which the rest of the committee, judging from their laughter, had not forgotten.

The suits of the McVicker Theater company, Henry Weil, J. J. Knickerbocker, and J. H. Van Vlissingen against the Board of Education were dismissed yesterday in Judge Gibbons' court.

MR. MORTON MAKES AN EXPLANATION

Says the Government Is the Dumping Ground for Poor Seeds.

Secretary Morton of the Department of Agriculture has issued a statement explanatory of the government seed award in which the bids of the Northrup, Braslan, Goodwin company of Chicago were rejected. He contends that he acted for the good of the public. He was required, he says, to purchase seeds at the lowest bid, and considered it good policy to buy only those he had reason to think could be relied upon.

The Secretary says the Northrup, Braslan, Goodwin company has not been discriminated against by his department. Concerning its seeds Mr. Morton says the committee did not think it had facilities for packing and delivering the goods. Continuing he says:

"If the seeds purchased by this department are a fair sample, the American farmer is extensively and systematically defrauded in his seeds. This, however, we do not believe, as it is evident that the Department of Agriculture has been made to a large extent at least a dumping ground for the poor seed which dealers would not dare to sell anywhere else. The old system of buying the cheapest instead of the best could not have any other result.

"With the reëstablishment of the distribution of common garden seed by order of Congress, the Secretary has sought the best method to get good seed and none other. For doing this he has been bitterly attacked by the leading beneficiary of the old system, thus making this statement necessary."

Charles P. Braslan of Northop, Braslan, Goodwin & Co., seedsmen, will leave tonight with Attorney John M. Baldwin for Washington, where he will institute suit against Secretary Morton for $100,000.

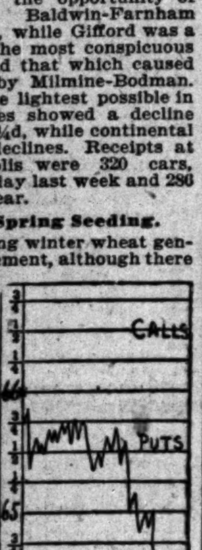
HOLDINGS GO OVERBOARD

FREE LIQUIDATION IN BOTH MAY AND JULY WHEAT.

Weakness Emphasized with Progress of the Session—Scalpers Give Up Attempts to Check the Decline—Break of Nearly Two Cents—Sale of an 80,000 Bushel Cargo to Detroit—Weather Against Prices of Wheat and Coarse Grain—Street Markets.

Liquidation of May wheat was the feature of yesterday's market. The pressure early was to sell the nearby delivery, but the desire to sell was not confined to it, and holders of July came in as heavy sellers. The tone was weak throughout the session, but during the last hour the market became almost demoralized. First trades in both May and July showed a concession to the weather and easy cables of about ¼c, and they were the highest of the day. The scalpers, led by Champlin, were inclined to be bullish, and attempted to support the market. The odds were against them from the first, however, as the commission houses all appeared to have selling orders, and the local bears took the opportunity of forcing down prices. Baldwin-Farnham continued selling May, while Gifford was a free seller of July. The most conspicuous selling of the day, and that which caused most comment, was by Milmine-Bodman. Outside business is the lightest possible in volume. Closing cables showed a decline in Liverpool of ½ to 1¼d, while continental markets all showed declines. Receipts at Duluth and Minneapolis were 320 cars, against 458 the same day last week and 286 the same day of last year.

Close Watch on Spring Seeding.



JULY WHEAT RANGE

Crop reports regarding winter wheat generally indicate improvement, although there is some conflict on this point. It is not the winter wheat, however, which is being watched closely, but the prospect of getting in the spring wheat crop. Weather conditions were favorable in the spring wheat States, and this fact induced selling. The first decline was checked by privileges, and at noon on the receipt of Bradstreet's the market for May wheat was quotable at 64¼c, with July at 65⅝c. The decrease in world's stocks of 3,030,000 bu was much larger than generally anticipated, but was only temporarily worth ⅛c in the price of wheat. The approach of delivery day on May contract is frightening holders, and the cash demand and position of the market as compared with the foreign markets is not such as to give them much encouragement. When the wheat taken on by the scalpers came out stop orders were reached, and the decline to 64¼c for July and 63⅜c for May was a matter of only a few moments' trade. Such bullish considerations as were at hand seemed to have little effect. Clearances were liberal at 280,000 bu in wheat and flour, against 421,000 bu received at primary points. Local receipts were 22 cars, against 54,000 bu taken out of store. Edgerton-Winans worked a cargo of 80,000 bu of red winter wheat to Detroit.

Millers Avoid Paying Premiums.

Outside of this the local cash business was unimportant, as millers appear to be holding off on account of the premium asked for the little contract winter wheat remaining in store. Contract stocks of wheat have been reduced during the week 392,000 bu. The decrease has all been in No. 2 red winter, as the stocks of No. 1 Northern and No. 2 spring both show small increase. Total contract stocks are 14,567,000 bu against 14,959,000 bu the previous week. Unsold supplies of No. 2 red winter wheat must be reduced to about 400,000 bu.

Weakness in wheat was of course one of the reasons for the easy tone displayed in the coase grain market, although the indications of a freer movement in the country with no increase in the cash demand for corn and oats makes them easy on their own account. A large part of the speculative trade in both corn and oats was in the shape of changing over May contracts to July. Bartlett-Frazier were the most conspicuous sellers of corn. May corn sold down to a close of 29½c, a concession of ⅜c for the day. The difference between May and July was about 1c, while the difference in oats was ½c. Local receipts of corn were 508 cars, against 54,000 bu taken out of store. Clearances were light at 53,000 bu, against 310,000 bu taken out of store. Local receipts of oats were considerably larger than the estimate at 343 cars and 13,000 bu by canal.

Samples Steadier than Futures.

The range in oats was narrow during the greater part of the day, but on the break in wheat May oats sold down to 19⅜c and closed at 19½c. Most of the sales of coarse grain by sample were made before the break in futures, and as a result prices on most of the business done were practically unchanged from the previous day. The feeling at the close, however, was decidedly weak. On track and free on board sales of coarse grain were as follows:

No. 4 corn at 28½@28¾c, No. 3 at 29½c. Billed through: No. 4 at 26@27½, No. 3 at 27@28¼c, No. 3 yellow at 27⅞@29c, No. 2 yellow at 28@29½c, No. 3 white at 28¾@29¼c, No. 2 white at 29½c.

No. 3 oats at 18¾@20½c, No. 3 white at 19¼@21¾c, No. 2 at 20c, No. 2 white at 21¾@22c. Billed through: No. 3 at 18@20¼c, No. 3 white at 19@20½c, No. 2 at 18½@19c, No. 2 white at 20½@21c.

Local hog receipts were 4,000 less than anticipated, but this was offset by the liberal receipts at Western points. At the seven principal packing points receipts yesterday exceeded those of last year by 9,000. The range of prices was narrow, but May lard again managed to lower a record, opening and closing at $4.85. Low prices form about the only argument which is heard in encouragement of speculative buying in the provision pit. As in the other markets, the business was largely in changing over contracts and getting away from the cash stuff.

Cash Rye Scarce but Easy.

Rye futures were a shade easier at the close. May sold early at 38c, resting with sellers at that and 37½c bid. July was 40c sellers. August was 40c bid and 40½c asked. September was nominally 41c. No. 2 to go to store sold sparingly at 37½c and on track at 38½c. Cash offerings were meager.

Barley was quiet and steady. Medium to choice ranged from 28@35½c. Arrivals were light at 29 cars.

Flaxseed was firmly held, and values advanced ¼c. However, the interest lagged. Arrivals were 16 cars; shipments, 29 cars. No. 1 poor to choice ranged at 91½@92c, resting at 92c sellers. Cheerful Spring Wheat Report.

A St. Paul dispatch which attracted some attention from its extreme variance from most of the recent reports from the Northwest read as follows: "Seeding in South Dakota and Southern Minnesota is completed. In this section it is almost completed. The Red River Valley and Northern Minnesota are two-thirds seeded and the balance will be completed this week. Farmers worked all Sunday. Acreage not so large as last year. With warm weather the growth will be rapid. Ground could not be in better condition."

Armour & Co. had a most bullish letter from Fayette County, O. In it were inclosed samples showing the slow growth of wheat plants still alive. The writer claims that it has been so dry that the wheat has had little chance to live, to say nothing of stooling out. He lowers a previous estimate of one-third of the wheat area to be plowed up to one-half. Southern Ohio millers are said to be grinding Chicago wheat at least to one-half of their requirements, and will be compelled to come to this market for over a year. A milling company is said to have offered 75c for good wheat last Saturday, but failed to get it even on that offer.

According to Bradstreet's supplies of wheat east of the Rocky Mountains decreased 1,390,000 bu, while stocks in and afloat for Europe decreased 1,640,000 bu. Corn and oats decreased 138,000 bu and 304,000 bu respectively.

Estimated receipts for today are 10 cars of wheat, 220 cars of corn, 120 cars of oats, and 27,000 hogs.

July calls ranged from 64⅝c to 65c and puts from 64⅛c to 63¾@63⅞c.

Local stocks of flaxseed in regular houses increased 10,372 bu last week and are now 919,405 bu, compared with 240,181 bu the same time last year.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 21.—Wheat was struck fairly in the face today by May liquidation. For three hours indications were that the session would close one of extreme dullness. There was almost nothing doing in a speculative way. The opening brought a small decline, but at that point there seemed to be no extreme pressure to put it further. Death of Baron Hirsch Causes Reaction—Rumored Gold Shipments.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says:

There was a further pronounced list to Americans today, with increasing activity in them quite a feature. There was a genuine investment demand for bonds, while the speculation in shares also increases. Louisville and St. Paul were specially favored. Prices closed a little under the best. The markets generally were good, although there was a reaction at midday on Baron Hirsch's death, he being a large holder of all English and all other stocks. The markets finally closed good, with some recovery in the mines.

I gather that more gold shipments from New York to Germany may be occasioned because of the remittance from Berlin to London in connection with the new Chinese loan, but I do not pretend to have definite knowledge, as the matter is not properly understood here.

The Indian Government has announced a 2½ per cent loan of just over £2,000,000. This is a "record," India never having issued a loan before under 3 per cent. The new loan is already quoted at 4 premium, such is the rush for first-class stocks.

In connection with the further decline in Paris exchange on London, gold is being bought here for France.

The Paris bourse was steady and the Berlin bourse firm today.

HEARD IN HOTEL CORRIDORS.

Ex-Gov. R. E. Pattison of Pennsylvania is registered at the Auditorium. With Mrs. Pattison and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bradley of Philadelphia he is on his way to Edgemont, S. D., where he has extensive mining interests.

Mr. Pattison was averse to discussing his Presidential candidacy beyond the statement that the Democrats of his State had honored him with their preferences, for which he felt deeply grateful. He said he believed the National Democratic convention would not adopt a silver plank.

"Eastern Democrats," he added, "are almost a unit in opposition to a free silver plank, and I think the convention will see the wisdom of not raising an issue with the Republican party on this question. I believe existing conditions are all right and should not be disturbed. I am not a gold monometallist any more than I favor the free coinage of silver, but believe in the conditions which prevail now, under which we have prospered, and will continue to prosper."

"You do not believe there will be a split in the party in case the convention declares against free silver?"

"I do not."

"Suppose the convention should declare in favor of free silver, will Eastern gold Democrats unhesitatingly accept it?"

"I do not regard such a contingency as probable," he said, after a moment of hesitation. "I believe the convention will settle the question to the satisfaction of Democrats generally."

"Senator Gorman has suggested the wisdom of the Democratic party seeking to provide more ample revenues for the government. How will it do it?"

"By following the declarations of its last platform. That is sufficient to cover whatever necessities may arise. I think the difficulty is not so much due to an insufficiency of revenue, however, as to extravagant legislation."

MATCH SELLS AT 200.

STOCK OF THE DIAMOND MATCH COMPANY BREAKS RECORDS.

Makes Good the Predictions of the Moores When It Touches the High Prices of Yesterday—International Packing Company Elects Directors—Nominations Made for Stock Exchange Officers—Effect of the Loop on Metropolitan Stock.

Diamond Match yesterday sold at 200, and thus verified the predictions of the Moores, made when Match first began to advance in price. There were sales of 150 shares at 200, an advance of 5¼ points from the opening quotation. It sold off to a close at 198⅝. It was the biggest day Diamond Match has ever had, not only in the record of high prices but also in the total of the sales made during the day. There was a total of 10,612 shares sold during the day's trading as compared with 8,000 shares, the heaviest previous day's sale of this stock.

During the panic of December Diamond Match sold as low as 115. It advanced almost immediately to between 120 and 125, and when stocks got back to something like a normal condition it was selling around 130, which has been the average quotation previous to the decline in prices in December. It kept round 130 until early in March, when it started to advance. The advance since then has been as rapid, perhaps, as that of any other stock in the history of the Chicago Stock Exchange. It has gone up from 1 to 10 points a day, with but few declines, until the top notch was reached yesterday, with the stock selling at 200. The capital stock of the Diamond Match company is $11,000,000, or a total of 110,000 shares of a par value of $100 each. Since Jan. 1 sales of Diamond Match have amounted to more than 125,000 shares, or more than the entire share capital of the company.

There were no stories yesterday regarding Diamond Match. It was simply a continuation of the bull movement which has sent the stock up from 130, and which the Moores say is not yet at an end. At the beginning of the advance W. H. Moore said Diamond Match would sell at 200. He has since revised his predictions, and now gives 250 or 300 as probable prices at which Diamond Match will sell.

International Packing Meeting.

The annual meeting of the International Packing company was held yesterday, and a Board of Directors was elected to serve for the ensuing year. This was the first general meeting of the International company since the reorganization. President A. Stamford White made a short report of the affairs of the company, but he gave few details as to the working of the company. He said when the new company took control the beef business was found to be an unprofitable part, and this had been discontinued. He said the plants had been in bad physical condition, and there had been expended a considerable sum in putting them in first-class condition. The company now has outstanding $2,500,000 of 6 per cent debentures and $2,500,000 of stock, consisting of $1,500,000 of non-cumulative preferred stock and $1,000,000 of common stock. Mr. White said the company had a working capital of $1,135,000. Out of the total stock of the old company all had come in under the reorganization except 96 shares of preferred and 2,066 shares of common stock held in America and 84 shares of preferred and 268 shares of common stock held in England. Some questions were asked at the meeting as to the profits of the company for the portion of the year up to the present time during which the plants were operated by the new company. Mr. White would not give any figures as to profits, contenting himself with the statement the year had been comparatively profitable and the future prospects were good.

There was a total of 18,672 shares of stock represented at the meeting out of a total of 25,000 shares. The ticket for directors met with no opposition, the entire number of votes being cast for the following directors for the year: A. Stamford White, Alexander Geddes, T. E. Wells, Joy Morton, Josiah Stiles, Clarence Buckingham, and Levy Mayer. Henry Botsford, the former manager of the International Packing company, who was succeeded by Mr. White, has been a member of the Board of Directors since the reorganization. He was not reelected yesterday, and it was announced he had declined to serve upon the board again owing to ill health.

Stock Exchange Ticket Named.

The Nominating committee of the Chicago Stock Exchange met yesterday and put the following ticket in the field to be voted for the first Monday in June.

President—M. M. Jamieson.
Treasurer—John J. Mitchell.
Two members of the Governing committee to serve one year—George E. Wright and Henry Wise.
One member to serve for two years in place of C. G. Hammond, deceased—A. L. Dewar.
Eight members to serve for three years—C. C. Yoe, W. B. Wrenn, D. M. Cummings, Frank N. Gage, Fred G. Frank, W. G. Wasmandorff, J. M. Adsit, Charles A. Wilson.
Nominating committee for 1897—H. F. Billings, Chairman; W. L. Beckwith, E. W. Spencer, J. B. Kitchen, W. V. Baker.

Interest in local stocks yesterday was almost entirely confined to Diamond Match. There were sales of 1,016 shares of New York Biscuit at prices ranging from an opening at 94@94⅝. There were 355 shares of West Chicago traded in during the day, with 103½ low and 103⅝ the high quotation of the day.

There was some activity in Metropolitan during the day and total sales of 377 shares were made. The introduction of the ordinance for the south line of the loop in Van Buren street is looked upon as being likely to affect the price of Metropolitan along with other elevated securities. With a down-town loop over which the Metropolitan could land passengers into the heart of the retail district there would, it is believed, be a prompt increase in the traffic of the line which would enable the company to take care of all charges from the first day the Metropolitan assumes control of the line. A member of the exchange, who is interested in Metropolitan, said yesterday he had recently had a talk with the Secretary of the West Side Construction company in which the Secretary had assured him the company would never issue any more bonds than the earnings of the company would take care of. It is certain such action would be to the best interests of all the men who are behind the Metropolitan company. Their profit is to be derived from the common stock of the company, and any action which would have the effect of reducing the value of the common stock would cut down their prospective profits by just the amount of the reduction in the value of the common stock. This fact will be likely to prevent any change from the expressed intentions of the officials of the company. Then, too, they are men whose word may be considered as good as their bond in matters of business.

IN THE NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

Tobacco Rises Despite Court Order—Baltimore and Ohio Drops Off.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The incipient bull market in stock exchange securities was subjected to the test of realizing on a fairly large scale, but on the whole proved superior to the liquidation. The volume of business was large, and was fairly well distributed, with the railroad stocks holding their own comparatively well in point of activity. The sharp upward movement in prices that was in progress at the close of business yesterday was resumed at the outset today and on an increased volume of trading, a favorable influence being exerted by higher prices for American securities in London. A moderate inquiry for that account in this market was also noted early in the day. Another encouraging factor was further weakness in sterling exchange rates, including a reduction of ½ cent in the posted figures by one leading drawer. The gains in prices, however, were fractional in most of the leading active shares. In the specialties more material advances occurred. There was some irregularity in prices in the forenoon session, and in the later dealings a general reaction developed, in which London was conspicuous for sales of the internationally listed stocks. The trading element was inclined to work for a reaction, but although the offerings were well taken a decrease in commission-houses' buying was noted. Covering by shorts prevented material losses in all but a few instances. Sugar ran off 1⅝ to 124¼, but insiders were buyers at the low level. The stock again led the entire market in extent of trading. Tobacco gained a slight fraction in the early dealings, despite the application to the New Jersey court for a temporary injunction restraining the management from paying the recently declared scrip dividend. The scrip ruled at about 73, without much trading in it. The stock declined 1⅛, but subsequently advanced 1⅝ per cent, closing with a net gain of 1 per cent.

The publication of the report of the General Electric company for the fiscal year ending Jan. 31 was not reflected in the price of the stock. The reduction in the deficit, amounting to $877,646, had been discounted by street experts. The substantial progress made in the readjustment of Northern Pacific affairs, was reflected in strength and activity in the preferred stock. A rise of 1¼ per cent in it was followed by a loss of about half of the improvement. Baltimore and Ohio declined 2 per cent on the prospect of the impending issue of a large amount of receivers' certificates, and on unconfirmed sensational statements of irregularities in the former reports of the company's finances. Part of the offerings were traced to Baltimore. The upward movement in Consolidated Gas was checked by Albany reports of the probable passage of a $1 gas bill at this session. The stock dropped 2½ per cent, to 150, closing at 161. In the late trading considerable pressure was brought against the grangers. The closing was steady, with irregular fractional net changes.

The bond market was active, and foreign buying was noted in the prominent issues. The Northern Pacific and Atchisons recorded improvement, and advances occurred in other directions. The sales were $2,456,000.

An increased inquiry for governments for investment was reported, resulting in advances in the new 4s to 118⅝. The aggregate dealings were $171,000.

In State bonds increased activity occurred in Tennessee settlement 3s. The bonds mentioned changed fractionally on dealings of $33,000.

IN THE BOSTON MONEY MARKET.

Stock Sales and Closing Quotations at the Hub.

BOSTON, Mass., April 21.—[Special.]—The absence of "snap" in the exchange market is admitted by everybody to be one of the most favorable factors in the situation, as it shows better than anything else that the current of foreign capital is no longer setting against this country, as it has done practically for five years. At the clearing-house there was a lively demand for New York funds, and they sold from 5c discount to par.

The loaning rate held at 4 per cent, although there was an abundance of funds. Much of the money was taken home, owing to the inability of the credit banks to negotiate transactions at the current rate, and their disinclination to offer their money at a lower figure. Call loans 4½@5 per cent. Time loans, 4@4½ per cent. Clearing-house rate, 4 per cent.

INSURANCE AFFAIRS.

Experiments with a new fireproof covering for wood were witnessed yesterday by the Executive and Patent Device committees of the Chicago Underwriters' Association at the office of the Chicago Fireproof Covering company. The experiments consisted of treating inflammable material of various kinds with the solution and applying hot coals and flame, augmented with a blow-pipe. Fire is greatly retarded by this recently discovered solution, and the insurance men present were pleased with the experiments. The covering does not make wood fireproof, but greatly retards fire, and where applied to the wood-work of a building renders the spread of the flames almost impossible. Kerosene was burned in pine boxes covered with the solution, known as "anti-flame," and the wood was not affected by the flames or heat.

T. W. Eustis, assistant general agent of the Phenix of Brooklyn, says his company has abolished its Pacific coast general agency, and agents in California and Washington will report to the Chicago office. Utah, Arizona, Montana, and Idaho will be added to the territory of the company's special agent for Colorado, J. C. Mooney, who has his headquarters in Denver. The changes in the Pacific coast management of the company are attributed by Mr. Eustis to the disastrous rate war which made the insurance business in that section of the country unprofitable.

Consolidated Produce and Stock Exchange of Chicago.

For the benefit of our present and prospective members, and in reply to many requests for information from the trading public generally, the directors of the Consolidated Produce and Stock Exchange of Chicago make the following statement:

The Consolidated Produce and Stock Exchange is a corporation under the law of Illinois creating corporations not for pecuniary profit, and was organized to meet the pressing demands of several hundred traders and dealers in stocks and grain who became satisfied that the present facilities for legitimate transactions in stocks, grain, and provisions upon commercial exchanges are inadequate to the growing demands of trade.

The Consolidated Produce and Stock Exchange is so organized that stocks, securities of all kinds, and grain and provisions may be dealt in and handled upon the floor of its exchange hall by and between members under rules, regulations, and by-laws of the most approved character. Such rules, regulations, and by-laws will be so framed and enforced as to secure the prosecution of legitimate enterprise and to guarantee to customers absolute fairness and strict integrity in every transaction. The history and methods of all successful exchanges have been carefully considered, and every rule and precaution calculated to promote equity and justice among merchants in fair and open markets will be adopted and will be rigidly and impartially enforced. No transactions and no dealings which are either in fact or in name branded and discountenanced as illegitimate or illegal will be permitted under any circumstances. The trade in what are commonly known as "puts and calls," or privileges, will be resolutely prohibited at all hours and under all circumstances.

Any member of this exchange who shall be detected in handling or dealing in such privileges will be summarily denied the privileges of the exchange and either suspended or expelled from membership therein, and every precaution which can be suggested or invoked for the purpose of protecting its members and the public who deal upon the exchange will be taken. Legitimate transactions only will be countenanced, and anything which savors of any act or thing in violation of law and good morals will be unhesitatingly forbidden and prohibited. The limit of membership has been fixed at fifteen hundred, and three hundred members will be admitted to the privileges of the exchange upon the payment of fifty dollars each, with reasonable annual dues, to be fixed in the immediate future. There have already been received more than twice three hundred applications for seats in this exchange; but none of such applications has yet been acted upon, because it is the desire of the directors that the greatest care shall be exercised in the selection of any and all members who shall be entitled to privileges such as will be guaranteed by the Consolidated Produce and Stock Exchange.

The hall of the exchange will be located in what is now known and designated as the "Consolidated Exchange Building," at the southeast corner of Van Buren street and Pacific avenue—and formerly known as the Omaha Building—and contracts for the remodeling and furnishing of the exchange hall have already been let, and the exchange room will be ready for use and occupation about May 1st, 1896. The offices of the President and Secretary of the exchange will be ready within a few days, and all information respecting applications for membership, with necessary blanks, may be obtained by addressing the Secretary. Any other information respecting the progress of this enterprise may be obtained either from the Chicago daily papers or upon application to the Secretary at any time. The temporary office of the Consolidated Produce and Stock Exchange is at Room 103 Consolidated Exchange Building, where all inquiries and applications should be addressed.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

SENATE COMMITTEE FAVORS HASTE IN CHICAGO RIVER WORK.

Decides to Raise Proportion of Contracts Let to 50 Per Cent a Year—Means Improvement Will Be Completed on July 1, 1898—Sexton Will Probably Receive Contract for Removing Custom-House—Other News from Washington.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—[Special.]—In the river and harbor bill as it passed the House provision was made in a large number of cases for the application of what is known as the continuing contract system. Under this the sum of $50,000 in cash was appropriated for the improvement of the Chicago River to the Stock-Yards on the South Branch and to Belmont avenue on the North Branch by dredging to a uniform depth of sixteen feet. It was provided also that the Secretary of War might make contracts in addition to this cash item of $650,000.

In a general section of the river and harbor bill it was provided that the Secretary of War should not obligate the government to pay in any one fiscal year after July 1, 1897, more than 25 per cent of the whole amount authorized to be let by contract. This proviso was inserted in the bill to satisfy the scruples of the economists of the House, who wished to keep down the appropriations as much as possible.

The Senate Committee on Commerce has informally decided to raise the proportion of contracts from 25 per cent to 50 per cent in any one year.

This has been done in the case of Illinois on the direct recommendation of Maj. Marshall.

If it is agreed to by the House it will mean an important hastening of the work on the Chicago harbor, as the War Department will be enabled to close out the contract two years from July 1, 1897, instead of four years from that time.

SMALLPOX CAUSES SPRINGER WORRY

Adjourns Territorial Court for Fear of Spreading Contagion.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—[Special.]—"Smallpox has caused the postponement of another term of court in the Indian Territory," said Judge Springer, "telegrams as to the prevalence of that scourge at Miami compelling a cessation of court business until November. It had been my intention to open court at this point yesterday, but it was suggested that such a course would be dangerous to court officers, witnesses, and prisoners alike, and it would be just as well to let the docket be crowded a little when cold weather sets in. Luckily not more than a week would be required to close up matters in this court, so that no great hardship is likely to result from a postponement."

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S COAT OFF.

Unsightly Box Protection Removed—Sure Harbinger of Spring.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—[Special.]—There is one never-failing official sign by which it is declared that spring has come in the capital of the country. This visible declaration of the arrival of the season of violets, youthful love, and catarrh is the removal from George Washington of his winter overcoat.

Just opposite the east front of the Capitol and in a direct line between the steps where the Presidents are inaugurated and the new Congressional Library, with its gilded dome, is a large statue of George Washington seated and facing the Capitol.

Some time ago it was discovered that the peculiar kind of marble of which the statue of the first President is constructed was unusually susceptible to the action of winter winds and frost. It was therefore decided to build a curious wooden structure over and around the statue as a matter of protection.

This is so arranged that it can be replaced each season, and it has served its purpose in warding off the ravages of time from the marble presentment of the father of his country, although the wooden shed has been an unsightly blot on the otherwise beautiful Capitol grounds. It was removed today on rollers and let down the slope of the hill by ropes, the statue thus once more being uncovered to the world, the official edict having gone forth that no more severe frosts were to be expected and that the marble could stand without its overcoat.

CREATES DEAFENING DIN IN HOUSE.

Speaker Pro Tem. Barrett Causes Confusion and Uproar.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—It was during the discussion of the Cobb-Goodwin election contest. Speaker Reed had left the chair temporarily. Representative Barrett of Massachusetts was in the Speaker's stand. Mr. Cobb had nearly concluded a speech in his own behalf. Barrett dropped the hammer with the announcement that the time of the minority had expired.

He recognized Representative Daniels.

Cobb protested. It was unjust to take him off the floor.

Half a dozen Democrats were on their feet in a minute. Bailey, Turner, and McMillan demanded recognition.

Barrett turned a deaf ear to the clamor. He would recognize no one unless Mr. Daniels yielded.

Representative Bailey, with a flushed face, shouted above the din of protestations that if the occupant of the chair had any conception of parliamentary rules he would know an inquiry was always in order.

But Barrett recognized him not.

As the uproar was becoming intolerable, Speaker Reed was dragged on the scene. He mounted the platform, secured order, and explained that Mr. Barrett was laboring under a misunderstanding.

The vote was to unseat Cobb, but the point of no quorum being made, the House adjourned with the final vote pending.

GALENA COMMEMORATES GRANT.

Representative Hitt Introduces Bill to Present City Historic Cannon.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—[Special.]—"Citizens of Galena, Ill., propose to make a big thing of their celebration of Gen. Grant's birthday this month," said Representative Hitt, "and with a view to adding to the features of that occasion have invoked the aid of Congress to procure a historic cannon now at the Rock Island arsenal. This gun was captured by members of the Forty-fifth Illinois Volunteers during Sherman's march to the sea, and as many of these troops were former neighbors of Gen. Grant they thought this cannon could not be better utilized than to be placed near the monument to the great commander in the park at Galena.

"Upon this cannon is an inscription: 'Presented to the sovereign State of South Carolina in commemoration of the twentieth day of December, eighteen hundred and sixty, by citizens abroad.'

"It has been ascertained that this piece of ordnance ran the blockade at Charleston, S. C., and was actively used throughout the rebellion, first by the Confederates and afterward by its captors. When I went to the Secretary of War to secure this piece of ordnance I was told it would be necessary to get the consent of Congress, and accordingly a bill was drafted. This morning it was favorably reported to the House from the Military committee and went through unanimously.

"I have seen Senators Cullom and Palmer regarding the matter, and have been given assurances that they will expedite this bill by every means possible."

SEXTON MAY RECEIVE CONTRACT.

Treasury Department Considers His Bid for Removing Custom-House.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—[Special.]—In accordance with a telegraphic request from Contractor Sexton the authorities at the Treasury Department have decided to hold up for a day or two the bids received for the removal of the public building at Chicago and not readvertise for proposals as intended.

It is estimated this building ought to bring from $60,000 to $100,000 for the material that is in it, but the wrecking companies of Chicago are evidently not of this opinion.

Contractor Sexton, however, whose bid was $23,250 for the building and material, guaranteeing removal within five months, evidently knows what he was about and the Treasury Department people are inclined to give his latest proposition due consideration.

Should he decide to raise his figures to $30,000 or thereabouts there would be no difficulty in reaching an amicable settlement of the pending controversy and an offer to this effect is expected to be the result of Mr. Sexton's visit to Washington.

He sent telegram to members of the Chicago delegation as well as to Secretary Carlisle and Supervising Architect Aiken urging a postponement of action until he could be heard in person as to his latest proposition.

HUNTINGTON IS SCORED BY MORGAN.

Senator Says Roads Could Have Prospered Under Fair Management.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—Senator Morgan was not present today, but his ideas on Pacific railroad financiering were presented to the Senate by his colleague, Mr. Pugh.

"Without attempting," said Senator Morgan, "to array the evidence of fraud and speculation which Huntington's testimony vainly attempts to conceal, attention is drawn to the fact that his evasions of the truth, as it is thoroughly established, are his main reliance for misleading Congress in his effort to capture the Central Pacific railway after it has made him and his three or four associates enormously rich, on the plea that his pride impels him to save this road from bankruptcy, to which his fraudulent dealing seems to have driven it."

He proposes as a substitute to the measure offered a bill adding a power that is not now provided by law that will enable the government to liquidate a debt that is falling due on the subsidy bonds and the first mortgage bonds of these companies, and to provide for the collection of the debt paid for interest upon the subsidy bonds and to apply the income of the corporations to such purpose.

The Senator lays down as fundamental the following propositions:

"1. That no creditor of these companies other than the United States has the ability to handle this great mass of indebtedness resting upon these roads so as to preserve the just rights of all concerned.

"2. That these charters were not granted, nor was government aid given to these roads, with any intention, expressed or implied, that the charters should ever expire, or that they could be destroyed by judicial decree, or that the control of them as instrumentalities of government should ever be taken out of the hands of Congress.

"3. That no court has power to sell, dissolve, or wind up either of these corporations any more than a court could dissolve and wind up a bureau in one of the executive departments of the government."

He asserts that under fair and honest management the roads are able to pay their debts.

The Senator charges Mr. Huntington with diverting the earnings of the Central Pacific to the Southern Pacific.

The Senator proposes joint management of the Central Pacific and the Union Pacific.

CONGRESS TO INVESTIGATE SMITH.

Governor of Western Branch Soldiers' Home May Have to Answer.

Washington, D. C., April 21.—The alleged mismanagement of the Western Branch Soldiers' Home probably will be investigated by a Congressional committee.

The Military Affairs committee of the House today decided to examine into Congressman Blue's charges made against the Governor of that branch home, A. J. Smith.

The vote in favor of investigation was 7 to 3. Representative McClellan of New York will make a minority report.

Congressman Blue was favored also by the Judiciary committee of the same branch of Congress. A decision was reached to report favorably his bill to erect a government penitentiary on the Fort Leavenworth military reservation. The present penal institute at that Kansas post stands on the prison reservation, which is directly inside the post and objectionable because of its proximity to officers' quarters. The proposition is to erect a new prison farther removed from quarters on the fort reservation.

The prison will accommodate 1,200 men. The cost will be $150,000, $50,000 to be available immediately.

MEANS A NEW BELT LINE.

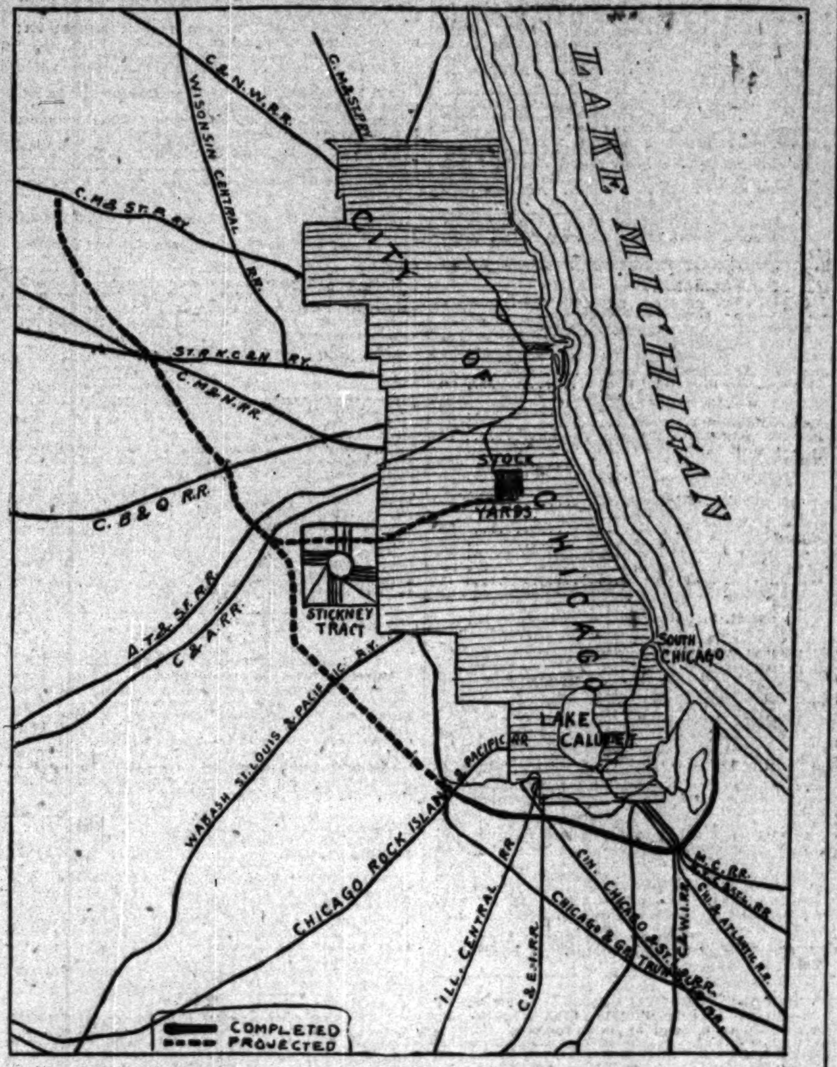
GIGANTIC RAILWAY SCHEME TO UTILIZE THE STICKNEY TRACT.

Great Transfer Yards, with Enormous Warehouse Facilities, to Be Established on the Suburban Site—Will Handle Live Stock Business Without Interfering with the Union Stock-Yards—Completely Encircles the City—Interest of Santa Fe.

The ordinance recently granted by the city to the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé railroad for the right of way from Fifty-ninth street to the Union Stock-Yards is a mere episode in one of the most gigantic terminal railroad schemes ever attempted in this city.

It means nothing more nor less than a revival of the old scheme for the establishment of immense transfer yards on the Stickney track near Summit and the construction of a new belt line around the city on substantially the same plan as originally contemplated by Gen. Torrence.

When the Stickney tract scheme was first launched a number of years ago it was for the purpose principally of establishing new stock-yards there in opposition to the Union Stock-Yards. A number of railroads became interested and for a time it looked as if the movement would be successful, and on this supposition a number of Eastern capitalists joined Gen. Torrence in the construction of the Calumet terminal outer belt line to provide an inlet to the proposed Stickney tract yards. But owing to the opposition of the Union Stock-Yards company and the financial depression the Stickney tract stock-yard and terminal scheme fizzled out.



CHICAGO'S NEW TERMINAL BELT RAILWAY.

A few months ago the managers of the various roads which had acquired an interest in the tract appointed a committee to devise plans for utilizing the Stickney tract. This committee, with the assistance of F. S. Winston, has completed arrangements that promise a speedy consummation of the ambitious scheme.

Details of New Plan.

The new scheme, however, does not contemplate the establishment of new stock-yards at the Stickney tract. The tract is to be covered entirely with transfer yards and immense warehouses, where the various roads can interchange their traffic without bringing the cars through the city and over roundabout routes. The present Union Stock-Yards company will not be interfered with and the construction of a branch line from Summit to the Union Stock-Yards over the right of way recently obtained by the Santa Fé will afford the new terminal belt line the opportunity to transfer and handle the live stock business to and from the Union Stock-Yards of those lines which have no direct line to the yards. The Santa Fé's main object in entering into the scheme was to secure a line of its own into the yards.

The new Stock-Yards line, which will branch off from the main belt line at Chappell, near Summit, and run due east through the Stickney tract to the Union Stock-Yards, is to be built jointly by the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé and Michigan Central railroads, the latter constructing the line from Chappell to Forty-ninth street and the Santa Fé building it thence to the Union Stock-Yards. A lease for the use of the whole line will be given to the Chicago Terminal railway company.

Work Done.

The incorporations of the Chicago Terminal railway company and of the Chicago, Hammond and Western were the first steps toward the consummation of the new belt line road, which is to encircle the city and intersect every railroad centering here from Whiting, Ind., through Hammond and Blue Island, crossing the Burlington near La Grange, the Northwestern near Elmhurst, and connecting with the Milwaukee and St. Paul near Salt Creek, which will be the northwestern terminus for the present. Ultimately an extension may be built to cross the Wisconsin Central and the Wisconsin lines of the Chicago and Northwestern and Chicago and St. Paul roads. The section from Whiting and Hammond to Blue Island is now in operation and the right of way from Blue Island has nearly all been obtained, and construction is to begin soon. The old Calumet Terminal Belt railway parallels most of the way the new Chicago Terminal railway's line, and it is probable it will be purchased by the latter.

Mr. Winston says the capital necessary to complete all the plans at present contemplated has been obtained from prominent Eastern and European capitalists. The Hammond company also has an interest. It is understood that the Vanderbilts are closely identified with the new enterprise.

There is some suspicion that there is much more in the scheme whereby the Michigan Central and Santa Fé join hands in the building of the branch to the Stock-Yards than has yet been brought to light. Under the circumstances it would not be strange if the two roads should join hands and build a new union passenger station in State street somewhere between Twelfth and Taylor streets.

JOINT TRAFFIC PROSECUTION BEGUN

District-Attorney MacFarlane Opens for the Government.

New York, April 21.—[Special.]—Some of the most prominent railroad lawyers in this country appeared before Judge Wheeler in the United States Court today to defend the action brought by United States District-Attorney MacFarlane to nullify the agreement of the Joint Traffic Association, composed of thirty-two railroads. Among the lawyers interested in the action today were James C. Carter, L. C. Ledyard, E. J. Phelps, E. R. Robinson, C. B. Alexander, and ex-Judge Logan.

District-Attorney MacFarlane opened the case. The government, he said, in its complaint sought to restrain the railroads from operating under the agreement because it was a pool and was in violation of Sec. 5 of the Inter-State commerce act and the anti-trust act. By the agreement the roads included were to divide all the competition traffic passing through or from Western termini of trunk lines on a pro rata basis. This, it is alleged, amounted to dividing the profits from such traffic.

The case during the next few weeks will be fought with the finest legal talent obtainable.

In opening the case for the defendants Lawyer James C. Carter said:

"We admit that this is a question of great interest to the government, but we also contend that it is hardly of as much importance to it as it is to the defendants.

"It is impossible for the railroads to imagine a difference between their own interests and those of the public in this matter. They believe that in coming to this agreement they have accomplished something equally valuable to the community and to them."

FOR LOW INTERIOR ILLINOIS RATES.

Local Railroads About to Come to Chicago Merchants' Rescue.

The discrimination practiced so long against Chicago merchants by the Illinois roads is about to be terminated. The Chicago lines are about to meet and make such reductions in the rates on merchandise to interior and Western Illinois points as will enable Chicago merchants to meet the competition of merchants from Eastern points more successfully than heretofore. The Inter-State roads insisting upon the continuance of their low tariff the Chicago-Illinois lines at last have concluded there is no other remedy than to cut down their own tariffs and thus place Chicago merchants in a position to compete with outsiders.

New Line Incorporated.

Articles of incorpporation for the Chicago, Hammond and Western railroad company were filed with Receiving Clerk William Cochran yesterday. The road is to commence at a point in or near Blue Island, and to connect with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway at an unspecified point in Du Page County. Its capital stock is $1,500,000.

Move for Lower Freight Rates.

St. Paul, Minn., April 21.—[Special.]—As the result of a conference held here today the several freight agents of the St. Paul-Superior railways have agreed to stand together in an effort to secure a reduction in lake and rail rates from New York to the Twin Cities. The St. Paul-Chicago roads will attempt to defeat the plan.

Another Charge Against Prior.

William H. Prior, who was arrested in the First National Bank on Monday afternoon while he was trying to cash a check for $800 which is alleged to have been forged, was booked yesterday on an additional charge of forgery. The complainant in the new case is John C. Black, the President of the Continental National Bank, who says Prior a short time ago succeeded in getting $600 from that institution by means of a check, to which the name of Charles C. Thompson had been forged. Prior will be arraigned this morning.

NORTH SIDE REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE — THE NEW SHERIDAN PARK subdivision, formerly known as the Hale tract, at the terminus of the Northwestern Elevated Electric; $150,000 worth of these lots have been sold during the 3 weeks ending April 17. Shrewd investors and careful homeseekers acknowledge that this property is being offered at prices far below its value, and those buying expect to realize handsomely on their investments. The fact that so large sales have been made in so short a time proves this. The entire subdivision will be improved with macadamized streets, cement sidewalks, sewer and water, and sewer and water connections, and will be planted to trees, shrubs, and flowers in the most artistic manner. O. C. Simonds, the landscape gardener, has full charge of these improvements, and it is the intention of the owner to make it particularly desirable for first-class investors. For the present, until further notice, lots are offered at the following prices:
Sheridan Drive, $90 and upwards.
Kenmore-av., $70 and upwards.
Winthrop-av., $55 and upwards.
Evanston-av., $44 and upwards.
Agents wanted to sell this property. Send for plat. For further information call on SAM BROWN JR., 1001, 155 La Salle-st., or his agent on the subdivision, cor. Montrose-blvd. and Sheridan Drive.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

HOW MONEY IS SAVED
by selecting
THE KIMBALL PIANO.

Any person living in the West who purchases a piano made in the East must inevitably incur a threefold expense. First, he must pay the manufacturer's price, the first valuation based on cost of production; second, he must pay freights from the place of manufacture to the distant market; third, he must pay the amount of profit which the merchant or middleman must realize in order to do business. He has no escape from this triple taxation.
The purchaser of a Kimball piano does not pay a price made excessive by artificial and superfluous additions. He secures a high-grade piano at first or actual value.
The manufacturing cost of the Kimball piano is minimized by its production in Chicago, with the economic advantages of central and commanding location, added to those of the most extensive, the most efficient, and the most thoroughly modernized factory plant and equipment for high-grade pianos and organs in the world.
The Kimball piano in form, in tonal qualities, and in all points of faithful and perfect construction has a world-wide fame as the peer of any instrument now made.
The Kimball piano is sold at original manufacturers' price and the purchaser secures a strictly first-class instrument without paying bills to railroads or profits to middlemen.
Prices marked in plain figures.

Wabash-av., near Jackson-st., Chicago.

Extraordinary Announcement.

More Beautiful Fancy Silks

Than those exhibited by us for the Arche Club on their "Silk Day" have not reached America this season. 18,000 yards of goods were shown then, the most of them ranging in price from $2.50 to $7.00 per yard.

During the past two days we have sold more than 6,000 yards of Printed Warp Taffetas at $1.00 per yard and almost as many at 75c, while during the same two days less than 400 yards of these fine goods have been taken, simply because in that one dollar line are hundreds of pieces actually worth $2.00 per yard.

Therefore we make this morning the following

Most Extraordinary Announcement:

All our fine Warp Print French Novelty Silks (and we have more than any two dry goods or general stores combined) that sold at $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00 and $6.00, are placed on sale this morning at the unheard of price of............ $1.50

It will be the greatest opportunity on fine goods Chicago has ever known.

We need not tell you that our lines of Printed Warps at 75c and $1.00 are clear and away ahead of any lines shown in quantity, quality and styles. The past two days have fully demonstrated that.
